REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR, GEORGE W. DELAMATER, of Crawford. FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR, LOUIS A. WATRES, of Lackawanna. FOR SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS, THOMAS J. STEWART, of Philadelphia.

We would have it distinctly understood that at the meeting of the Republican Standing Committee, on Saturday a vote was taken as to where the Republican Convention should be held and all present with the exception of one, D. T. Huckell voted LaPorte.

The disposition on the part of the Democratic Senators to delay the passage of the tariff bill has reached a stage when forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. Seeing that if something is not done to hurry matters the bill will not be voted on before Christmas the Republicans have decided to do something. Just what, will probably be definitely settled this week.

Resolutions have been offered by Senators Blair, Edmunds, Hoar and Quay, to bring about the desired end—a curtailment of debate on the tariff bill; and all of these resolutions are in the hands of the committee on Rules. The resolution of Senator Quay, which was the last one offered, has created a veritable sensation, because, if adopted it will result in shelving the Federal election bill for this session. It provides that no bills, except the tariff bill, general appropriation bills, and bills relating to public buildings and lands shall be taken up by Congress during the remainder of this session and that the tariff bill be voted upon August 30. Senator Hoar offered an amendment, to include the Federal Election bill.

The Third Party Prohibitionists have gone through their annual performance of nominating a State ticket and adopting a platform. As matter of course, they made prohibition the denominating issue, and, regardless of the fact that constitutional prohibition was beaten in this State a little more than a year ago by 188,000, they are still demanding it as the only thing that will satisfy them. That cannot be made a live issue at this time, nor one likely to attract any considerable number of voters.

The record of the Third Party Prohibition vote shows that it has been influenced by special causes. It amounted to nothing in Pennsylvania till 1875, when the Prohibition ticket received 13,244. That was due to a feeling created by the repeal of the local option law, and it had wholly subsided by the next year, when the vote fell back to 1381. It struggled along in this way, the agitation growing from year to year, and succeeding in some of the Western States, but there was never much of a showing in Pennsylvania until 1884, when the number of Prohibition votes reached 15,737, and about the same figure again in 1885. This increase did not affect the Republican majorities, for they were never so large at similar elections as in both these years.

In 1886, although the Republican party had pledged itself in its platform to submit a prohibitory Constitutional amendment, the Third Party vote amounted to 32,422. A part of this was doubtless given from other than prohibition motives, as Mr. Wolfe was the candidate that year. This large vote—more than double that ever given before—had no effect upon the Republican majority, which was within a few hundred of that of the previous year. The Republican Legislature of 1887 not only passed a joint resolution for the submission of the promised Constitutional amendment, but it enacted a high license law which went into effect at once. The Prohibition vote fell that year to 18,471, and the Republican majority in the State was just about what it had been the year before.

At the Presidential election of 1888 the Prohibition vote was 20,947 and the Republican majority very nearly the same as at the immediately preceding Presidential election. Last year, with the disappointment of the prohibitory amendment failure still fresh, the Prohibition vote reached but 22,401, and the Republican majority was larger than before for an off year. These figures show that not only that special causes affect the Third Party vote, but that it has no influence upon the Republican majority. That has been steadily increasing, and turns up securely whether the Prohibition vote is 15,000 or 30,000.

There are no special causes to aid the Third Party this year. There is nothing left of the disappointment produced by the defeat of the prohibitory amendment, and the people of the State have decisively indicated their approval of the high license policy of dealing with the liquor question. If it were possible for the Prohibition party to increase its vote to any extent it would draw quite as much, if not more, from the Democrats as from Republicans. There is no issue now to support such an organization; it will not be a factor in the campaign.

Mr. Dorr of Philadelphia and on the Press staff, who has been spending several weeks at LaPorte, left for his home, on Monday. His family will remain here until the middle of September. Mr. Dorr and family admires LaPorte as a summer resort very much, and expresses a desire to return next summer. They are guests of the Mountain House.

Our reference to the Locoming county Prohibition Convention last week might easily be understood as indicating that Mr. Welch was the only person present and ran the Convention but one of our friends who was present says that there were over fifty members present and that Mr. Welch left before the Convention was called to order for organization on account of some previous engagements he had on hand. He did not have the remotest idea of such a thing as being nominated until he was notified by the Secretary on the following Monday. He is a life long Republican and has not changed his political sentiments but is somewhat enthusiastic on the Temperance question and thinks it is necessary to have another party to keep up the agitation until proper legislation is secured. He has some reputation in this community for energy and perseverance and if he goes into the canvas will make it lively but whether he will stand any chance of election is another thing.

DUTY OF THE PRESS.

The Character of Paper That Will Secure Success. The press is the mirror of the daily life of the world, says Chauncy Depew, but it performs the very highest duty in selecting what it shall reflect. The newspaper is read by the boy before he begins the study of his morning's lesson, and it is his companion after he returns from school; it is beside our daughter in her boudoir and her bed room; it drops into those young lives facts, thoughts and impression which bear sweet or bitter fruit in after years. You and I have known the whole moral nature of youth soiled and spoiled by this unguarded and unguardable communion. There are cases of leprosy and small-pox and a vast variety of unsightly and contagious diseases in the hospitals, but we do not take our families to see them. There are in the by-streets and alleys nightly scenes which furnish food for earnest reflection to the reformer and sociologist, but if we can help it our children never hear of them. We become the willing victims of the plumber to keep sewer gas out of our houses; and the newspaper under the guise of faithful reporting, with picturesque and attractive details, has not the liberty to bring all these things and worse into our homes. It is often said that there is enormous profit in ministering to the depraved and debased elements in human nature and that the papers which refrain throw away fortunes. I do not believe it, if the paper has come to stay. The switches and scorpions and all their blood are notoriously short-lived and unprofitable. The family is the unit of society and no matter what its head may be he does not introduce or tolerate in that circle any element which he believes will destroy it. Without the family support no newspaper can survive; and that journal will have the longest life, the largest profits and the greatest influence which as far as possible admits to its columns only such matter as the editor would freely narrate at his own table.

DUSHORE ITEMS.

Mrs Elmendorf has left town. The net proceeds of the Tenth of August picnic were $900. H. M. Kellogg has gone to Lopez to work in the jewelry store of Howard Lawrence for a few weeks. A car load of cut white stone arrived in town Monday to be used in the erection of the new school house. Miss Mattie Scureman, who has been visiting relatives in town for several weeks returned to her home in Wilkes-Barre, Monday. The "cooler" had an occupant over Sunday and nearly every person in town is agreed that it should have had two or three more. Miss Mattie Lawrence has returned from Newark Valley, N. Y., accompanied by her sister, Miss Laura, of Portsmouth, Va., who is spending the week in town. Quite a number of relatives of the deceased from this place attended the funeral of a son of C. M. Williams at Overton Tuesday. Mr. W. was formerly a resident of Dushore. The newspaper war in Dushore is becoming quite fierce. As the two printing offices are directly across the street from one another, they are enabled to aim their cannon well and we fear it will terminate with serious consequences. Two boys named Hunsinger and Mahoney aged about 10 years were drowned in Jennings' pond at Lopez Sunday afternoon. The boys were seen in a raft about noon, and nothing more being seen of them for some time a search was made and their lifeless bodies were found in the pond. The Sullivan County Teachers' Normal Institute convened in Garey's hall on Monday for a term of five weeks. There were about 60 names enrolled. The prospect of having so many pretty school ma'ams in town for a few weeks is quite well appreciated by our young men.

THE OLD RELIABLE Jewelry Store

Still leaves all competitors in the Dark.

Established April 1, 1879.

And is the only one that has ever remained here more than two years at a time, or long enough to make its promises good. Don't be deceived by Auctioneers or Peddlers of any body else, but come and see the Largest and of goods every shown in Sullivan county, or that is usually found in Jewelry Stores. Expensive goods for those that want them. Cheap goods for those that think they can buy no other. It is no trouble to show goods, and you will not be urged to buy unless you want to.

In society goods

I carry a good assortment in both high and low prices. I am not going to tell you that I will give you goods, nor am I going to tell you that I will sell at cost. That is not business and is not the way to continue business in one place and keep out of the Sheriff's hands. But I do say that I will sell you goods and work for you as low as any other First Class Jeweler, or as low as is consistent with sound business principles. Thanking for the patronage that has sustained me for the last seven years. I shall try to merit a continuance of the same. You will please remember that my motto is "Live and Let Live, and Fair Play to All." Very Respectfully Yours, J. V. RETTENBURY, DUSHORE, PA. Feb 28, 90

Pianos Organs.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune. Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season sent free. MASON & HAMLIN. ORGAN AND PIANO CO., BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO
