Governor Hill's Gonfalon.

Governor Hill of New York has again flung his gonfalon to the breeze, and this time it is inscribed with a new legend. When he first unfurled it a few years ago in a speech in Brooklyn, it bore only one motto, and that was: "I am a Democrat." In his letter read Thursday evening at the single tax banquet in New York city, he added a second legend, reading "I am not a free-trader," and his gonfalon now flaunts defiantly before the public with these two devices. These de. finitions of the attitude of New York's Governor are short enough and sententious enough to be caught up and made the rallying cry of the class of voters to whom Mr. Hill knows he must appeal for the futherance of his political ambition.

It is an auspicious time for such a declaration as Governor Hill makes. The five months that have elasped since the Congressional elections of last November have shown the people the falseness of the cries on which the Democracy carried the country. No such disastrous results have followed as the Democratic newspapers predicted would ensue from the enactment of the McKinley tariff law. On the conits beneficial results remain to be reaped. And to-day the Democratic newspapers and leaders stand convicted by hard and undisputed facts of having attempted a deliberate deception of the people. But they have always believed that their they have always believed that their colossal cheat was a success.

But Governor Hill does not leave the free-traders even the consolation of this delusion. He administers a stinging slap in the face to the could see in it any indication that Hill in giving his adhesion to the Democratic national platforms, does not mention the platform of 1880, which contained the notorious plank: "A tariff for revenue only."

Governor Hill's letter is only one more evidence of the apparent impossibility of bringing the Demo-eratic party together on Mr Cleveland's platform. Taken in connection with the adverse expressions of opinion coming from Democratic United States Senators on Mr. Cleveland's attitude on the silver question, the probability of a division in the Democratic party appears imminent. Senator Pugh, of Alabama; Senator Voorhees, of Indiana Senator Harris, of Tennessee Senator Harris, of Tennessee; Senator Jones, of Arkansas, and Senator Colquitt, of Georgia, and many of the most influential papers made by the Democratic press. in the South, have all declared it impossible for any man opposed to free silver coinage to receive the Democratic Presidential nomination next year. But Governor Hill has only to add to his gonfalon the legend "I am for free silver" to place himself in complete accord place himself in complete with his party in the South and it. Nothing its energies with his party in the South and hinder it. Its operations ale ne can do it hurt." ha will do it before long.

PAINTON IS THE MURDERER.

He Robbed Michael Stroming

It can be stated with almost a positive assurance that the Strominger murder mystery has been solved. An arrest was made in this city, at a late hour ast night, which might be regarded as the beginning of the end of the police service in the case and then must follow the course of justice. To the credit of Harrisburg detectives it must be said they have worked shrewdly and well and their reward will be, not only the value of the money offered, but also a distinction for cleverness not surpassed by any of the best regulated and most famous detective agencies in the country.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

At fifteen minutes past 10 o'clock last night Detectives Samuel J. Anderson and Abe Roat and a constable from Lewisberry escorted to the Dauphin county jail a young man, trembling and frightened, who gave his name as Daviel Smith. He gave his name as Daniel Smith. He was arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the Strominger robbery, just one week ago last night. Smith was not at Lewisberry when the horrible crime was committed, but he rendered valuable aid in the plante robbers. plan to rob, and his acquaintance-ship with the Strominger family made his suggestions quite worthy of consideration by the gang that carried the plan into operation. It is quite probable that Smith had intended to take even a more active part in the affair than assist in laying the plans, but he was suddenly takenil last Tucsday and he delegated another Smith to take his place. The first Smith, however, received his share of the plunder and $220 of it is now in possession of Detective Anderson. Of this amount $190 is in shining gold pieces and the balance in silver. It filled the bottom you, A. L. of the big detective's hat when it was counted out to him in the jail last night. It was a part of the filthy lucre that caused the death of Brackman.

Our school has closed at this place and the children felt loth to part with their teacher, Miss Sarah Brackman. a good, old woman. WHO SMITH IS.

Smith lives on Broad street, but he is not well known in the city, having lived here only since last May. He worked on the Harrisburg terminal bridge and it is quite likely that he comes either from Mr. Hervey Simmons moved from Hughesville spend the summer with her worked with the spend the spend the spend the summer with the spend the Lewisberry or from that neighborhood, as his acquaintance with the town and its people demonstrates that his knowledge does not come from indirect sources. He is a small, agile fellow, with a sandy complexion and red mustache. It is said of him that he has been a bad man all his life, though his life is not far spent.

I AM ALMOST CRAZY.

He shook like an aspen leaf when he stood under the glaring gas light in the jail corrider last night. When trary, the effects of that law have the warrant, issued by a Lewisberry been scarcely felt in prices while all justice of the peace, was read to him, his excitement betrayed him. He could not utter a word, and he stood motionless for several moments. answer another question, he ex-claimed: "For God's sake, don't talk any more to me, I am almost crazy ?

AFTER THE OTHER FELLOWS.

The detectives are in possession of other knowledge that will certain-Cleveland faction in the Democratic party by saying: "They greatly mistake public sentiment who assume to construe the revolution of last Autumn at the polls as a popular manifestation in favor of radical manufactures."

Of other knowledge that will certainly lead to the arrest of the other. The other than the polls will certainly lead to the arrest of the arrest of the other. The other is the other of the other. Painton committed the other will certainly lead to the arrest of the other. The other is the other of the other of the other is the other of the other other of the other of lar manifestation in favor of radical murder and Smith remained on the tarifi legislation; only blind theorists outside in close vicinity to the could see in it any indication that the people are impatient of all tariffs, abouts of both men are known and and desire a resort to direct taxation to secure the necessary revenues for the support of the Government,"

It is significant, also, that Governor quickly. -Harrisburg Patriot.

> Dig around the peach trees and examine the base of the trunk and the main roots for the worms and maggots that do damage at this season. The best remedy is to pour boiling water around the tree. The boiling water will also flow in on the berer and destroy it.

> It was bound to come. A Demo cratic paper charges that the administration is responsible for the existence of the "Mafia" at New Orleans and for the recent occurrences in connection therewith.

Maj. McKinley in a recent speech stated the tariff situation in four lines as well as it could be done in four columns. He said : "Nothing I can say of the new tariff can help

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tone.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season sent free.
