GENERAL ORDERS NO. 6.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Re public, No. 1025 Arch Street.

Philadelphia, May 9th, 1891.
COMRADES:—Bud and blossom, song of birds and perfume of flowers, again invite us to make our annual pilgrimage of love and affection to the resting places of the Nation's patriot dead, our comrades of the camp, the march, the bivouac and the battle.

Memorial Day is the Nation's festival of remembrance, when a liberty-loving and happy people, enjoying the blessings of peace and prosperity, cease from their labors and with grateful hearts now lavis.

Don't whip when I get frightened along thoad, or I will expect it next to and may make thought.

Don't trot my hill for I would be the meeting of the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. at Lewisburg.

One of our young ladies has left town where she has secured employment. You had better get a horse John. and with grateful hearts pay loving tribute to the memory of brave men, who having "finished their course with honor," now rest peacefully "in the robings of glory."

Since last Memorial Day many who were with us then have appears.

who having "finished their course with honor," now rest peacefully "in the robings of glory."

Since last Memorial Day many who were with us then have answered Eternity's roll call, and newly made mounds will remind us that the artillery of time is still decimating our ranks.

ting our ranks.

To-day, leader and led, soldier and sailor, sleep side by side. They who fell in the shock and storm of battle, and those who survived its carnage and afterwards lay quietly down in the sweet fields of peace, are now the Nation's heroic dead, through whose valor and heroism our land was kept united and our flag maintained unsullied. Because and save a runawi and smashup. Don't make midrink ice cold water nor put a osty bit in my mouth. Warm thoit by holding it a half minute agait my body. flag maintained unsullied. Because of them the past is full of glory and the future full of hope.

Sweet be their sleep, unfading their glory, imperishable their fame. Spread above them springtime's richest offerings. Wave above them the flag they loved. Let silvered old age, standing by their tomb, feel that with the dust of such men in our soil the future of the Republic is safe. Let trusting childhood weave garlands for them, and at their graves learn lessons that will keep them earnest in loyalty, pure in citizenship and faithful to duty.

Don't ask me tobac with blinds on. I am afraid. Don't run me dwn a steep hill, on if anything slould give way I might break youlneck.

Don't put on my blind bridle so that it irritates my eye or so leaves the torelock that t will be in my eyes.

Don't lend me to some blockhead that has less senie than I have.

Don't lend me to some blockhead that has less senie than I have.

Don't forget the old book that is a friend of the oppressed that says: "A merciful nan is merciful to his beast."

Reverence for the memory of the Nation's defenders will encourage in her sons and daughters a loyalty and patriotism that will keep her law a shooting accidentally shot by the Burk

In this spirit for the sake of generations that will suffer if our government should fail, let us in earnestness, sincerity and gratitude turn to the graves of our patriot dead; there recall their services, extot their fidelity, emulate their virtues, and renew our vow that the Nation that had a new birth of freedom and found her redemption in the blood of half a million of brave men, shall ernment should fail, let us in earnest-

Papa and mama I am waiting for you
For I know you will come
To see little Walter
In his happy home,
Our Savior has called me
To wate for you hear,
And softly to whisper
You've nothing to fear.

There are many more children
Here little as I
And oh we have found it
So pleasant to die;
To live with our savior And sing as we play;
Our In'fantile praises
To him all the day,

But oh if a sorrow
Could pierce through the sky,
I feel yours dear mama
And when you do cry
I long to go to you
For only a while,
To kiss and caress you,
And cause you to smile.

But Jesus would fold me
More close to his breast,
Saying I'll send a comforter
Little one rest,
I drew you from darkness
And made you a star
To light up to heaven
Your darling mama.
