Blaine as a Candidate.

From the Inquirer. The same "well-known citizen," who so frequently appears in the columns of the newspapers as a sort of veil for the opinions of young and inexperienced reporters has been talking in the esteemed Record. The anonymous individual has been aroused to voice his sentiments by the mention of Blaine for the Presidency. "We know," he said, "that Mr. Blaine cannot become a candidate for the Presidential nomination without violating a solemn pledge. It is no secret that he is pledged to Mr. Harrison for a second term. Now, let the Blaine people go ahead and put him up, and let's see what he will do about it." All this is brought out because of the belief that the State Convention next Wednesday will take some definite action regarding Blaine as the choice of Pennsylvania for President.

It is really a pity that the anonymous individual, if he really is any other than an inexperienced reporter, did not give his name, for he is in possession of a secret that no one else has. It may be stated positively that so far as the "solemn pledge" is concerned, it was never given. The Inquirer a short time ago published all the facts concerning the invitation extended to Mr. Blaine to enter the Cabinet, and these facts were given, not upon the hearsay evidence of a "well-known citizen," but as they came from the lips of the President of the United States. Not a hint was given that Blaine had ever made a promise or that one had ever been sought. Blaine is not the kind of a man to dicker over a Cabinet position and to take it at the price of a promise to keep himself out of the way. Neither is President Harrison the sort of a man to ask such a pledge. There was no such pledge, and Mr. Blaine is entirely free so far as any positive understanding to the contrary goes.

No one is authorized to speak for Blaine and his intentions have not been given to the newspapers. It is very well known, however, that he does not wish the nomination and further that the member of his family are vigorously opposed to it. If left alone Mr. Blaine would never ask for the place on the national ticket. If he is to take it at all it must come with such an enthusiastic demand and with such unanimity as to leave no doubt that he above all others is the choice of the people of the United States. In other words, the nomination must be forced upon him, for he will not lift his hand to secure it. Indeed, it is probable that he would protest manfully against being plunged into a hot contest, but there are times when men are forced into service, and if this is one of the times, even Blaine could not reject a unanimous call.

This attitude of his seems to be very well understood in Pennsylvania, and the forcing process has apparently begun right here. If it is to be started anywhere Pennsylvania unquestionably is the State to lead the movement, and it is this feeling which has dominated so many county conventions during the past few days and which threatens to run away with the gathering at Harrisburg.

HARRISON'S PLANS FOR 1892.

He Will Not Force Himself on the Party Next Year.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—A Cape May, N. J., dispatch says: President Harrison will, before the meeting of the Republican National Convention of 1892, declare over his own signature, in the most emphatic manner, that he is not a candidate for the nomination to be made by the convention. The President decided on this course within the last two weeks, and his purpose in calling hither a few days ago Chairman Clarkson of the National Committee, and Stephen B. Elkins was to tell those gentlemen that they might inform those Republicans who are taking sides either for or against the renomination of the President that they are doing so unnecessarily.

The decision of the President not to permit his name to go before the convention was made with some reservations. These reservations depend upon three conditions: First, if the present bitter opposition within the Republican party to Mr. Harrison's renomination shall continue till next spring he will withdraw; second, if Mr. Blaine shall be well and strong enough to take the nomination and the party's demand for him continues as strong and sincere as it appears at the present time, Mr. Harrison will withdraw; third, if Mr. Blaine, having sufficient health and strength shall be willing to take the nomination, Mr. Harrison will withdraw.

The information that the President has reached this decision is from a source not to be questioned as to its accuracy and trustworthiness. Mr. Blaine knows that the President occupies this position. Mr. Clarkson, Mr. Elkins, Mr. Quay and Mr. Platt know it. Mr. Quay has been advised not to force the Blaine boom in Pennsylvania and he has called a halt. The Harrison-Blaine program is that no "movement" shall be instituted for a Presidential aspirant, neither for the President nor for Mr. Blaine, nor for any other man, if it can be prevented. The party, without manipulation or organized efforts to influence it, is to be permitted to make its own choice for the Presidency.

IT HAS COME TO STAY.

The Desert Lake at Salton Expected to be Permanent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—The desert lake in Southern California will be permanent. There is no longer any doubt about it. The latest reports from Salton are that the water is slowly but surely rising at an average rate of three-fourths of an inch per day. This makes the amount of water now in the Salton basin 4,460,544,000 cubic feet. It has been just forty-eight days since the flood was first noticed. At this rate the flood into the Salton basin has been 10,755 cubic feet per second. This is exclusive of the amount absorbed by evaporation and in filtration for a roundabout distance of two hundred miles that the water takes in coming from the river to Salton.

In March, 1878, the Colorado river at Yuma had an average flow of 6,680 cubic feet per second, as measured by the government engineers. For several months past its flow has been from not less than 100,000 cubic feet per second to probably ten times that amount. The bulk of this has flowed to the gulf, but a large portion has found its way to the desert.

When the water stood at the nineteen-foot water mark at Yuma water has always flowed into New river, which floods the Indian Wells region. The river at Yuma is not yet below the twenty-foot mark. Besides this, the channel of the great break below El Rio is cut so deep that the water will hereafter flow into the desert at the lowest stages of the river. This will insure the permanency of the supply of the lake at Salton. Even allowing, as it is claimed, that the evaporation will equal the inflow from this on, if this state of things continues until next winter's rains there will then be a still greater rise at Salton, and the entire basin, embracing an area of 3,900 square miles below sea level, and over two hundred feet below the Colorado river, will continue to fill.

FARMER'S ALLIANCE.

Will Open September 15 When the Fall Festivities are in Full Blast—Three Delegates From Each County.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18.—The executive committee appointed by the Fort Worth Farmers' Alliance convention with U. S. Hall, president of the Missouri Alliance, as chairman, has issued a circular to the "Members of the Farmers Alliance and Industrial Union, and the Farmers and Laborers of the United States," calling a convention of the members of those bodies who are in accord with the resolutions passed at the Fort Worth meeting. The convention will be held in St. Louis on September 15 next, at a period when the Fall festivities are in full blast.

Destitute Immigrants.

The arrival in the United States of destitute immigrants grows greater day by day notwithstanding the supposedly stringent laws against their landing. The law has had no appreciable effect in keeping out undesirable persons, they seem to grow largely in numbers despite all bars and barriers. Steamship companies are sometimes greatly to blame for this. There is money in it for them, and their agents occasionally tell highly colored yarns to foreigners in order to induce them to emigrate, when of course the agent's company will carry them. In other cases the foreigners lie to honest officials in regard to their financial condition and resources in order to be allowed to come into the United States. The Inman line was accused of carrying destitute immigrants in defiance of the law, but the officials of the company declare such is not the case and talk of protesting to the secretary of the treasury against the rigid measures of Castle Garden under the new law. Emigration Commissioner Powderly is on the track of several persons in Wales, said to be agents of American mine owners, who are trying to induce Welsh miners to come to the United States to work, offering them higher wages than they are now paid. Not one of these men will be allowed to embark, as all prominent ship companies have notified their agents not to take them. Nevertheless many will undoubtedly get here by misrepresenting facts. These are the people who get reputable companies into trouble not of their seeking. How to remove all possibility of their arrival is one of the questions the treasury department will find difficult to solve, but it must be solved, and that quickly. With armies of immigrants pouring into the country each week the matter has become most serious.

Under the law of Pennsylvania the time for killing game and taking fish is as follows: Woodcock, June 1st to January 1st; quail or Virginia partridge, November 1st to December 15th; ruffed grouse, commonly called pheasant, or pinnated grouse, commonly called prairie chicken, October 1st to January 1st; rail bird or reed bird, September 1st to December 1st; elk, wild deer, or antelope, October 1st to December 15th; gray, black, or fur squirrel, September 1st to January 1st; hare, commonly called rabbit, November 1st to January 1st; wild turkey, October 15th to January 1st; wild fowl, September 1st to May 1st; upland or grass plover, July 15th to January 1st; German carp, September 1st to May 1st; black bass, green bass, yellow bass, willow bass, rock bass, Lake Erie or green bass, May 30th to January 1st; pike or pickerel, June 1st to January 1st.

It is stated that some of the Welsh tin-plate manufacturers contemplate moving their entire plants to America. They will seek a refuge under the wing of Protection. Now for another howl from the tin-plate liar.

The annual excursion on the L. V. to New York city, will take place on Monday Sept. 14. The train will leave Dushore at 8:09 and the fair for the round trip, good for 10 days, is $6:40.

As Cleveland is the strongest Presidential candidate the Democrats have got, and he cannot unite his party, it is hard to see a prospect of Democratic victory in 1892.

Democratic editors will be at a loss for somebody to abuse now that Senator Quay and Col. Dudley have retired from the republican national committee.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important, are much less so than this.
