

THE REPUBLICAN

LA PORTE, PA., FEB. 12th, 1892.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

The railroad is a certainty. Spring election next Tuesday. Court one week from next Monday, Feb. 22.

The Com. appeal at LaPorte boro., was warm, on Monday.

Choose good men to be voted for at next Tuesday's election.

J. W. Ballard of LaPorte, is visiting friends in Lackawanna county.

Sauer kraut at the store of Mrs. M. C. Lauer, at six cents per quart.

Our people are not loosing any sleep about the result of the coming election.

E. S. Chase and wife of the 'Mere, were visiting friends at the county seat, Sunday.

Prof. F. W. Meylert and wife of Forksville, were calling on friends at LaPorte, Sunday.

Mr. Chas. Maben of Addison, N. Y., but formerly of LaPorte, is visiting his many friends in town.

The Y. W. C. T. U., will meet at the home of Miss Clara Ballard, Feb. 12, 1892. All are cordially invited.

Dr. Waddell of Dushore, in answer to a telephone, came over to look after some of our sick, Friday evening.

Misses Mame and Annie Sheehan of LaPorte, who have been on the sick list for a week or two, are reported improving.

Dewitt Gritman of Davidson twp., is reported dangerously ill with pneumonia. His recovery is considered doubtful.

Mr. A. Walsh, Miss Agnes Wrede, Miss Annie Beahen, Mr. Oscar Snyder and Mr. James McDonald attended the lecture at Sonestown, Friday evening.

Lawrence Bros., are the owners of the only undertaking establishment in the Boro of Dushore. They thoroughly understand the business and always give satisfaction.

Chairman of the Republican Standing Committee, F. P. Vincent, has issued a call for a meeting of said Committee at LaPorte, on Feb. 25. See call elsewhere.

We acknowledge an invitation to the first annual ball of Washington Camp No. 595, P. O. S. of A., of Dushore, to take place in Garey's Hall, on Monday evening Feb. 22.

The Supreme Court recently decided that it had no jurisdiction in the case of the petition of the Prohibitionists attacking the constitutionality of the new Baker ballot law.

Bloomsburg, now has a daily paper, with Hon. Wm. Krickbaum, editor. It is a neat six column folio and is a newsy and interesting sheet. May it live long and prosper is our wish.

Mrs. Bruce Rea of near Sonestown, died, on Friday last. Interment at Sonestown, on Sunday. Deceased leaves a husband, who has the sympathy of all in his sad bereavement.

M. M. Marks & Co., the one price clothiers of Dushore, have resolved to close business in that quarter. This is the result of discontinuing their advertisement in the REPUBLICAN. Take warning.

Miss Grace Numer of Newport and formerly clerk in the Eagles-Mere post-office, has accepted a similar position under the post-mastership of her brother-in-law M. F. Albert at this place.

Geo. Crowley, who has been in the employ of Judge Taylor for some time, died of the grip, on Friday. Interment at Sonestown, on Sunday. The funeral was attended by a number of LaPorte citizens.

On account of the several statements consuming so much of our space we will be unable to give the usual amount of reading matter for a few issues. We hope our readers will bear with us in the matter.

DIED.—At the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. A. Seitz in Paragould Arkansas, on Friday the 5th inst. Mrs. Catherine Miller wife of David Miller dec'd, and mother of Mrs. A. Logan Grim, of LaPorte, Pa. A true christian gone to her reward.

The people of LaPorte will hold a caucus in the Court House, on Saturday evening Feb. 13. The object of the caucus is to place in nomination good men to fill the various Boro. offices. All are invited.

Prof. M. F. Albert and our foreman Mr. John Boyd, are a trifle foot weary. They walked to Sonestown, on Friday evening last to attend the lecture and Local Institute. John has occupied the printer's high chair a good part of the time, since.

C. A. Jenkins of LaPorte twp., can now supply you with a thrifty growing young orchard of the choicest kind of fruit, also flowers and shrubbery. He has taken the agency of the F. S. Taft & Co. Nursery House of Rochester, N. Y., and any order solicited by Mr. Jenkins, will be as represented.

Erhardt Mueller of Honesdale aged 54 years, who it is said fired the first gun at the battle of Gettysburg and killed the first man in that memorable conflict, between the Union and Confederate armies, died on Saturday Jan. 30. He was born in Germany and emigrated to this country early in life.

The people of Dushore are contemplating enlarging their Borough limits. They propose taking in the several residences on the LaPorte road including Wendall Sick, whose building was designated as the Cherry election house in 1887. This will necessitate the appointing of other quarters for the Cherry voters to cast their ballots.

It is alleged that some party or parties took possession of the new school building, on Friday or Saturday night, last. A bunk and a lamp were found in the basement near the heater. The intruders are supposed to have been tramps. Our school authorities should investigate the matter and proceed to have the building made more secure.

Atty. H. T. Downs, who was the auditor appointed by the Court, to audit the accounts of the Prothonotary &c. for the year 1891, completed his audit on February 3d, and forwarded his Report to the Auditor General at Harrisburg. Mr. Downs informs us that the amount of business done during 1891, in the various offices held by Mr. A. Walsh, has very materially decreased from that of the two preceding years, at least 20 per cent. Mr. Downs reports that he found the Records in good condition, and the financial requirements of the office, by the Commonwealth, and the public, fully and satisfactorily complied with.

Re-organization of the Williamsport & North Branch R. R.

On Wednesday Mr. Geo. L. Sanderson transferred to Mr. H. L. Taylor of Buffalo all his interest in the Williamsport & North Branch R. R., and their was an entire change in the general officers of the road. Hon. H. C. McCormick becomes President, Mr. Satterfield of Buffalo, who is Mr. Taylor's partner, takes the Vice Presidency and Seth T. McCormick is Secretary. The Directors are Messrs Taylor, Satterfield, H. C. McCormick, S. T. McCormick and Messrs. Cochran and Payne, of the banking firm of Cochran, Payne & McCormick. Benj. G. Welch remains in charge as General Manager and S. D. Townsend as Auditor.

This will be recognized as an exceptionally strong organization and as soon as the new owners become entirely familiar with the possibilities and the needs of the road it is believed that measures will be taken for its development that it will be of very great advantage to the interests of the country through which it runs. We believe that in the near future through trains will be run between Wilkesbarre and Williamsport over this line under such arrangements as will harmonize with all the connecting lines and secure to all our manufacturers all the advantages of all the different roads with which it will connect. It has always been the policy of the management to secure the good will of their connections and in this particular direction there will be a widening out on the same lines that will foster all the industries along the W. & N. B. We wish the new owners and the old management all possible success.—Mail.

With this new organization comprised chiefly of Williamsport parties, who are financially interested in the progress of the Lake Mokoma property—our people can positively hope for the completion of said railroad to this place during the coming summer.

The following article, is what a correspondent to the Bulletin, has to say about the feeling existing between Ireland and England. It is a true statement and each and every Irish voter in Sullivan county should read it with interest.

THE IRISH AMERICAN VOTERS. Some Very Plain Facts Given in Relation to Their Position With England.

To THE EDITOR: While Mr. M. J. Costello is so ably handling the Egan question and giving the true reason for Democratic dislike of our Chilean Minister, I wish to express my surprise that any true born Irishman, having the interest of his race at heart, especially the laboring portion of his people now residing in this country, can conscientiously vote the Democratic ticket, except in cases of local elections, when tis but to vote for the best men offered in nomination, regardless of party creeds. I can understand why a man of any nationality, out side of the Irish race, may follow the teachings of Democracy, for like as in religious creeds, young men generally adopt the creed of their father, whether it be political or of a religious nature.

But now we have all Ireland justly asking the sympathy of the whole world, in the great struggle to throw off the yoke which England with her grasping propensities has fastened about the necks of the Irish people. They are doing all that a down trodden and desperate people can do, to free themselves from England's iron heel. Therefore the Irish people cannot have any particular love for that portion of the English race who are interested in England and her institutions in general.

During the heat of the last Presidential campaign, when the Republicans were charging the Democrats with being the medium through which Great Britain was doing her utmost to establish free trade in this country, that she might fatten herself at the expense of American industries. Cleveland and all the Democratic papers denied the fact in the strongest language at their command. But when the cute California Republican wrote the English Minister, Mr. Sackville West, asking which of the two candidates, Harrison or Cleveland, would be best to be elected for the interest of England—Mr. West, supposing he was talking to a friend of England's interest—at once answered that Cleveland was undoubtedly the best man for English interests. The letter was at once made public and the effect upon Cleveland's chances of election became apparent to the Democratic leaders. Grover lost his temper and asked England to recall their minister at once; not because West had spoken well of Cleveland, but because by his speaking honestly to his supposed friend, he had let the cat out of the bag which made it useless for the Democrats to try to hide the facts any longer.

This incident alone opened the eyes of scores of Irish voters in this country, and many to my knowledge voted for Harrison at that time, who would have voted for Cleveland, but for the incident above mentioned.

Now there is no denying the fact that all there is of the free trade element in this country is harbored by a portion of the Democratic party. This part is purely English. Were it not for England not a word of it would be heard in this country today. This being true, all England is watching every opportunity to spring free trade on this country, if she can, and all Englishmen not interested in manufactures in this country look to the Democratic party to help them establish their pet scheme here. And, it has been the custom, as far back as I can remember, for all of Ireland's sons to vote the Democratic ticket as fast as they landed on American soil and received their papers giving them the right to vote, and, until the Sackville-West incident struck the country in such a sensational manner, the bolts from the Democratic party by the Irish people were few, but owing to the quick witted race who are never slow to see a point presented as plainly as in the incident above mentioned. The Irish people now see for the first time that while they have escaped the tyrant's yoke by emigrating to this country, yet up to date England has given them a razor with which to cut their own throats, by working through the Democratic party which she saw the Irish had adopted as their political creed. Therefore we see England and Ireland with clinched fists draw at each other at home, but in America, both voting the same ticket, which means, Ireland playing into the hands of her bitterest enemy. But, thank Heaven, they now begin to see where they stand, hence the new Irish Republican organization which seems to be increasing its numbers rapidly, and if Irishmen consult their personal interests and did what is best political for themselves in this country, there would not be one Irish vote cast for a Democratic candidate for a leading office until the party had by public outcry aunounced to the world that they had once for all abandoned England's free trade scheme and proposed hereafter to work for America and American interests. We are glad to see the new and popular movement—it shows that our people are thinking for themselves.
