Republican County Ticket. FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

DANIEL T. HUCKELL, of Forksville

THOMAS S. SIMMONS, of Sonestown

The vigor and earnestness shows by the Maine Republicans in their State campaign ought to be an example to the party in every other State. Maine is safely Republican and could be depended upon to give a fair majority if no speeches were made or rallies held. Rut th's would not be satisfactory to the party. So as energetic a campaign is being made as if the State was doubtful. All the questions at issue are thoroughly discussed by such speakers as General Cleaves, the Republican candidate for Governor; Congressmen Boutelle and Dingly, and ex-speaker Reed, and they will be reinforced by Governor McKinley, General Grosvenor, General Hastings, General Fairchild and others. One peculiarity of the canvass is the meetings exclusively devoted to explaining the Australian ballot law. The result of all this energetic work will be that the Maine people will go to the polls September 12 thoroughly informed on the questions of the day and prepared to handle their "blanket" ballots with the ease of old timers. There is no more intelligent constituency in the country than Maine can boast of.

THE STRIKE DECLARED OFF.

The Word Given at Buffale Wednesday Night.

The strike of switchmen at Buffalo, Waverly and Sayre, which was commenced August 12, was officially declared off by Grand Master Sweeney at midnight Wednesday Aug. 24. An effort was made to induce other unions to join the switchmen, and burg into the house and gave her when they refused the last hopes the best room, and in closing a five was gone, and nothing was left but minutes' speech descriptive of the to surrender. It was when a policeman suggested that some of the farm hands had done the deed that Lizzie said it could not be so. Witness was positive that Lizzie did not go up stair. before the officers went, because she remembered the officers going up to Lizzie's room and finding it locked; of their pulling the door open, and of her requesting to be allowed to look in first, because she did not know what condition it was in. She looked in and finding it all right, let them in.

WANTED PRUSSIC ACID.

Eli Bence, drug clerk, testified that ne remembered the day of the tragedy, and was acquainted with Lizzie Borden. Witness saw her in his store the day before, and she asked him for 10 cents worth of prossic acid to put on a sealskin sack or cape, but he told her he could not sell it without a physician's

Every action is a seed you sow, and you read habit; "you sow converted some time before and habit," and you reap character; you sow character, and you reap destiny.' I am glad to think of how many will read these words at this time. Use your will! Guard your will; it is the citadel of your character. I like, at this time in my life, to look back over the way I have come and, for the sake of others especially I get at the sources of power and weakness in my own character. 1 was brought up in a church where we were trained to speak of our spiritual life as a kind of Circle of the King's Daughters, though no so called. 1 belonged to a "class," as it was called. I well remember that at one time in my young life l simply said one thing week after week: "I do not belong to Satan and he shall not have me. I do be long to Christ, and I will be His.' Ah, well, it has been the refrain of my life, with variations; and after all these years I still feel the need of "I will," and "I will not." wish I could get you to see that the very thorn in the flesh in your life, which you may know and do know. may become the source of power in vour life.

Do you think, dear Circle, that 1 talk too much to you on this sub ject? Well, perhaps I should not but for the letters my Circle send me. Sometimes I think that whatever the work of others may be mine becomes more and more a min istry of sympathy, there are so many broken hearts to be bound up, and the oil of sympathy is constantly called for. And at times all I can say is: "I am so sorry, for everybody, dear Gol, do help everybody,' and I am sure He will. I am sure that this night of sorrow will soon end in a joyous day, and we can ighten our own load by taking a little of somebody's else load Strange parodox, but it is true! O believe me, dear daughters, as you turn from your load to help, ever just a little, to bear somebody's elsoad, your own will lighten, or there will come fresh strength to bear We will not be selfish; we will care for some more forlorn sister, and maybe, some time, will act on the suggestion of the one who wrote she feared we were selfish, and we will take hold of hands and lift from the pile of misery, and enlarge the
