Upon an order granted the New York mugwump and freeson's attorney, the commissioner is directed to appear before the Supreme Court of New York on September 12, and show cause why he should not be made to surrender the correspondence in question. This. action was taken with a grand flourish of trumpets, as if to inform the world that the free-traders still had a card or two up their sleeves, and the widest publicity has been given to its every detail. The proceedings grow ostensibly out of the refusal of some of Mr. Peck's subordidates to bow low enough before Mr. Anderson's august person when session of the correspondence in al.

question. In an interview published yesterday Mr. Peck gives some reasons why he should not surrender the papers to every Tom, Dick and Harry who might take a notion to review them. He shows that most of the letters were of a confidential nature and were written on the understanding that they were not to be printed. It was expressly stipulated that the names of the writers should not be made public, as the free trade people have a very effective way of getting even with those business men who oppose their favorite plans. Upon this understanding the manufacturers gave Mr. Peck the desired information. It was, by reason of its very nature, information which Mr. Anderson was not entitled to have. The State as represented by the Labor Commissioner, could ask for and no doubt force men to give it, but no private citizen had that right. The State could also lay the results of that information before the people in accordance with the spirit of the mittee headquarters are still in a law authorizing their collection, but quandry over the report so damag. beyond this it was in decency not

New Work for the W. T. C. A."

The founders of our Government in welcoming people from every land did not suppose for a moment that they were preparing the way for the coming of outlaws, murder ers and wicked adventurers, or for other countries sending to us the nmates of their prisons, asylums and hospitals. They did not intend to prepare a dumping-ground for the dregs of European and other nations. Their object was to give an opportunity to honest, industrious and capable people of all countries, who would be obedient to the laws and deport themselves as American citizens, to make homes here, acquire competency, educate their children according to our methods, and to all intents and purposes make themselves one with us. It was expected that however widely apart those who would come hither had been born, they would at once here with ourselves make one nationality. But this permission and these
