Carnegie's Opinion.

London, Oct. 10 .- Andrew Carnegie has written a letter to the Times expounding his views on the tariff question. He says that for a country of fully developed resources, like England, Free Trade is indispensible, and that for a new country like the United States, a protective tariff is necessary to facilitate doman with a pound, and that the cry of free traders, as to the enhanced Comrade Benjamin Harrison.

When Commander-in-Chief Palmer, in behalf of the thousands assembled at Washington, and the 500,000 members of the Grand Army of the Republic, referred to "Comrade Benjamin Harrison," he touched a chord whose strength only the veterans fully comprehend. In talking it over, not only in Washington, but everywhere in the quiet homes of the land, around their camp-fires and around their hearth- the murder Mr. Borden told him he stones, they will say to each other, with us." Said to Have Been Seen in Her Mother's Room. Boston, Oct. 10 .- The Boston Globe this morning publishes a twelve-column story from Fall River, setting forth in detail new and startling evidence of the prosecution in the Borden murder case, which it says is in the hands of the police and is to be given by twenty-five new witnesses, who will testify for the State at the coming trial of Miss Lizzie Borden.

A WOMAN IN THE ROOM.

John H. Murphy, who resides on Bedford street, Fall River, will testify that he was standing on the sidewalk close to the Borden house when Mr. Borden entered his yard about 10:40 o'clock on the morning of August 4, and he saw him a minute or two latter ushered into the lobby by Bridget Sullivan.

Murphy will swear that while Mr. Borden was walking in the yard he saw a window blind of the room in which Mrs. Borden's body was afterwards found cautiously opened by a young woman who had the same morning told him when he called at the Borden house about 9:30 o'clock, that her father had gone down town and would not be back until noon or later. This woman he has identified as the defendant, Lizzie A. Borden. The window Mr. Murphy designates as the one in which he saw Miss Lizzie is so situated that she must have been standing over the mutilated remains of her mother at the very time that her father was about to enter the house, between 10:35 and 10:45 o'clock.

RECOGNIZED THE FACE.

The next witness of importance is Mrs. Gustave F. Ronald, of Pawtucket, R. I. who was a guest of the Wilbur House. About 9:40 on the morning of the murder she was wheeling her baby carriage near the Borden house when she heard a terrible cry or groan.

She looked up at the Borden house and saw in a room through a partially open window a woman whose head was in part covered by a rubber cap or hood, whose face she saw plainly, as the distance was short. She recognized her as the younger daughter of the Borden family, the members of which she knew quite well by sight.

Augustus Gunning, at the time odger in Mrs. Churchill's house, is said to have seen Lizzie Borden in the window at the same time and under the same circumstances.

These witnesses, the Globe says. fix Miss Borden at her mother's side almost at the minute when she probably was killed, and when Miss Lizzie, according to her story, was elsewhere.

A FAMILY SECRET.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Chace. of pain. Fall River, and Mrs. Abigail Manmestic production. Mr. Carnegie, also argues that in the United States the cost of living is less that in the United States the cost of living is less that in the United States the cost of living is less than 1 fall River, and Mrs. Abigail Manpeople, while a whole host of Itali ans, swearing and gesticulating, swarmed out of the house and made States the cost of living is less than Great Britain, that the American working men can have more with five working men can be a supplied to the working men can have more with five working men can have more working men can hav workingman can buy more with five stated, a quarrel between Lizzie and dollars than can a British working- her father. MRS. SISSON'S STORY.

Mrs. George J. Sisson, of Fall River, is said to have heard Lizzie say to Bridget Sullivan, the hired girl, "Why don't you say how much money you want to keep quiet?"

Bridget's answer was, "I don't not the girl I took you to he."

RACE WAR IN FRANKFORD. Negro and Italian Laborers En

gage in a Lively Battle. Between the negroes and Italians who work on the new Frankford and Philadelphia Railroad there is a bitter and deadly enunity, and hard-ly a week passes but that some of them are arrested. If it is not a negro assaulting an Italian it is an Italian doing up a negro, but yester-day a fight occurred which threw everything which has heretofore happened into the shade and looked for awhile as if it would develop ino a first.class bloody riot.

William O'Donald, colored, boarding at 4251 Main street, Frankford. took it into his head to invade the Italian quarter, Main and Green streets, where some forty or fifty swarthy-skinned sons of Italy rendevous. He got as far as the door, which was partially ajar, threw it wide open and thrust in his woolly head. He had no sooner done so than he was detected by those in-side, and two of the Italians—Mike Nocholi and Domini Stambo, the former seizing a huge shovel and the latter a heavy club—at once sprang upon the unfortunate negro. The shovel descending upon his head cut a big gash in it and the club playing about his body made him howl with

"Now" said the man, "if I only had something over me. I am so cold.' There was only one thing the chaplain could do, and that was to take off his coat and cover the cold man As he did so, the wounded man looked up in his face and said "Fo God's sake, if there is anything in that Book that makes a man do for another what you have done for me, let me hear it." There is a world of meaning, to my mind, in this incident. The need of to-day is the acting of object lessons the Book teaches.

A friend said to me the other day. while smarting under the treatment of her child's nurse: "What am I to think? She never reads any book but the Bible, and she was often on her knees, and yet think of what she did? What do you make of it all ?" I replied : "There is nothing the matter with the Bible nothing to be said against prayer, only that girl did not act either what the Bible taught, or what she prayed about; so they both simply went for nothing." I believe of all the agencies for making infidels nothing is equal to good talking and bad acting. I have nothing to say against organizations, or machinery of any kind; I only want to emphasize the living as Christ lived. Nothing moves me like the sight of real self-abnegation (not talking about) and so it does everbody. The whole world was touched by the life of Father Damien.
