The drink question in Germany is importance in its political economy. Professor Schmoller, of Berlin, an able political economists, thus writes: 'Among our working people the conditions of domestic life, of education, of prosperity, of progress or degradation are all dependent on the proportion of income which flows down the father's throat. The whole condition of our lower and middle classes-one may even, without exaggeration, say the future of our nation-depends on this question. If it is true that half of our

The Hancock Herald says that its reporter interviewed Thos. Crary and Wm. A. Hall, Tuesday, relative to the newly organized combination of sole leather tanners. The gentlemen did not believe the combination would materially effect the price of leather. All the hides wil be bought by one set of men at a great saving to the individual operators to whom they are to be delivered, and another set of men will find a market for all manufactured leather. The expense of selling the leather is five per cent. of its value, and the individual tanners have had it talked to them that practically all the expense will be saved them. Each tannery will go into the trust and its owners will take its value in shares of trust stock. It is alleged that Thomas Proctor, of the Proctor Leather company, will direct the operations of the gigantic corporation, which will represent a capital of fully $100,000,000. Agents of the pool are expected in town any time to examine the Crary plant, its capacity, equipment, land titles, etc. The tanneries whose legal titles are being examined in this vicinity are: Chemung county, the Palmer & Decker tannery, Elmira, and the R. M. Losey tannery at Wellsburg. Steuben county, Germania tannery at Lindley, the tannery at South Addison, and the Curtis tannery at Campbell. Tioga county, the A. J. Decker tannery at Waverly, the one at Newark Valley and one at Berkshire. In Broome county, the Boston Ideal at Vestal, and in Deleware county, the Crary Brothers at Hancock. In Sullivan county, Pa., the Laporte tannery, owned by James McFarlane & Co., the Stevensville tannery, owned by D. T. Stevens & Son, and the Hillsgrove tannery,
