The man who wrote "After the STRICKEN DEAF AND DUMB. During a Fit of Blaspheming and Cursing

The following remarkable story is going the rounds about town. On Monday, a reporter of the Record talk of the repair shops of the W. & called on Rev. Fossellman, of the N. B., being located at Laporte. Our Evangelical church, who verified the people will no doubt present the statement so far as they came under his observation: About eight months ago an iron worker named Starks, employed down town became angered and swore and blasphemed in a most frightful way. In the midst of his profanity he was stricken deaf and dumb and never spoke a word until last week, when he attended a protracted meeting in the Master Earny McBride of Laporte, Evangelical church, and made a prospends his leisure hours in the print fession of religion, after which his ing office, and says he intends learn- speech came back to him.
