REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.
FOR CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE:
HON. GALUSHA A. GROW, of Susquehanna county.

SENATOR QUAY AND THE TARIFF.

He Will Try to Kill the Wilson
Bill.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 4.—Senator Quay arrived at his home in Beaver last evening. His health is again precarious. He will, however, return to Washington to-morrow.

Senator Quay's proposed amendments to the tariff measure have caused considerable talk throughout the country. The local Populists in particular are pleased. The Senator hopes by tacking on the free coinage of silver, the repeal of the state bank tax and providing for the purchase of 154,125 ounces of gold per month and the issue of notes therefore will cause such dissensions in the Democratic party that the Wilson bill will be defeated. When seen at his home in Beaver, the Senator had not much to say in explanation of his course. He could give no assurance that his tactics would kill the new tariff measure. He said he knew the Democratic party of old. While the Democratic Senators would undoubtedly make a fight for specific protection for their own sections, they would likely line up for the bill on the final vote.

Senator Quay continued: "The Democrats have a majority of three I think, over the Republicans and Populists in the Senate. Whether this majority can be overcome or not is a question. I introduced the amendments without consultation with other Republican Senators. I do not know what they think about them, and can't say whether they will vote for the amendments or not. My object, of course, is to defeat the Wilson bill. This is the only way the silver question can be revived again this session, and it ought to please the silver men. As for the repeal of the state bank tax, that is Democratic policy, and as the party seemed to be dodging the issue, I thought I would give it an opportunity to put itself on record.

"I believe in my gold proposition and have advocated it for some time but I would not press the amendment now. It is part of the plan to defeat the Sherman bill also. It is virtually the Sherman bill over again except that gold is to be purchased instead of silver. I believe if the Sherman law had provided for the purchase of gold we would not have had the money panic last fall.

"I may add under the Pennsylvania banking laws our state bank issue of money would be stable enough, but I don't know how it would be with other states. National bank money is certainly better than the state bank issue. In Pennsylvania the money would be backed by state bonds which are as good, if not better, than government bonds. I may say, too, that in a few years, at the present rate of increase there will be money enough in the sinking fund to wipe out the state debt, and yet this is being done by the Republican ring."

The Senator laughed heartily over the last remark.

In the death of George W. Childs editor of the Philadelphia Ledger, on Saturday last, nothing more truthful can be said than the plain, emphatic declaration that American's most useful citizen has passed away. No great man of the century was more universally respected, honored and beloved. For years the name of George W. Childs has been a household word in every city, town and hamlet of this great nation, and his fame is world-wide and richly deserved.

Democrats in and out of Congress are getting sick and quitting work for that company. In 1892 we all thought this would be the last place to look for a strike.

Local Institute.

The local institute for LaPorte, Davidson and Shrewsbury townships met at Sonestown, Feb. 2, 1894.

The exercises were opened with singing by the committee on music. Supt. Meylert introduced Prof. Johnson, Supt. of Union county, who delivered an excellent lecture on "Building for Citizenship," interspersed with humorous illustrations of "going to extremes." Saturday: O. L. Davis, Pres. called the meeting to order; Supt. Meylert addressed the institute briefly and suggested that the "Query Box" precede the work on the program. The following statements were developed:

"Parental co-operation will overcome tardiness." "The proper use of signals is an element of success." "Physiology and Hygiene must receive as much attention as other branches in the curriculum of study." The program was next taken up. The teachers were well prepared on the subjects assigned, and manifested a readiness to advance opinions and answer questions. The following topics were thoroughly discussed:

Primary Reading—Jennie Hoffman; How to Hold Attention—M. D. Sweeney; Cube Root—Anna Karge; Change of Seasons—O. M. Swisher; Pennmanship—Opened by J. Magargle, followed by Supt. Meylert, in which he emphasized the necessity of correct movement; The Verb—O. L. Davis; Whispering, Fractions, Circulation, Apparatus and History outlines, were discussed in general. The subject of school management was taken up by Supt. Meylert, touching principally on promptness, roll call, arrangement, interruptions and teachers' qualifications. He spoke earnestly in behalf of our schools, advancing good ideas, and presenting excellent methods, by which all our schools can be improved.

The institute adjourned to meet March 2 and 3 at LaPorte. A lecture will be provided for the evening. The teachers in attendance enjoyed a pleasant and profitable meeting and will return to their schools refreshed and invigorated.
