Judge Metzger's Plain Talk.

Judge Metzger, of Williamsport, created quite a sensation in court on Saturday at the conclusion of action on a number of deferred liquor license applications.

"These people act," he said, "as if I could do as I please in this matter, whereas they sit idly by and make no effort to prevent the granting of the licenses that are so objectionable to them."

CORBETT AND JACKSON.

What the Champion Says Concerning the Coming Fight.

CINCINNATI, March 27.—The Champion James J. Corbett last night gave the following statement of his position: "I see that Jackson recently said that I was afraid to fight him, and that he would follow me to England, and either force me to fight or ruin my English engagement financially by hounding and harassing me."

TO GET THEM DRUNK.

A Scheme on Foot to Disband Coxey's Army.

CANTON, OHIO, March 26.—A scheme to furnish the Commonwealth army with 15 or 20 gallons of bad whiskey has been set on foot, in hopes that the soldiers may get drunk and break up the expedition before it gets beyond Alliance.

Careful readers of the REPUBLICAN, doubtless, have observed in its columns from time to time, when matter appertaining to the honor of the town, have been called in question by outside parties, the earnest and spirited words of its editor in refutation of the same.

Inasmuch as it has fallen to my lot to visit the people of LaPorte and surroundings in the interest of two of its residents, meeting with a loss I desire to add my testimony to the practical sympathy of the donors spoken to on the subject.

There have been many stories put in circulation in regard to the absence of Henry Harding, Esq., and all of them appear to be erroneous. To say the least it is unjust for any person to repeat hearsay in such a matter. The facts of the case are that on the 28th of February Mr. Harding left home, as was thought, to go to Philadelphia, but he did not lead to an investigation which resulted in the finding of a sealed package directed to his brother, Samuel Harding, of Eaton township. The package contained a letter in which Henry Harding stated that his health was such that he was unable longer to attend his business matters, and therefore he was forced to take a rest. He explained that he was unable to close up his business, and gave his brother power of attorney to do so for him, stating that should his health improve sufficiently he would return, and as soon as there was improvement he would be heard from. Samuel Harding and his attorneys are now at work closing up his business, which has been found all straight. No other package than the one to his brother has been found. Henry Harding is worth considerable property, and ill health is the only reason, for his departure from home. This is a correct statement of facts in the case, and there is no ground for further uncharitable surmise on the matter. Tunkhannock Republican.
