A NEW TARIFF.
The House Accepts the Senate Bill and Considers in Amendments.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.
At 6 o'clock to-night the Senate tariff bill unchanged, unamended, untouched, was passed by the House, and the measure now awaits only the signature of the President or his failure to sign it within ten days, to be enacted into law. It was passed according to the program arranged yesterday and ratified at a caucus of Democrats this morning.
The caucus met at 10 o'clock and adjourned at noon, with the understanding that the Senate bill and a separate measure placing coal, sugar, iron ore and barbed wire on the free list, should be put through the House before adjournment, but an unexpected obstacle was encountered in the absence from Washington of Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio, a Democratic member of the Committee on Rules whose presence was necessary to enable the committee to bring in a special order for carrying out the caucus arrangements. Mr. Outhwaite, who was absent on account of illness in his family, appeared however, at 2 o'clock, and a few minutes later the Committee on Rules reported the special order and the House entered on one of the greatest days in its history. The special rule was agreed to after a short debate.

Then the Senate bill was debated for two hours, and after counter accusations by the Republicans and Democrats and severe arraignments of the majority by several of its own members, the bill was passed by a vote of 181 to 105. A number of Democrats voted against the bill, while the Populists supported the majority. There was much applause when the troublesome measure was finally out of the way.
Then the separate bills placing coal, iron ore, barbed wire and sugar on the free list, were taken up in the order named and passed, after debate of half an hour on each, and was probably the biggest day in the history of the House, from the standpoint of work accomplished, came to an end.

PASSING THE BILLS.

After the vote on commerce Mr. Wilson, Democrat, West Virginia, immediately called up the bill, placing coal on the free list. The free coal bill was passed; yeas 160, nays 104. The free iron ore bill was immediately taken up.
At 8:15 p. m., the House passed the bill placing iron ore on the free list, yeas 163; nays 102.

At 9:15 p. m., the House passed the free barbed wire bill, yeas 187; nays 84; and immediately proceeded to the consideration of the free sugar bill.

The free sugar bill was passed—yeas 276; nays 11, and the House at 10:25 adjourned till Wednesday morning.

The Seventh Annual Convention of the Republican League of the State of Pennsylvania, to elect officers, and transact such other business as may be necessary, will be held in the Opera House, Harrisburg, Penna. on Wednesday, September 26th, 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m.

A party of young ladies of Dushore, passed through town on Monday en-route to Eagles Mere. They occupied a two seated carriage and appeared very comfortable and apparently were enjoying a good time. The young ladies were: Miss Gracy Lawrence, Miss Emily Pomeroy, Miss Vina Kellog, Miss Kline of Wilkes-Barre, who is visiting Mr. Benj. Kline and family at the metropolis and Miss Cora Pettibone of near Wilkes-Barre, who is visiting Miss Gracy Lawrence. Miss Emily did the driving and did it very nicely too. Of course women drivers break a wagon spring occasionally as well as men, but Miss Emily was hardly to blame for the bad luck of Monday. You see a great big hole had been excavated in the road along Cherry Flats and just where the wheel was bound to go and the young ladies were chatting as young ladies do you know and the horses were on a pretty lively jog as horses would necessarily have to go you know, under the circumstances; when down went a wheel into this deep, deep hole and bang went a spring. The horses were brought to a halt and the girls piled out and what to do they did not know. They were not kept in suspense long however, as the good Samaritan joined them shortly after the accident and with wire and twine made good their break and the young ladies continued their journey to the 'Mere.

We have made inquiries and are pleased to be able to announce, officially, that the young ladies arrived home in the evening at the hour promised their parents and enjoyed a pleasant day's outing.

STEELETON, Pa., Aug. 13, 1894.

All the departments of the works of the Pennsylvania Steel Company were in operation last week, being the first full week made for several months. The shipments for last week were large and everything is pushed forward as rapidly as completed. The Republican county convention met at Harrisburg last Tuesday and nominated E. M. Warner of Lebanon, for Congress; S. S. Page, W. H. C. Keene and John M. Herg, for the Legislature. All these candidates have to do is to wait for their majorities which is certain. Arrangements are being made by the school directors for opening the public schools on the first Monday in Sept. There is 35 schools in the borough—31 white and 4 colored. There is 1600 scholars. The Lutheran Church, which has been built at a cost of $44,000 was dedicated on the 5th inst. Several new dwelling houses are being built in town. The motor lines have done an extensive business during the last month, carrying passengers to picnics. The minority in the democratic party in this place is growing less every day from the way many democrats express themselves, consequently the republican majority will be larger. This county is good for 4000 majority for Hastings, and if Mr. Cleveland and his Congress keeps on in their evil ways I will say $5000. The parties in this place that set up a ticket at the spring election, to oppose the Steel Company, have found out to their sorrow that it is a bad thing to monkey with a buzz-saw after their heads are cut off. They did not have the courage to offer any opposition at the late primary election, however, much they desired to do so.
