

A REUNION OF SOLDIERS.

HEADQUARTERS SURVIVORS' ASSOCIATION, THIRD DIVISION, NINTH CORPS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—The fourth reunion of the veterans comprising the Third Division of the Ninth Corps of the army of the Potomac, commanded by Major General John F. Hartman, will take place at Harrisburg, Pa., April 9, 1895, the thirtieth anniversary of the surrender at Appomattox.

The Pennsylvania troops comprising this division were the 200th, 205th, 207th, 208th, 109th, and 211 Regiments. A large number of the officers and men had previously served in the war, and they, with the young boys from 15 to 18 years of age, comprised the rank and file of this organization, which, when completed, went quickly to the front where they remained continuously in the presence of the enemy and under fire until the close of the war.

The term of service was short, but of a brilliant character, and added much to the lustre of the arms of Pennsylvania in the great war. On the banners of this organization are the scars of war made at Barnuda Hundred, Weldons Raid, Hatcher's Run, the Sieg of Petersburg, Fort Steadman and Fort Hell. It is, therefore, eminently proper that the survivors should again meet in reunion and revive the memories and acquaintances of the years when, as soldiers of the Republic and in the fortunes of war, they discharged with fidelity whatever duties were imposed upon them.

Arrangements will be made for excursion rates over the leading railroads, and orders for excursion tickets will be furnished. Information regarding the headquarters of each regimental organization, the time and place of each regimental reunion, the rates at the leading hotels, will be given in a subsequent circular from these headquarters.

Comrades of this organization should be impressed with the fact that but few more reunions will be held, and it is desired that the reunion in April may not be only an enjoyable occasion, but that it may also be attended by every Comrade who can possibly be present, Gen. Park, our last Corps Commander, and other commanding officers and members of their staffs will be present, as well as the family of General Hartman, all of whom take great interest in the organization.

ISAAC B. BROWN, Pres. It is earnestly desired that as many of the members of the 209th regiment as can possibly do so, be present at this reunion. By order of RUSSEL KARNS, Pres.

Nearly 102 Years Old.

PITTSBURG, March 24.—Jane Dugan, a ward of the Rector of St. Paul's Catholic church, on the South Side, is believed to be the oldest person living in Pennsylvania. She is 102 years of age on her next birthday in June. She came from Ireland in 1790 with her parents, who were pioneers in Butler county, where she inherited a large farm. In 1861 she sold her farm to the father, rector of St. Paul's for $1, on condition that she be cared for the rest of her days.

We are in the front rank and propose to maintain that position. We can suit you in anything in the line of men and boy's clothing. Call and see our stock. Jacob Per, Hughesville Pa.

MARRIED.—At Elmira, March 16, by Rev. Mills; Mr. Chas. Hess of Muncy Valley, to Miss Clara Anza Campbell of Ralston, Pa.

Money saved is money made. The reduction in Jacob Per's prices is where you make it. Hughesville Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crossley of Laporte, attended the funeral of Mrs. Elisha Kler, in Columbia Co., on Sunday. Deceased was an aunt of Mrs. Crossley.

You can't go amiss by dropping in at Jacob Per's, Hughesville Pa. and take a look over his stock of goods.

Just Arrived.

New Spring styles of clothing, hats and caps. Prices away down. Call and be convinced before buying elsewhere. T. J. KEELER. 3-29-95

Among the worst things in this world is worry—but no one need worry over the prices of clothing, as it affords the greatest pleasure to take a glance over Jacob Per's price list. Hughesville Pa.

Squire Swank is trapping for skunk, and is quite successful. We hope Henry will capture the gang that have recently made a raid on the farmers' chickens in the neighborhood. He ought to set for checken hawks, too. We think there should be a bounty on these birds, as they are a fearful pest to the farmer.

Hughes Phillips' family are all sick with sore throat and bad colds.

McClellan Phillips contemplates going to the Bloomsburg Normal, this summer.

Supervisor, John O. Wilson and Dan Phillips, were looking over the sight for the new road in the vicinity of Judge Phillips, last week, with a view of commencing the grading this spring.

To Inquisitive. At the World's Fair and in the south central court of machine hall, arose suddenly a huge steam hammer—the face-like of that of 125 tons, the largest in the world. On it was stamped the words "Bethlehem Mfg. Co." hence it must have been cast at these works.
