Doctors in New York have now decided that grip is the cause of many affections of the eyes and ears which at present are afflicting humanity. There was recently a meeting at the New York Academy of Medicine to discuss this subject which was of a very interesting character. The meeting was a stated one and had been set apart for the discussion of two papers. In both papers particular stress was laid on the fact that the grip is infectious, and its influence upon various organs is similar to that of other infectious diseases. The specific grip germ has not yet been determined. It is believed that that germ is responsible for other diseases than the grip.

The Road will be Built. Contractor Miles Leonard of Binghamton, has the following to say about the much discussed railroad to connect Binghamton and Wyalusing:

"As soon as the frost gets out of the ground I intended to again commence the work of constructing and grading the road-bed. The work will be pushed rapidly this summer. I have been given to understand that the failure of the Rosses will in no way effect the building of the road. I think the funds already advanced by Mr. Erastus Ross were received by him through some person in some corporation which does not wish to be identified with the building of this connecting branch. Mr. Ross was always very close on this subject and I do not know who is behind the movement."

The general opinion appears to be that the D. & H. railroad is building the road. The branch would connect them with a section of the country the D. & H. has long desired to reach. It would give them a valuable outlet to the coal regions and would be a great addition to their freight facilities.—Ez.

It is reported that wages at the Jamison City tannery, has been reduced and that the same reduction will take place at the Hills Grove, Muney Valley, and Laporte tanneries in the near future. This will remind the reader that Grover Cleveland was right when he said in his message shortly after the tariff bill had become a law, that wages would be less. This cut in wages will cause a great many of our voters to do considerable thinking, before casting their vote next fall.

Large line of children's suits from $1 to $7 at Jacob Per's, Hughesville, Pa.

The law requires that the mercantile appraiser's list shall be published four times in at least two papers in this county and if the Commissioners think it advisable they can have it published in all three. This year the Commissioners were liberal and patronized all three. At a recent date we editors addressed our bills for publishing the same to the proper officials of the county. One of our contemporaries stated in his bill that it had been published Three times in his paper. This was sworn to before a Notary Public. The statement was returned to the publisher by our county official and a reminder that the law required it published Four times. A day or two afterwards this same editor sent in a bill purporting that it had been published Four times in his paper. To say the least, this certainly looks a little suspicious.

Procrastination will steal time. Don't put off taking a look at Jacob Per's, new goods. Hughesville, Pa.

Lyon Lumber Co. Ahead. The Lyon Lumber Company of Hughesville, finished their drive on Muncy Creek Thursday of last week. The whole drive was gotten into the boom in less than a week's work, it being the shortest time ever taken on the same work. The company has been running its mill for the past three weeks, and they have logs enough on hand to keep the mill running constantly during the entire season. This looks like excellent business management on the part of Mr. Howard Lyon and others.

The popular verdict is that Jacob Per has the largest and finest stock of clothing ever shown in this section. Hughesville.

Income Tax Decision. The Supreme Court has rendered a decision upon the income tax law. A portion of the act is declared unconstitutional. The court was unanimous in declaring the taxation of incomes from state and municipal bonds unconstitutional. Upon the question of taxation of rents from real estate, only two of the judges (Harlan and White, one republican and one democrat) decided that it was constitutional while the other six declared it unconstitutional. Upon all other questions the court equally divided and hence the law in those particulars stands. For the law, Justices Harlan, Brewer, Brown and White; against it, Chief Justice Fuller and Justices Field, Gray and Shiras. This decision will reduce the probable income of the government from this quarter at least $15,000,000.
