The Great Destroyer.

The Wilson law is not a Protec tive law. It is not a Free Trade law though it looks more toward Free Trade principals than any other. It is not a Revenue Tariff law. It is simply a nondescript, made up of deals and compromises and open notably the Sugar combine and the Standard Oil. It has not given work to one single American toiler in a single American industry, but has lowered it throughout the country. It has not opened a foreign market for a barrel of American pork or bushel of wheat or a erable portion of the foreign markets already possessed by Americans. It has not brought a dollar of money into the country, but has sent mil-

Some one figures that a tax of sixteen cents a barrel would increase the revenue at least $800,000.

Then and Now.

Under a consistent system of Protection the revenue was sufficient for public needs, our workshops were thronged with well paid wage bribery. Its protective features are earners, and in our foreigh dealings chiefly for the benefit of the trusts we sold more goods than we bought. Under the present anti-protective law, general business and industrial prostraction has prevailed, the revebut has robbed thousands of them nue has fallen far below necessary of the employment they had. It expenditures, and the government's has not raised the standard of wages income climbs up towards its out go only as a result of larger imports, smaller exports, and a turning of the gave bail in the sum of one thoustrade balance against us.

This means depression in our manufacturing enterprises and disdollar's worth of manufactured comfort for workingmen who have goods, but has destroyed a consid- been thrown out of employment or had their wages cut down. It means that under the new Tariff we have not only failed to capture the "markets of the world," but have actually suffered losses in that direction, as well as surrendered parts of our great home market. "Had Mr. Smith been a man of the cleanest reputation, of the highest character, and stainless in all his records as public official and citizen, a fair-minded court and jury upon a fair trial, with no semblance of truth in the libel complained of, might have allowed a verdict of five or ten thousand dollars.
