Call for State Convention.
TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA:

I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State Convention at Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday, August 28, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the following purposes, to wit:

For the nomination of one Candidate for State Treasurer, six candidates for Judges of the Superior Court, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

I hereby call attention to the following rules declared to be permanent rules of the Republican Party in the State of Pennsylvania at the State Convention held May 23, 1894, as follows:

"That the delegates to the State Convention shall be chosen in the manner in which Candidates for the General Assembly are nominated."

"That representation in State Conventions shall be based upon the vote cast at the Presidential or gubernatorial election immediately preceding, one Delegate being allotted to each Legislative District for every two thousand Republican votes, and an additional Delegate for a fraction exceeding one thousand votes, each district to have at least one Delegate."

By order of the Republican State Committee.

B. F. GILKESON, Chairman.
Attest: JERE B. REX.

A. D. FETTEROLE, Secretaries.

Is it Ingratitude to Mr. Quay.

Judging from the amount of matter printed on the subject one would suppose that Mr. Quay was the creator of all the prominent men in the Republican party in Pennsylvania. His friends talk of everybody who is inclined to favor the Governor and Mr. Gilkeson in the factional fight, as ungrateful to the man who made them all that they are.

We may be a little backward in political matters, or may not be sufficiently informed about the workings of political machinery, which may account for our belief that instead of Mr. Quay making so many smart and prominent men they really made him.

It is fair to assume, and history will bear out the assertion, that men are not made by man. They are born, and instead of Mr. Quay making them he merely discovered certain ones who possessed the ability to assist him in his leadership and whatever compensation a comparative few received through his position in the way of patronage, was well earned by services in his behalf rendered. Because they have for many years performed services, of which he was the chief beneficiary, is no reason why they should be expected to continue to do so when other conditions and circumstances present themselves, as we find them in the present issue. Mr. Quay as an acknowledged leader, could easily command the services and assistance of the party workers when the best interests of the party were at stake but when only personal supremacy, without any redeeming features involved it is altogether another matter and the old man will discover that he recoiled without his host.

Mr. Quay was elected to represent Pennsylvania in the United States Senate and if he faithfully performs his duties there it is all that his constituents expect of him, but when he neglects his high office in the Congress of the nation to come back and undertake to direct legislation in the State it is more than the people will stand.

Judge Woodward of Wilkesbarre, has received his commission to serve on the judgeship contest commission.

A six-year old girl in Williamsport who was accustomed to walk in her sleep, crawled out of a third story window the other night and fell 30 feet to the ground. With the exception of a few slight bruises the little one was uninjured.

President Cleveland came into office in March, 1893, with a cash balance in the Treasury of $194,123,088, and the interest bearing debt was $585,000,000. By borrowing $117,000,000 by the two issues of 5 per cent. bonds and $62,500,000 on 4 per cent. bonds, the government has raised its interest bearing debt to about $747,000,000, and by refusing to pay debts overdue has raised its cash balance to $193,826,592. But all these operations do not serve to hide the fact that the change in the revenue system, to which the party in power sacrifices everything else, has left the government without revenue enough to meet its necessary expenses. It is so often said that the Republican administration left the government in difficulty, notwithstanding the actual cash balance on hand, as above stated, that it may be well to recur to the fact that the actual revenue fell only $5,000,000 below the expenditures for the eight months of the fiscal year preceding the inauguration of President Cleveland. Under the old laws there had been for years no difficulty, and would have been none had those laws remained in force without the threat of a change of policy.

Judge and Mrs. Sittler of Tunkhannock have returned from their western trip as far as Owassa Lake, near Auburn, N. Y., where they are rustivating at the Judge's old home.

Frank Middendorf of Cherry, while attempting to board a moving L. V. freight train at Satterfield on Thursday last, was thrown to the ground, his head striking the step of the car, fracturing his skull quite seriously; his foot was also run over by the train and it is rumored that the injured member will have to be amputated. Other than this, his friends have hopes of his recovery.

Interesting to Tax Collectors.

Among the laws passed at the recent session is an act for divesting the line of taxes assessed against real estate sold at sheriff's and other judicial sales. The preamble to this act sets forth that many persons have bought real estate at judicial sales, and afterwards been required to pay taxes levied on the property before such sales took place, imposing great hardships on purchasers, and uncertainty has arisen whether sheriffs or other officers making the sales should pay the taxes out of the proceeds in their hands. The new law provides that the lien of all taxes now levied, against any real estate shall be divested by a judicial sale, if the amount realized shall be sufficient to pay such taxes. All officers having taxes to collect against any land advertised to be sold, and all commissioners, before taxes have been certified for collection, must notify the sheriff of the amount of taxes against such property, and the sheriff must pay these taxes out of the proceeds of sale, provided, as above mentioned, there is enough money in his hands for the purpose.

Teachers' Normal Institute.
The Teachers' Normal Institute will be held at Sonestown, commencing Monday, August 12, at 1:30 p. m. and will continue in session one month.

The following books will be used: Brooks' Methods of Teaching; White's School Management; Robinson's Complete Arithmetic; Robinson's Intellectual Arithmetic; Barnes's History; Kearl's and Reed and Kellogg's Grammar; Swinton and Butler's Geography; Steele's Physiology; Swinton's Fifth Reader. Singing-books—"Wreath of Gems," and "School Room Echoes."

Teachers holding provisional certificates and those who expect to teach for the first time during the coming school term are expected to attend. Please do not delay coming until the second week, but be present and ready for work at the first session.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rightmire got a spear of grass in her throat where it lodged in such a peculiar manner that the child had to be taken to Canton to have it removed.

Allen Rightmire and Martin Wilcox were in Dushore last week, and attended the horse sale. They invested in a good looking piece of horseflesh, but one would hardly dare stroke the wrong way with a curycomb.

An old resident of this section, a Quaker, recently paid a well deserved rebuke to a young man in a rather peculiar manner. The young man had agreed to cut some hay for the Quaker on shares. He cut enough to make several fair sized hay cocks, then quit and came around on Sunday for his share of the hay. In the Quaker's absence while at meeting he made off with some of the hay cocks. The next morning the Quaker loaded up the other hay cock, hauled it to the young man's place and left it, remarking to the young man's wife: "Thee tell thy husband that I brought him the other hay cock. He went to so much pains to get the others that I thought it a shame he should lose this." What the young man thinks deponent sayeth not.
