The contest court and the Democratic convention will convene in Laporte, on Tuesday, August 6th.

When fixing the legal weight of a ton of coal the legislature utterly forgot to fix the weight of the driver.

Beer is the great issue in New York just now and it advocates froth at the mouth every day but Sunday.

Going away thin to the seaside or country and coming back fat isn't always the rule. Look at the pocket book.

D. J. Sheehan of Laporte, who has been engaged in New York city, for the past few months, is home on a visit.

Democrats and Republicans will do well not to promise their vote until both tickets are placed in nomination.

The graded school building on Thorne street, is being repainted. James Wood and son of Towanda are doing the work.

Wages are being advanced because the fact is recognized that the next administration is to be a bond paying instead of a bond-issuing one.

Attys. DeWitt and Jordan, were registered at the Laporte Hotel, Monday. They were here on business to the contest case.

Statement of capita money in 1894 was $22.96.

In 1894 the per capita was $24.30.

Until his wife has done with him no one need expect Pugilist Corbett to accept a challenge from any other source. She is asking for a divorce, you know.

It is manifestly true, as Col. Waterson says, that the Democratic party needs new leaders; and it is also badly in want of men to do the following.

Base ball this Friday. Some say the game will be a repetition of the one partly played last Saturday. Others say the married men will hang it on to the boys.

People who think newspapers are printed for fun and ought to chant their praises without thanks or appreciation, are promising candidates for an insane asylum.

Thus far, this year, the steamboat on Lake Mokoma has been a dead letter. It has only been fired up a half dozen times this season. With a genial good fellow at the helm, it would pay.

Thos. Converse and family, of Pennsdale and formerly of Sullivan county, spent Sunday with M. L. King and family, of Davidson. They are in company with Mr. King, made Eagles Mere a visit on Monday.

West Meylert street has been neglected by our borough officials. Owing to the condition of the road, it is almost impossible to drive a buggy over it. With this made good and shade trees transplanted, Meylert street would be one of the prettiest in town. Our town council should take notice.

This is fall like weather.

FOR SALE, cheap; second hand wood stove. New Grade. Burns 22 inch wood. Inquire at this office.

The Lake Mokoma campers of Williamsport and Hughesville, took a drive over to the 'Mere, Wednesday. There are eight or ten young people in the party and they are evidently having a good time.

M. C. Miller has leased the Ringdale Hotel and will take possession of the same at September term of court, when the license will be transferred. At present he is doing the clerking for Mr. Ring.

The attorneys for Judge Dunham in the contest case, are making every effort to have the cost of the contest place on the petitioners who caused the inauguration of the proceedings. They are leaving no stone unturned in this direction.

R. V. Rogers of Forksville, has been admitted to the practice of law at the Lycoming county bar. Mr. Rogers read Blackstone with Atty. Crawford of Hughesville and will no doubt make a good advisor of the law. The REPUBLICAN wishes him lots of success.

The grass in Mountain Ash cemetery should be cut. In fact, our cemetery committee should engage the services of a man to look after the city of the dead and keep the lot in repair. George Cooley would fill the bill and we understand is seeking the position.

The son of Senator Baker, of Kansas, has left the practice of law "because," he says, "one cannot be a gentleman and a lawyer at the same time." That depends on the one, Mary E. Lease can't.

The Governor recently signed a bill which makes it unnecessary hereafter to have the approval of a grand jury to incorporate boroughs. The business is now placed wholly in the hands of the judges. A majority of our Sonestown friends will take kindly to this new law.

Hon. Russel Karns of Laporte, has purchased a two seated covered carriage. He purchased it in Williamsport, and it is a dandy. Russ., with his new carriage and his match team of blacks, drives the finest all around town out in town.

The game of base ball between the married men and unmarried men of Laporte, on Saturday last, was called owing to rain, by umpire Mr. Roy Lauer, at the close of the fourth inning. Score 2 to 1 in favor of the latter.

With first class men on the Republican local ticket there will be a strong disposition on the part of the people to give them their support.

The sins of the Democracy can no longer be condoned, and a political revolution will be the natural result of this state of feeling. And in order to strengthen and increase this sentiment, it behooves the Republicans to select and nominate the very best men in the field.

For Sale.

A good driving horse, weight about 950, six years old, kind and gentle, for lady to drive. Color, black. Write—A. E. CAMPBELL, Shunk Pa.

Under the law passed by the legislature and approved by the Governor, the pay of judges and inspectors of elections will be hereafter $3.50, and of clerk $3, without regard to how long they are engaged in holding the election and making up the returns. Under the operation of the law there no longer will be any incentive for the election officers to stretch the work across the midnight line and thus make two days of it.

Mackerel, lake herring, and meat at Bodine & Warn's, Sonestown Pa.

Twenty-four wild western horses were sold at public sale in Dushore on Friday last. Hon. Russel Karns of Laporte, purchased one, and Jas. Miller of Muncy Valley purchased two. One of the number purchased by Mr. Miller was thrown near Dushore, while being brought home, and was so badly hurt about the neck that it was considered valueless by him, and he presented it to a friend. The one purchased by Mr. Karns is of a gentle disposition and was driven about town on Sunday.

T. J. Keeler can fit you out with Boys, Youths and Mens ready made clothing at bottom prices.

Watermelons, Cantelopes and lots of fruits at B. & W. Sonestown.

Bills were printed at this office last week announcing the grand excursion to Shawanese Lake, on August 15th. Fr. Enright has charge of the excursion, and nothing will be left undone that will tend to increase the pleasures of the day. Two bands of music has been engaged for the occasion and Luf's orchestra of Wilkesbarre will furnish dancing music. A grand good time is anticipated and will be realized by those who take part in the doings of the day. Everybody is invited.

Ladies, have you seen the new dress goods at T. J. Keeler's. He can astonish you, both in quality and price.

Public Sale of Horses and Mules.

On Thursday, August 15th, at 10 a. m., sharp, on farm near Sonestown, I will offer at public sale, a lot of horses and mules, also thrashing machine, tread power, wagons, harness, camp supplies, road wagon, several thousand feet hemlock logs, on farm of Jos. Bradley, a lot of "Bluine," a big lot of household goods. Don't miss this sale, as property to the value of SEVERAL HUNDRED DOLLARS will positively be sold to the highest bidder. Eloping Couple Were Caught.

An eloping couple who took train 83 yesterday morning for that free and easy state where marriage licenses are not required, came to grief before the nuptial knot could be tied. The lady in the case was Cora Thrasher from Evergreen, and the man was Oren Bennett of Monroeton. He had been married before and his wife is now living at Monroeton—and is said to have obtained a divorce.

The father of the young lady, who does not take kindly to the one who proposed to play the part of son-in-law, got on to the plans of the couple and followed them. All three went to Waverly on the same train, and the father brought the girl back on train 4, and back to her home on the Bernice branch train last evening. Bennett remained faithful, but gave up when father and daughter were on the train for New Albany.

The young lady appeared to be very much aggrieved at the turn of affairs, and wept bitterly. Mr. Thrasher said his daughter was but seventeen years old.—Towanda Review.

Is this our Oren Bennett, who formerly worked in Ballard's blacksmith shop?

Record of the First White Men On the North and West Branch of the Susquehanna.

By WM. MEYLERT.

When the French traders first visited the Susquehanna, the Aborigines were known as the Andastes. This tribe is identical with those first known and mentioned by the English as Susquehannocks. Their villages extended along the river from Tioga to Virginia, and mention is made of them in our last paper as disappearing as early as 1675. From this time the Iroqui nation, although not occupying the Susquehanna country held it in subjection and exacted tribute from the tribes they permitted to occupy it. This nation had a strong and well organized government with its headquarters at Onandaga. It consisted of a league of five tribes the representatives of whom formed the Grand Council, which determined all great national questions and appointed chieftons to hold in subjection the provinces they had acquired. The Grand Council consisted of 50 Sachams proportioned as follows: Mohawks, 9; Onidas, 9; Onondagas, 14; Cayugas, 10; Senecas, 8. In 1712 another nation known as the Tucororas was added to the confederation but had no voice in the Grand Council after which the confederacy was known as the Six Nations. The above will correct an error made in the last paper as to the Iroquois forming a confederacy with 5 other nations. The name being applied to the united nations.

The Indians that were found near the borders of our county with pathway passing through it on the arrival of the Moravian missionaries were of the Delaware Nation, they were first known as the occupants of the country on the head waters of Delaware and extending through New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania. They consisted of three tribes, known to the English as the Turtles, on the south; Tunkies, in centre, and Wolves on the north. The latter tribe being identical with those known Misis and generally called by the English, Monseys. These people had their villages at different points along the West Branch and also settled to a considerable extent along the North Branch.

In addition to the Delawares the Iroquois allowed other tribes to occupy assigned sections of country on the Susquehanna among whom were Nanticokes and Shawanese.

In 1744 or '45 Rev. David Zeisberger, a very distinguished Moravian missionary, came to reside in Pennsylvania. He had previously filled an important place as missionary to the Creek Indians in Georgia, being a man of superior educational advantages he took up the study of Indian languages and prepared books both in German and English that greatly assisted others to successfully carry on the Indian missionary work. He was first mentioned in this vicinity as journeying up the North Branch in company with Conrad Wieser, Andrew Montour and a Cayuga Sachene who held the position as the Iroquois viceroy at Shamokin, they in company with others were on their way to Onondaga, to intercede with the head government to adopt peaceful measures with the Catawabes and Shawanese and to obtain permission for the settlement of christian Indians at Wyoming. They passed Wyalusing on the 11th of June, 1745. From this date until the removal of the christian Indians in 1773 Zeisberger was constantly laboring for the good of the Indians on the North and West Branches. The Moravian brethren with their headquarters at Bethlehem had established mission stations at different points along the Susquehanna.

A Colony of christian Indians who from persecution had been compelled to abandon their homes in Eastern New York, were found a place, to settle by the brethren, at a point above the water gap of the Lehigh 18 miles above Bethlehem and 40 miles south-east of Wyoming formed here a flourishing settlement known as "Huts of Mercy," near this place was Fort Allen on, the south-west was established, at now, Sunbury, Fort Augusta. These in connection with Wyoming became places where Zeisberger and his co-laborers successfully accomplished their christianizing work. By teaching the Indians improved modes of agriculture their lands were made to produce bountifully and their wants were otherwise easily supplied by an honest exchange of the skins of animals taken in their hunting expeditions.

From the published reports of this period we find that in 1747 the remnant of a tribe driven from Florida by the Spaniards, known as Tulecoes, had settled at a town called Skogari in what is now Columbia county.

In 1748 occurred the famine and prevalence of small-pox on the West Branch, the village of Ostonwaken at the mouth of the Loyalsock creek became that year depopulated. Zeisberger while at Fort Augusta learning of their destruction, went in company with Maek, also a missionary to visit them, extending their journey as far up the river as Great Island, near Lock Haven, arriving at that point on the 12th of July. The suffering of the people were terrible and doubtless from what is known of these missionaries every thing was done, on their return, that could be to send to them relief.

A New Secret Order.

A new secret order is to be established to cover the United States and to be known as the American league. Hamilton, Ohio, will be headquarters and the chief of the order, who will be a Hamilton man, will be known as the supreme commander. The heads of the order in the different States will be known as grand commanders. The league will be an intensely patriotic order, embracing the objects of all the various patriotic orders. Fifty citizens of that city have been forming the charter list of the first lodge of the new order. The ritual has already been compiled and a constitution is about to be adopted. The men behind it are prominent in the Junior Order United American Mechanics and some are members of the A. P. A.

His Pension Reduced.

"Jack" O'Boyle of this place, a surviving member of the crew of the United States man-of-war Kearsarge, which fought and sunk the Alabama in 1864, has been notified by the Pension department of a reduction of his pension of $12 per month to $8. A shame, indeed.—Towanda Reporter Journal.
