

THE REPUBLICAN.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1895.

The N. Y. Weekly Press and Sullivan Republican for $1.25 One Year $12.50.

October 4th, 1895. The cold wave is here.

The chestnut crop is said to be large.

The next legal holiday will be Thanksgiving.

For comfort, a fire in the sitting room stove was necessary, Sunday.

Dr. Waddell of Dushore has a card in this issue of the REPUBLICAN.

A number of our people are in attendance at the Forksville fair, this week.

Election day will soon be here. Have you made a choice of the several candidates?

Dr. Voorhees is having splendid success and our people speak of him as being an able doctor.

Morgan Gavit, the Democratic nominee for Prothonotary, is giving his entire time to the campaign.

Farmers are consulting the price of wheat, and when they see the figures they speak ill of the Democratic party.

Towanda is to have a new court house and trolley cars, and the people of the Bradford county metropolis, are happy.

The 53th Regiment pride themselves of the fact that they never were driven off the battle field by any number of the enemy.

Everybody expects to attend the Dushore races, Oct. 15, 16 and 17th. A dozen or more trotting horses from a distance, will be there.

It is a melancholy fact that the mortality rate among the Grand Army veterans has, during the past year, increased from .993 to 2.06 per cent.

A good Democrat told us on Wednesday of last week that he was for the People's ticket and would render his assistance for its success in November.

Illegal use of money in the Democratic party, as shown up by the recent contest, will refrain any good thinking person from voting that ticket in the future.

Miss Lottie Miller and Harry Karns of Laporte, who are attending school in Towanda, spent Friday and Saturday of last week with friends in town.

That our efforts to give the people a good, live newspaper is appreciated, is evidenced by our continued growing subscription list. Read the REPUBLICAN.

The several new buildings under construction in Laporte, are progressing at a rapid rate. Contractor Tripp is superintending the construction of all of them.

Nearly every piece of sidewalk in town is more or less out of repair. These should be made good before snow comes. Our Town Council should make an order to this effect.

W. J. Lawrence the people's candidate for Prothonotary, is more than competent to fill the office to which he aspires and the people will make no mistake in electing him.

Lopez will continue a lively town this winter. The only enterprise in motion, however, will be the Jennings Bros. mill. They give employment to three or four hundred men.

Mrs. Cora Stormont of Laporte, left for Williamsport, Monday where she goes to learn the millinery trade with Geo. P. Neal & Co., who have one of the largest millinery stores in the Lumber city.

Farmer Fawcett the people's candidate for Sheriff, is gaining in strength each day and his election is almost assured. Hank would make a good Sheriff. Costs due will be paid promptly.

The best lambs are selling in the best part of Kentucky's farming country for 1 1/2 cents a pound. It is the tariff and not the silver question that fixes the price of the lambs that the farmer has to sell.

The Hughesville fair other than the horse racing, was not very attractive. The exhibits were limited. The Hughesville cornet band furnished music for the occasion and they played exceedingly well.

Farmer, show your appreciation of a farmer candidate and vote for Fawcett, this fall. He is a hard worker and a good farmer and why wouldn't he make a good Sheriff? Remember him at the polls, will you?

Foreign wool is being dumped into this country by the ship load, while in the state of Ohio alone one million wool growing sheep have been sold to the butcher. Is it hard to tell how the sheep raisers will vote?

Previous to the election for Congress in 1894 there was no revival of business. After the verdict there was rejoicing, and the vast armies of unemployed began to find work under the influence of restored confidence.

"Farmers, vote the Democratic ticket and get a dollar a bushel for your wheat!" That is what Democratic leaders said to the farmers during the campaign of 1892. Farmers, how near have you succeeded in getting to the dollar mark?

Miss Mabel Spencer of Laporte, left for Williamsport, Monday, where she has secured a position in Jones' millinery store. Miss Mabel learned her trade in Mr. Jones' establishment and her talent is sought by him.

Cleveland's administration has added $162,000,000 to the bonded debt, and it may have to increase the sum $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. This shows that Democracy has proved a costly experiment to the people of this country.

A pheasant flew against and broke one of the Laporte Hotel window panes Monday morning. The bird was captured and is now on exhibition at that stand. Landlord Kessler was considerably excited over its sudden appearance.

The REPUBLICAN was breezy and full of life last week. One letter of congratulation received by us stated that it gave more news than both of our contemporaries. There is no question about it, the REPUBLICAN gives more news than either of the Dushore papers. Subscribe.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company is equipping its Bellevue mines with a miniature trolley plant, and if electricity proves a good and practical substitute for the mule and his driver, the other mines of the company will be similarly equipped.

The Democratic majority in Sullivan county last fall, on the State ticket, was only 55 votes, and we polled the largest vote in the history of the county, hence it cannot be truthfully said that the vote was not out. Only a few years ago the Democratic majority in Sullivan Co. was from three to seven hundred. These facts speak louder than words for the success of the people's ticket this fall.

The seventy-fifth annual convention of the Northumberland Baptist Association, which comprises the counties of Northumberland, Lycoming, Clinton, Sullivan, Columbia, Montour and Union, convened at the Baptist church in Jersey Shore at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning of last week. T. J. Keeler of Laporte, and Wallace Little of Eagles Mere, were in attendance as delegates from this district.

The illegal use of money in the Sullivan county Democratic party, is not hearsay, but is a fact, as the court hearing the judicial contest has divulged. Democrats instituted the call for a contest. If they were sincere in these proceedings, how can they conscientiously vote that ticket this fall? It is hoped that the end of the contest will be reached before election. If so, and Dunham's majority is increased, the people will only have to guess once to know the corrupt party of the county.

FOR U. S. ATTORNEY.

"It was said yesterday that a change was not far distant in the United States District Attorney's office in this city. District Attorney Ingham has but a short time of his term to serve, and it is not expected that he will be allowed to remain long in office afterward. There have from time to time been a number of candidates for the place, and President Cleveland has been repeatedly asked to appoint some one in Mr. Ingham's place, but he stated each time that Mr. Ingham would be allowed to serve out his term. Now that his successor is about to be appointed it is stated upon excellent authority that a number of Democratic politicians have urged the appointment of Superior Court Justice McCarthy. It is believed that not only is Chairman Harry in favor of Justice McCarthy's appointment, but also the leaders of the County Democracy."—Phila. Press, Sept. 30.

The words of President Cleveland in the above article, is surely very flattering to Mr. Ingham and is evident that he has performed the duties of his appointment well.

IMPALED ON A FENCE.

Terrible Accident to a Hughesville Boy.

A terrible accident occurred in Hughesville about one o'clock Monday afternoon which cast a gloom over the entire borough, the manner in which a young boy met his death being so peculiar. About that hour Walter Kelley, aged about twelve years, son of Jeremiah Kelley, the hardware merchant, was playing about the school yard and in pursuit of sport he climbed upon the iron picket fence in front of the school grounds. The fence is about five feet high and the length of the pickets very, every other one being higher, the points of which are sharp.

Suddenly Walter fell and was impaled upon one of the pickets, the sharp point penetrating the fleshy part of his leg and severed an artery. He bled very freely and had lost a large amount of blood before he was released from his painful position. He was taken to his home where Drs. Metzger and Kiess worked with him faithfully, but an artery had been severed and within two hours after the accident he was dead.

Go to Bodine & Warn Sonestown Pa. for all kinds of general merchandise.

HE IS A STALWART.

Hartford, Vt., Sept. 29. Politics has caused a serious disturbance in the Second Puritan Society here. A year ago a committee representing the society, in accordance with the Congressional custom, advertised for a pastor who should be young, an American, a graduate of Andover Theological Seminary, married, interested in young people and a Republican. The Rev. Herbert W. Boyd, then pastor of the South Congregational Church, Amherst, Mass., offered himself as a candidate, who met nearly all of the requirements, and was accepted. His call was dated Oct. 25.

When Mr. Ephraim Morris, a woolen manufacturer, who is a wealthy and prominent member of the society flock, asked Mr. Boyd if he had voted for Grover Cleveland and was told that he did, he said he would not contribute to the pastor's support. Mr. Morris, his brother, partner and son-in-law have refused to contribute anything toward Mr. Boyd's salary and these three have usually paid about one-third of the amount raised by the church society. Mr. Boyd says he is not a party man, but votes, when he votes at all for the candidates and the principles he believes in. Mr. Ephraim Morris was suffering from a severe cold today and could not talk, but a member of his family, speaking in his place, said he believed that Mr. Boyd being a Democrat, was not fit to be pastor of the church. The country was being ruined by the Democratic administration to such an extent that one of his mills would be shut down to-night and 100 men would be thrown out of employment. He would not give one cent for the support of any Democrat.

Mr. Morris carried his opposition to Democrats not only into religion but into love affairs. His daughter Annie was engaged to Edward B. Frost, assistant instructor in astronomy at Dtmouth College. In discussing the Rev. Mr. Boyd's position Mr. Morris learned for the first time that his prospective son-in-law was a Democrat and straight-way broke off the engagement.

How it Feels to Die.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 21.—Miss Abigail Dodge is slowly convalescing at her home in Hamilton, Mass., and while she receives no visitors at all, she has written an article entitled, "In the Valley of the Shadow of Death." It deals with the thoughts, impressions and feelings of those who are "passing over the river."

In the paper Miss Dodge says that she was taken ill last spring while locked in a room in the Blaine mansion in Washington. She felt that she was failing and realized that something very serious had seized her. Her most intense feeling was the shock that her friends would receive when they broke open the door and found her dead upon the floor.

She realized the situation when her friends found her, and could not say as they spoke about her, although apparently she was unconscious.

Then came a long blank, that lasted how long she knew not. At times she would partially recover consciousness and wonder whether she was dead or not. Her brothers, Stanwood and Brown Dodge, both of whom are dead, one of them dying less than a year ago, appeared to her and conversed with naturalness. She sometimes felt that she would like to speak and inquire if she were really in the other world, but found it impossible to articulate syllables.

Regimental Reunion Fifty-eighth Pa. Volunteers at Laporte Pa.

The eighth annual reunion of the Memorial Association of the Fifty-eighth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers was held at Laporte on Monday. The meeting was well attended and was one of the most successful in the history of the association, the membership of which is as follows:

- CAMP FIRE.
The evening exercises proved very entertaining. The speaking was informal and the veterans seemed to be in speaking mood. The accounts of their experiences in camp, on the march, and in the field brought up many old scenes of soldier life enacted during the dark days of the war. Among the soldiers present who responded with speeches were Col. McKown, Rev. S. D. Frazier, A. H. Baumgardner, Capt. Rogers and Pres. Hested. Judge Dunham and Supt. Meylert were also called upon and responded briefly. The "boys" had many experiences to relate, some were humorous; some pathetic. Lack of space prevents our giving a report of the individual speeches but they were all highly amusing, entertaining and instructive. What Pres. Hested said concerning the wrong that was done Major Metcalf by any reflections upon him as a soldier or an officer may interest our readers. H. E. Metcalf lived in Laporte at the outbreak of the war, and enlisted from here. He was afterward promoted to the rank of Major. Through the jealousy and envy of Capt. Wynne who wanted to be major himself, the charge of incompetency was trumped up against Maj. Metcalf. He was court-martialed and although the charges were not sustained the effect of the investigation was to bring a certain degree of discredit to Major Metcalf, among those not familiar with the circumstances. The members of the regiment heartily endorsed what Pres. Hested said of the merits of Major Metcalf as a loyal soldier and a brave and skillful officer.
- The re-union was characterized by the best of feeling throughout and the soldiers departed for their homes well pleased with the renewal of old friendships that had been brought about and firmly resolved to be among the number who will meet at New Albany one year hence.
- LINCOLN SAVED HIM.
Hagerstown, Sept. 29. John J. Thomas, who died at Hancock this county, on Thursday night Sept. 26, from paralysis, was a member of the famous Maryland Legislature that voted against secession. While Mr. Thomas was returning from session at Annapolis to his home he was intercepted near Clear Spring, Md., by Stuarts Brigade and sent to Libby Prison, where he was confined for six months. His release with that of many others was effected through his wife, who, with Governor Hicks, first went before Secretary Stanton, who courteously told her that no exchange could be made for citizen prisoners.
- They then had an audience with President Lincoln, who heard Mrs. Thomas' story, treating her in a most cordial manner. He was surprised to learn that the exchanging of prisoners had not been going on, and tearing a blank leaf out of a memorandum book, wrote: "I command an exchange of citizen prisoners." Secretary Stanton was much abashed when Mrs. Thomas and Governor Hicks appeared before him with the order, but it was not long before Mr. Thomas and 300 other prisoners were released from Libby.
- Although Mr. Thomas was a Southerner and an inheritor of slaves he was a strong Union man. His family would have freed their slaves previous to the emancipation, but the latter were unable to care for themselves, and did not wish their liberties. Mr. Thomas held positions of trust under the Government and was extensively known through Md. Six children survive him.

and courtesy and Pres. Hested was escorted to the chair by Capt. Rogers and Col. McKown. The newly elected president thanked the association for the honor conferred and after the appointment of a committee to solicit funds for the erection of a monument in memory of J. Richter Jones, Colonel of the regiment, who fell in battle, the association adjourned to meet at 7:30.
