The REPUBLICAN and New York | Since the recent election, a worker Weekly Tribune, $1.25 for one year. in the Republican ranks, has taken the time and trouble to look up the stay at home Republican vote in Sullivan county and on Saturday last this count reached 98 with several of the Eastern precincts to hear from. Among this list is Lopez and the supposition is that this district alone will increase the number near Nordmont, on December 3d, to 150. The democratic vote was out almost to a man. 'Tis true. however, that the independent Democratic and Republican voters cast their ballots, so far as our county ticket was concerned, without reference to party principles, but this is so at all elections. The state ticket is the only basis, and had our vote N. Y., has accepted a call from the been gotten out, Mr. Haywood would have received a small majority for State Treasurer. Sullivan county is Laporte, and preach to the Laporte naturally Republican, and with our party vote out, will prove it beyond doubt. The Democrats are anxious p. m, and at Rock Run Sunday to attend the elections and are there annually. There is a very good reason for this. In each district in our county there are from one to six prospective Democratic candidates. These people to gain recognition in their party, must get out the vote in their respective precincts, hence the rank and file of the Democratic party are looked after by those who expect to profit thereby. While on the Republican side we are compelled to persuade men to take a place on our ticket, hence our workers are engaged, because they are true and firm believers of Rebublicanism and not with a view of profit. When we have proven to the voter that we have a majority of the votes in Sullivan county and stripped the Democrats of the only means they have of getting out their vote, a big change will follow. For instance, if we should carry Sullivan county by 50 or 100 votes at the '96 election our majority at the '97 election would reach 200 and we would continue to grow stronger annually. Let each one of us do what we can to further our success at the 1896 election. One hard fight and success achieved our future lot will be an easy one. The judicial contest court will meet in Laporte on Thursday, Dec. 12th. At this meeting the judges will announce the election of Hon E. M. Dunham as president judge of the forty-fourth judicial district and will designate who shall pay the costs of the contest. The attornies for the respondent will make a hard fight in behalf of the counties and argue that the petition ers shall meet this obligation. Should they be successful, it would be pretty hard on our old neighbors and acquaintances, while on the other hand it would seem unjust for a lot of innocent people to pay a bill contracted by these people.

It is expected that the court will each a decision on the above mentioned date and if the argument does not continue until late in the afternoon of Thursday, we hope to announce the same in our next issue. The present indications are that quite a number of the witnesses in the judicial contest will lose their pay through failure to file their claims in time for consideration at the next session of the judicial court. The only notification sent out is through the newspapers, and as in some of the back districts they have no use for such things, the chances of their knowing anything about the matter are slim. However, what they lose the district will gain, and it is not the first instance in which a man has lost more than the subscription price of a weekly paper by

SATURDAY'S HUNT A GRAND

Capt, Ballard and His Crew Wins By 155 Points. The grand hunt as announced in the REPUBLICAN last week, took place on Saturday. It was a large day and all was excitement. Everybody who could, joined the army and during the day the "bang" of guns were heard on either side and in quick succession. Old soldiers say of Sarah Hess against the Williamit reminded them of the army of the Potomac. The day was not favors able however, it was cold and the game laid low and was not on the

CHOOSING UP SIDES.

On Friday evening the Captains-Messrs, J. W. Ballard and A. J. Hackley and a large number of those who took part in the day's sport, met at the store of T. J. Keeler and made their selections and chose judges.

The sides and count were as fol-

30 John Beahen 95
20 Samuel Miller 105
Delroy Heim 00 J. W. Ballard Mark O'Rourke A. Buschhausen L. W. Gumble 920 Total, 765

THE JUDGES: Chas Landon, W. C. Mason, R. A. Conklin.

Mr. Ballard and his crew won by 155 points.

It is only fair to say, however, hat only one person, Mr. Voorhees, chosen on Mr. Ballard's side, failed o take part in the hunt, while four persons chosen by Mr. Hackley did not take part. They were T. J Keeler who was detained because of sickness in his family, F. H. Ingham same cause, W. M. Cheney was called to the sick bed of his mother at Eagles Mere, and Samuel Miller who is trackman on the W. & N. B. failed to get a furlough. These absentees, had they been present, night have added to the count of heir respective sides. This is supposition, however, and it was game the boys were after. Mr. Ballard and his sharp shooters won nicely and they now call themselves the boss shooters of the county.

It was suggested that because of the absentees the judges decide the contest to the side that made the est average. This the judges refused to do, and it was almost the universal opinion of those present that they did right. It was Capt. Hackley's misfortune that his men failed to join the party.

THE SUPPER. Supper was served at the Commercial Hotel and those present are loud in their praise of the excellent meal served.

A Nice Legal Question.

A question with a nice legal point was argued before Judge Metzger at Williamsport, Thursday morning on the application for a writ of habeas corpus to secure therelease from jail of John Smith, the man arrested or court under $1,000 bail.

Smith, it will be remembered, we a witness for the plaintiff in the cas sport & North Branch railroad, in which a verdict of $10,000 was re turned for the plaintiff. He swore that he was in the cab of the engine with the crew when the accident occurred, while the six men com- Thirty Days. prising the crew swore positively that Smith was not there, and a day or so after the verdict was given Smith was arrested for perjury as stated.

The ground taken by the attorneys are Smith in their application for a for Smith in their application for a writ of habeas corpus is that a witness in a case cannot be legally arrested and imprisoned on a charge of perjury until the case has been finally disposed of. After hearing argument on both sides, the court it is this fact and our extra Low Prices that makes decided for the present to reduce our present bargain offer the event of the season. the bail from $1,000 to 300, and stated that he would give the matter further consideration, the following order being made:

"And now, to-wit, November 21, 1895, after hearing argument of councel, and after due consideration it is ordered that John Smith, the prisoner, give bail with one or more sureties in the sum of $300, conditional for his appearance at next court of quarter sessions of the peace to answer the charge of perjury, and that he be remanded to the custody of the sheriff in the meantime. This order to be subjected to revocation at any time, if, upon further consideration, the court or judge should be of opinion that the prisoner was improperly arrested."

A death, a funeral and a wedding ecurred at Wilkes-Barre in one household within the space of three lays, Tuesday afternoon of last week Peter Frontz, a miner who lived in the suburb of that city and whose wife kept a boarding house was badly injured in the mine. He died the same night and his wife and three children the next day appeared in mourning. They received the sym pathy of the neighbors and the sym pathy of John Streng, one of the boarders, was noticeable. Thursday afternoon the funeral took place, the widow, the children and John Streng and several neighbors followed the oody to the grave. Thursday night the mother and John Streng told the children they were going out. In an hour they returned and the woman introduced Streng to the children as "your new papa."
