Teachers' Institute.

WEDNESDAY A. M.

Singing, "By and By" and "List to the Convent Bells."

Supt. Meylert announced that Prof. Berkey would occupy the next period, his subject being a "Course of Study for the Common Schools." He said Supt. Berkey would be able to speak from experience as he was the author of a system that he had used for a number of years in his own county.

Supt. Berkey—"Course of Study for Common Schools." 1. Grading secures system. 2. Unites the work. Without grading one teacher does not have any record of what has been done by his predecessor in any particular branch. 3. Unites the workers by prompting interest in teachers' meetings. 4. Encourages attendance. We need to put that in the schools which will encourage attendance and hold the older pupils in the school, just when they can do the most effective work. 5. Stimulates interest and improves the schools. Singing, "Ever Be Happy and Gay."

Prof. Bible—"Methods in Reading." He referred to his former talk on the study of nature and suggested the procuring of buds. The collection of reading material upon trees the gathering of frogs' eggs, the planting of gourds and beans. With reference to methods in reading, he said, teach some of the sounds of the letters in words, because they have no sound of their own; their sound being modified by the other letters. Teach consonants to young pupils in words. Pupils should be given the ability to consult the dictionary intelligently. Teachers should give the pronunciation of words sometimes as it saves time. Do not attempt to teach primary reading without the aid of a black-board. Teach the script as the transition from script to print is very easy. Singing, "Laugh of a Child." Roll call; 90 present.

Dr. Houck occupied the next period in talk on Arithmetic. He said he found that in the important matter of addition the pupils of our schools are deficient. Believed much in good black-boards. Thought a good slate black-board a good investment. Dispense sunshine in the school-room lavishly. Supt. Meylert made an announcement in regard to the evening lecture and also appointed the following committees: Com. on Resolutions—Chas. L. Lewis, Emma Hoffman, Jennie Vaughn. Auditing Com.—J. L. Hoagland, T. J. Gallagher, M. D. Sweeney.

WEDNESDAY P. M.

Singing, "Yankee Doodle." Roll call; 90 present.

Prof. Bible occupied the next period in a general talk to the teachers. He said principles had been lost sight of, in the past, in a wild scramble after facts. Thought it was foolish to keep a child on the combinations up to 3 for one year. Let the child go as fast as he can. Exhorted the teachers to read much and not be too fast to accept the new. Singing, "College Song."

Supt. Berkey—"Graded Work." Answered questions that had been handed in, also spoke of some of the obstacles to grading. The teacher while seeking outside co-operation, should have the courage of his convictions. Incompetent teachers and meddling citizens were mentioned as some of the obstacles. The aim of grading is to reduce the number of classes and secure system. Singing, "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Dr. Houck—"Arithmetic." Don't neglect the multiplication table. Teach them to say it forward and backwards. He ridiculed the idea that the pupil can't comprehend 9 times 8 without the use of straws or shoe pegs all the time. Thought nothing had been of so much good to pupils as the teaching of mental arithmetic.

Supt. Meylert made announcements in regard to the procuring of tickets to the lecture.

THURSDAY A. M.

Singing, "Praise to Thee."

Supt. Berkey—"School Discipline." Good teaching and good discipline are inseparable. The requisites of good discipline are: 1st. The physical comfort of the pupils, including the arrangements of things in the room, proper seating, heating of the school-room—avoiding extremes of heat and cold—and lastly, ventilation; secondly, system and management, including a good program, regulated seat work, providing pupils with something profitable to do, tactics in movement, short intervals between classes—when the individual needs of the pupils may be attended to—music, and individual recognition of the pupil anywhere and everywhere. Singing.

Dr. Houck said, in addressing the teachers, that attention to the points made by Prof. Berkey would go far toward making the teacher's work a success. Singing is a good opening exercise. The teacher should insist on order when the scripture is read and prayer is made. Teachers should not talk in unnatural tones in the school-room or give to pupils any hint as to the answer in asking a question. Go among the pupils and cheer them up and give help and encouragement.

Supt. Meylert made an announcement in regard to the Burrowe's memorial fund. Intermission. Singing.

Supt. Berkey—"School Discipline." The success of a teacher depends largely upon the manifestations of personal interest in the pupils. Strong will power, on the part of a teacher, is an element of success in school discipline. This power can be cultivated. The helpful agencies are parental co-operation support of directors, personal sympathy, natural punishments. Singing.

Dr. Houck gave personal recollections of Coburn, Burrowe and Higbee, and told the teachers they were to be given an opportunity of remembering an old pioneer educator, by contributing what they felt able to, toward the Burrowe's memorial fund.

THURSDAY P. M.

Singing, "Let's Be Happy."

Supt. Berkey in addressing the directors said he saw all the educational forces before him—directors, patrons and teachers—hence one value of institutes. He said, "our system of education is peculiarly adapted to local control. Schools may be what the people want them to be—rich fountains of knowledge and culture or indifferent workshops.

It is the spirit of the man and not his intelligence that makes a good director. It is only when directors and teachers co-operate that the most effective work is done. The meeting of directors and teachers in local institutes raises the educational sentiment in the community.

Singing, "Laugh of a Child." Roll call; 90 present.

Dr. Houck in addressing the directors said, under the new law, soldiers' children can go to any school they desire, but the directors from which they come must pay the tuition bill. If a child boards with a relative for the express purpose of going to school, and can afford to pay, the school board is justified in exacting pay. Thought the legitimate expenses of directors should be paid. He thought if more pay was connected with the office, incompetent men would get in. The requisites of good teaching were good school houses, put in good condition; good apparatus, as a matter of economy boards shall purchase slate black-boards, good salaries, good teachers. Boards could not afford to let a good teacher go.

Prof. Cogswell, much to the regret of the teachers, had to leave for home in the evening, but led the institute once more in singing and favored the teachers with a solo.

FRIDAY A. M.

The Auditing Committee made a report which was adopted.

Supt. Meylert made an announcement in regard to permanent certificates. Also suggested a form of monthly school report which, if adopted, would secure uniformity and show relative standing.

Roll call; all present except 3.

Dr. Houck in addressing the teachers for the last time, said this was the best institute he had ever attended in Sullivan county. Thought one of the good results of an institute was to give inspiration and good cheer. He urged the teachers to go back to their schools and do their work hopefully and cheerfully. The Dr. is a great favorite with the teachers of Sullivan county. The report of the Committee on resolutions was read and adopted. Thanks were tendered for the use of the decorations of the hall, to Supt. Meylert, for providing so good an institute and favored the adoption of a course of study for the common schools. Rev. Mr. Klingler was invited to speak, and made a few pleasant remarks.

Supt. Meylert urged the teachers in conclusion to work in the good things they had heard, gradually and to make original methods guided by the principles given by the instructors. Singing. Adjourned.
