DEED.—At New Era Bradford Co. on Sept. 30, 1898, Bernard Dunne, a former resident of this county. The funeral was held at the Catholic church, Dushore, on Sunday, Oct. 2, 1898, and was largely attended, the deceased being an aged, well known and respected citizen of this and the adjoining county. He originally settled in Elkland twp. and cleared up a farm there. After a visit to his native land he returned and embarked in business at Overton, and later moved to Dushore, where he was in business and resided until about 1875, since when he has resided with his son-in-law John Brennan. He has for the past several years made periodical visits to this town, and it was with sincere regret that his friends and acquaintances here learned of his death. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Mary Brennan, several grandchildren and numerous friends to mourn his loss.

Hills Grove.

Rev. F. E. Sponser has been holding revival meetings in the Church of Christ for the past two weeks.

F. S. Darby, traveling salesman for J. B. Coarg & Co., is spending his vacation at the Hills Grove House.

Richard Biddle is on the sick list.
Frank Back of Dushore was in town Friday last.

Bet you money on Dr. Christian being our next Representative.

We are pleased to note that the popular hostelry the Hills Grove House is still maintaining its record as one of the best hotels in Sullivan county. The proprietors, Wm. Neff & Son are men of excellent business ability and by fair dealing are building a good reputation. When visiting Hills Grove give them a call.

The fact that the intelligent voters of this town appreciate an honest, sober candidate will be shown by Mr. Osler's majority next November.

GLADSTONE'S READY WIT.

A Few Instances in Which He Downed the Opposition.

Mr. Gladstone was once the victim of a reporter's curious error, either in reporting or telegraphing, which was that where in a celebrated speech he declared, "We have burned our boats and destroyed our bridges," he must have been horrified to read, "We have burned our boats and destroyed our breeches." The noted phrase "Time is on our side" was rendered in one report as "Tim is on our side."

"We are very proud of our trees," said Mr. Gladstone once to a party of excursionists from Lancashire, "and are therefore getting anxious, as the beech has already shown symptoms of decay. We set great store by our trees." "Why, then," roared a Lancashire lad, "do you cut 'em down as you do?" "We cut down that we may improve. We remove rottenness that we may restore health by letting in air and light. As a good Liberal, you ought to understand that." Lancashire set up a roar of delight, and the discomforted interrogator came in for many a leer from his companions.

Mr. Gladstone dearly loved a joke, even at his own expense, and he possessed considerable mimetic powers.
He was once guilty of an amusing bull in a debate on the question of disestablishment. Dilating on the hold held on the affections of the people by the Church of England, he said: "When an Englishman wants to get married, to whom does he go? To the parish priest. When he wants his child baptized, to whom does he go? To the parish priest. When he wants to get buried, to whom does he go?" The House answered with a roar of laughter, in which Mr. Gladstone himself joined, adding, "As I was contrasting the English Church with the Irish, a bull is perhaps excusable."

On one occasion two gentlemen, invited as guests at a table where Mr.
Gladstone was expected, made a wager that they would start a conversation on a subject about which even Mr.
Gladstone would know nothing. To accomplish this end they read up an ancient magazine article on some unfamiliar subject connected with Chinese manufactures. When the favorable opportunity came the topic was started, and the two conspirators watched with amusement the growing interest in the subject which Mr. Gladstone's face betrayed. Finally he joined in the conversation, and their amusement was turned into gnashing of teeth—to speak figuratively—when Mr. Gladstone said, "Ah, gentlemen, I perceive you have been reading an article I wrote in the Magazine some thirty or forty years ago."

Electric Headlights for Locomotives.
Numerous experiments have been made with electric headlights for locomotives, and the advantages of this form of lamp seem to be generally conceded. In a system that has met with considerable success, a steam turbine is used to drive a dynamo, both engine and dynamo being mounted on the smoke-box, behind the lantern. The entire apparatus is 26 inches long, 18 inches high, and 18 inches wide. The steam is directed against the rim of a wheel which has five concentric buckets, upon which the steam must impinge before it passes into the exhaust chamber. The normal speed is 1,800 revolutions per minute, and about 1 horsepower is developed. The dynamo produces a current of 25 amperes at 40 volts pressure, which is supplied to incandescent lamps in the cab, as well as to the headlight, which consists of an arc light of about 4,000 candle power. This apparatus has been used on more than 200 locomotives, and is growing in popularity.

The First Crematory.
Cremation is more extensively practiced in Italy than in any other country. The first crematorium was established in Milan in 1876, and there are now fifty in operation in Italian territory.

The specie room on ocean steamships is usually sixteen feet long, ten feet wide, and eight feet high. It is formed of steel plates a quarter of an inch in thickness, with a steel door, which has a burglar-proof combination lock.

The Iowa State Board of Health has passed a regulation asking city governments to prohibit the riding of bicycles with drop handle-bars within their jurisdictions, on the ground that it is detrimental to the health of riders to assume that position.
