While the Dingley bill does not hinder our export trade it does work to discourage the importation of competing foreign goods. In consequence of this the imports for 1898 were the smallest for twenty years and showed a decrease of $107,673,121 over the imports of 1897.

That represents nearly a hundred and eight millions retained to promote business in this country, an average of about one-third of a million a day for the year. Who can tell how much more business was done and how many more hands were employed in this country on account of this $107,673,121? That amount of money is capable of doing a large amount of business, and there is no doubt that it did do a large amount of business. It has helped the prosperity of the nation and was a factor in the increase of all kinds of business in the United States last year.

The Dingley law does not keep out of the country goods the people do not manufacture and which the people do not need. This is shown by the fact that two-fifths of the total imports, or about $240,000,000 worth, came in free of duty.

The Republican policy is a wise policy. It opens American markets to foreign trade free for all necessary articles which do not compete with American manufactures. It preserves its own interests by taxing all other kinds of foreign goods.--Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin.

HOW TO PLEASE ENGLAND.

We are informed that "Tariff revision would be accepted by England as the one indisputable proof of the friendly sentiments of the United States." It is easy to divine the sort of "Tariff revision" England would regard as "indisputable proof of the friendly sentiments of the United States." Nothing short of a Tariff which would be virtually a Free-Trade measure would be acceptable to England. Our Anglomaniacs are aware of that fact and are quite willing to sacrifice Protection in the interest of a closer union with the country of their love. If their leadership prevails the Republican party will turn its back on the principles for which it so long battled and become simply a political organization to advance British interests in this country.

Let us hope that the party of Abraham Lincoln and of James G. Blaine will never sink so low as this. To-day the advocates of imperialism, and of a British alliance, are the enemies in its ranks whom it has most to fear. They are willing to sacrifice all the traditions of the party to carry out their plans, and it will not be at all surprising if in the near future they demand that the policy of Protection shall not stand in the way of these plans.--New York "Irish World"

SHOULD BE DISCOURAGED.

It is astonishing to see the amount of foreign advertising material especially in the line of enamel and lithograph signs, which are used throughout the country. American consumers can very easily put a stop to the use of foreign advertising matter by patronizing those who use that which is produced at home. As is well known, all signs usually carry an imprint showing the country where produced, and as the Administrative law of 1890 provides that it is necessary to show the country of production, our readers can assist in giving the protection intended by the law by withholding their patronage from those who use foreign advertising materials. The art of pictorial and ornamental advertising has reached in America a stage of development far beyond that of any other country. There is no need of patronizing foreigners on the ground of either quality or price. It is a practice which should be very generally discouraged.

SHOULD BUILD OUR OWN SHIPS.

Whether our registry laws stand or not, now, if the economic principle of cheapness is to govern our people in the purchase of new ships, they will come to our own shipbuilders, instead of going abroad. It will be all the more gratifying to our people as a whole to see American shipyards constructing the ships needed for the world's foreign commerce, and if something can now be done to induce our own people to invest in such ships, the development and expansion of American shipbuilding during the next generation will be on a par with our railroad construction during the last--Trenton (N. J.) Gazette.

A RAY OF INTELLIGENCE.

The cry for new manufacturing industries comes from all over the State. Except from taxation for ten years all who engage in manufacturing and the result will be most gratifying.--Little Rock (Ark.) Republican.

In other words, adopt and put in practice the principle of Protection to home labor and industry which the South has been so foolishly fighting for, these many years. There is in this resolve a ray of intelligence that gives promise of a bigger and broader light in the near future.

Reviewing the course of British trade for 1898 the London Economist says:

Our exports to foreign countries fell off by $3,551,000, and on this side of the account, also, it is the trade with the United States that is almost solely accountable. That country paid us only $14,400,000 for our products, as compared with $21,000,000 in the previous year. The biggest falling off was in the worsted and woolen goods, the value of these being about $2,200,000 less than in 1897. There were heavy decreases in other textiles, in tin plates, alkali and more or less in most of the articles separately classified.

They are taking these heavy decreases in trade quite philosophically over there. Believing them to be inevitable, our British brethren look with resignation upon the loss of $35,000,000 of sales to and the gain of a still larger amount in purchases from the United States. The only people who seem to be worrying about the matter are the American Free Traders, who cannot endure the thought of their own country constantly growing richer as the result of selling more than it buys.

WHY, INDEED?

It would seem from the tone of the Democratic papers now that there was a time when American manufacturers needed Protection. Circumstances forced the confession from them. Hear what one of them says:

"Manufacturers are expansionists. They want to expand American commerce. All of which would seem to indicate that they don't need Tariff Protection." The inference is that there was a time when the infant American manufacturers did need Protection just as American labor needs Protection now. Why did not these papers and that party advocate Protection then instead of opposing it with all their might?--Norwalk (Ohio) "Reflector."

IT IS ALREADY A FAILURE.

The decrease in exports from Great Britain last year is said to have so affected the whole manufacturing element that the idea of preferential Tariffs between the home country and all its dependencies, or some similar proposition, is likely to become a question of active domestic politics. This, of course is a Protective principle. If it should be adopted, the whole scheme of Free-Trade, to which Great Britain has been devoted for half a century, would be admitted to be a failure.--Buffalo "Express."

A few calamity journals still insist that it is all a mistake, and that the present condition is not prosperity. Commercial and industrial reports have no effect on these fellows. Conditions may change, but their tale of woe will be the same, and go on forever.--Springfield (S. D.) Times.

By the way! Has anybody lately found Tariff for Revenue Only. The animal has been lost and a reasonable reward will be paid for his return to the office of the Catskill "Recorder." It is supposed he was chased out by Anti-Expansion, and is afraid to return.--Catskill (N. Y.) "Mail."

Dr. E. R. Andrews, formerly president of Brown University, has been asked to go to Colorado State Agricultural College as president.

Gov. Roosevelt signed the bills appropriating $300,000 for Adirondack land purchases and $75,000 for New York's expenses at the Paris Exposition.

Capt. Ray's Plans in Alaska.

Washington, May 16.--Capt. Ray, who is to command the military district of Alaska, will start for his new post in July. He will sail from San Francisco or Seattle, with supplies for a company for one year. He expects to establish headquarters on the Yukon at Mission Creek, near the boundary line, where he will build a regular military station. A forest reservation also will be established, so that there may be no question about a supply of timber for the military station. Capt. Ray believes in the practicability of the Copper River route, which Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn has ordered established, and which will be examined by Capt. Abercrombie. Capt. Ray proposes to establish stations along this route twenty miles apart, placed in charge of natives. By this system, he claims, it will be possible to reach the Yukon country at all seasons of the year.

Washington Hotels Win a Case.

Washington, May 13.--Judge Kimball, in the Police Court, decided that the sale of liquor on Sunday in Washington hotels was legal under the act of 1893. Congress at its recent session enacted a law prohibiting the sale of liquor on Sunday by makers, brewers, distillers or their agents, "or other persons or corporations," and a test case was brought, it being contended that the recent act repealed the law of 1893, which permitted the sale of liquors by hotels under certain conditions. Judge Kimball decided that the act of 1893, as it related to the sale of liquor in hotels on Sundays, was not repealed by the recent act.

What Carnegie Sold.

New York, May 13.--The Iron Trade Review publishes an official list of the properties turned over by Andrew Carnegie and H. C. Frick to the syndicate which will capitalize it at $500,000,000. It represents properties which last year turned out 17 per cent. of the pig iron product of the United States, and 22 per cent. of the bessemer steel production. The finished output for 1898 is figured at 2,500,000 tons.

Wool Combers Combine.

London, May 13.--A combination of Bradford wool combers has been formed with the object of putting a stop to the cutting of prices. It is rumored that a combination has been arranged comprising all of the British firms in the wall paper trade with a capital said to reach millions of pounds.

Fair Will Close up Again.

San Francisco, May 13.--The famous Fair will close up in the Supreme Court again, the occasion being the arguing of Mrs. Craven-Fair's petition for leave to intervene in the contest filed by Charles L. Fair to the same will.
