

"He Who Pursues Two Hares Catches Neither."

Said a well known young man about town, "I tried for years to burn the candle at both ends, in the pursuit of pleasure while trying to attend to business. My blood, stomach and kidneys got into a wretched state and it seemed that I could not carry the burden any longer.

But now my rheumatism has gone, my courage has returned, and all on account of that marvelous Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has made me a picture of health. Now I'm in for business pure and simple.

Hip Disease—I had running sores for eight years on my hips. I was confined to my bed at times and at others used crutches. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my hip and gave me permanent health. OTIS J. ARCHER, 139 Dudley Street, Dayton, Ohio.

Indigestion—I now have a good appetite, eat well, sleep well and my dyspepsia and indigestion have left me. The reason is I took Hood's Sarsaparilla which entirely cured me. I am Baggage Master on the B. & O. Railroad. THOMAS COLES, 119 Carr St., Sandusky, Ohio.

"I have been using CASCARETS for insomnia, with which I have been afflicted for over twenty years, and I can say that Cascarets have given me more relief than any other remedy I have ever tried. I shall certainly recommend them to my friends as being all they are represented." THOS. GILLARD, Egin, Ill.

The Ashes of a Woman's Dreams. The women are telling of an Atchison man who treated his wife with indifference and cruelty in their early married life. They say he is now down on his knees blowing into the dead ashes of her love trying to revive a spark of affection for him. How women love to picture a man in such an attitude! It is probably the dream of every neglected wife that some day her husband will try to warm his hands like a frozen Cupid at the fires of her love, and will find only dead ashes there. There is enough dead ashes in the average woman's dreams to macadamize a road.—Atchison Globe.

The new French mail packet, Nord, has made a record trip across the English Channel between Calais and Dover. The journey was made in three minutes less than one hour.

ONE reason Mrs. Pinkham's treatment helps women so promptly is that they have confidence in her.

Through some of the many thousands of Mrs. Pinkham's friends an ailing woman will be led to write to Mrs. Pinkham at her home in Lynn, Mass., and will tell her symptoms. The reply, made without charge of any kind, will bear such evidence of knowledge of the trouble that belief in her advice at once inspires hope.

This of itself is a great help. Then the knowledge that women only see the letters asking for advice and women only assist Mrs. Pinkham in replying makes it easy to be explicit about the little things that define the disease.

Mrs. ELIZA THOMAS, of 634 Pine St., Easton, Pa., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I doctored with two of the best doctors in the city for two years and had no relief until I began the use of your remedies. My trouble was ulceration of the womb. I suffered something terrible, could not sleep nights and thought sometimes that death would be such a relief. To-day I am a well woman, able to do my own work, and have not a pain. I used four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and three packages of Sanative Wash and cannot thank you enough for the good it did me."

Mrs. M. STODDARD, Box 268, Springfield, Minn., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—For about four years I was a great sufferer from female troubles. I had backache all of the time, no appetite, pains in stomach, fainting spells, was weak and my system was completely run down. I also had falling of womb so bad that I could scarcely walk across the floor. After taking two bottles of your Vegetable Compound and one box of Lozengers, can say I am cured."

What Do the Children Drink? Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more GRAIN-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. GRAIN-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about 1/3 as much. All grocers sell it. 15c, and 25c.

Empty Praise. To little men and women of the literary profession, the poetasters and wittlings, there ought to be something instructive in this word from Thackeray, quoted by his daughter, Mrs. Ritchie. After reading such an estimate of notoriety by a man truly great, the minnows may well consider whether they are not swimming too pretentiously.

"There's no use denying the matter, or blinking at it, now I am become a sort of great man, in my way—all but at the top of the tree, indeed there, if the truth were known, and having a great fight up there with Dickens. I get such a deal of praise wherever I go that it is rather wearisome to hear. I don't think my head is a bit turned, please God, for I have always got my own opinion; and when men and newspapers say, 'Our sheet is the finest,' and so forth, I know a deal better, and don't disguise the truth, either."

"This London world is full of good-natured tom-fools, and directly one begins to cry 'Oh!' all the rest say, 'Prodigious!'"

The Kaiser as a Talker. We have had the German Emperor from many points of view, even from that of his barber. The latest portrait is that of the shorthand writer, William II., since he ascended the throne, has always had a shorthand reporter in attendance to take a verbatim note of his speeches, and Herr Karl Hempel has frequently acted in that capacity. In a sketch of his subject he says that the Kaiser is easy to report, for his voice is strong and his articulation distinct. He only becomes difficult when he gets excited, and on such occasions, though his pronunciation is clear, he speaks with lightning rapidity. Moreover, he has an awkward trick at such times of jerking out detached sentences. For the first time in his career the Emperor omitted to take with him an official shorthand writer to the Holy Land, but he availed himself of the services of Herr Dyck, a German journalist established in Jerusalem.—London Chronicle.

THE REALM OF FASHION.

New York City (Special).—As physical culture has become an important part of a girl's education, a correct costume is necessary in order to reap the fullest benefits from the different exercises.

The trim suit here illustrated consists of blouse and full bloomers which are adjusted with elastic bands that give with every motion of the body.

Navy blue serge is the material shown trimmed with mixed black and white braid. A rolling or a standing collar may be used to finish the neck, a specially attractive feature being the surplice fashion, the fulness being arranged in a blouse effect.

The skirt is of circular shaping, the front being extended to lap widely over on the left side, where the placket is finished at the top. A centre-seamed back joins the two circular portions. The top is fitted smoothly around the hips by darts taken up at the waist and the fulness in back is disposed by backward turning plaits that meet closely over the centre seam. Silk buttons decorate the edges and plaits at the top. A pretty flare at the foot distinguishes this graceful skirt, the sweep measuring four and one-half yards.

Venetian, covert and broadcloth, cashmere, drap d'ete, serge, chevot, wool, poplin and a wide width, plain, mixed or fancy woolen fabric will develop satisfactorily by the mode. Different modes of adornment may be used, braid, passementerie or satin folds being particularly effective.

To make this waist for a lady of medium size will require two yards of material forty-four inches wide. To make the skirt will require four and one-half yards of same wide material.
