"FIGHTING PARSON."

Brave Chaplain of the Manila Heroes Pays a Splendid Tribute to Barnett.

TYPICAL AMERICAN SOLDIER.

Though a Prohibitionist, He Will Support the Republican Nominee For State Treasurer, and Gives His Reasons For Doing So.

The "Fighting Parson" of the "Fighting Tenth" was a conspicuous figure among the brave Pennsylvanians who fought with Dewey in the Philippines, and few men in the regiment could handle a gun better than he when occasion required, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, Chaplain Joseph L.
Hunter, of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, whose home is at Jamestown, Pa., shares with this famous command in the glory that has come to them for their patriotic work. He says

CHAPLAIN JOSEPH L. HUNTER.

nothing of his own services, but others have told of his bravery, his self sacrificing labors in looking after the spiritual welfare of the regiment, and his constant and zealous attention to the sick, the wounded and the dying patriots who followed their country's flag and fought gallantly for it in the far off Orient.

But this "Fighting Parson," as he is familiarily known among the boys of the regiment, pays a splendid tribute to the manly character, the unflinching courage and the other soldierly qualities of Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett, who succeeded the lamented Colonel Alexander Hawkins, in command of the regiment.

A TYPICAL AMERICAN SOLDIER.

Those who know Lieutenant Colonel Barnett best," said Chaplain Hunter, in chatting interestingly about his commanding officer, at the Hotel Walton, "respect him most and are filled with admiration of his noble qualities.
He is a typical American soldier. He is a credit to his state and to his country. He fully deserves the praise and the plaudits that have been bestowed upon him. He is a refined, educated and ever courteous gentleman. He being a son of a clergyman, I naturally take a deep interest in his welfare.
I have closely studied him and watched his development of character. He always exhibited remarkable coolness and self control while the regiment was under fire, was never excited nor rash, and in every way conducted himself to earn the respect and confidence of the men of the command. He is a strict disciplinarian. It is possible that at times some of the men did not thoroughly realize the importance of rigid adherence to the requirements of the regulations and the carrying out of official orders with exact compliance with instructions. I am convinced, however, that there is not a man in the regiment who does not today appreciate the fact that it was due to this determined purpose to maintain the standard of efficiency of the command in which the late Colonel Hawkins took such pride, that the Tenth Pennsylvania ranked with the crack regiments at Luzon and made a record of which we are all quite proud.

"Barnett has great executive ability.
He is a master of detail, a most desirable quality in a man to whom the care of a regiment is committed, under conditions that frequently confronted us in the Philippines.

AS COMMANDER OF CAVITE.

"While Colonel Hawkins was down with what proved to be a fatal illness, Lieutenant Colonel Barnett was in command of all the troops in the district of Cavite, and he filled this important post with courage and discretion.

"He displayed a tender side of his nature in his solicitous concern for the sick and wounded. He saw that none of our boys who were in the general hospital, away from the immediate care of the regiment's officers, lacked anything that could be secured to comfort and cheer them in their distress. Delicacies were obtained and sent to these men. When too busy to go himself to the hospital he always commanded me to remember him to these unfortunates and to report at once as to their condition. As the result of Lieutenant Colonel Barnett's interest friends at home raised a large hospital fund, and from this we were able to purchase many things that gave health and strength to hundreds of our men when sick. None of our men when ill ever wanted for anything we could procure.

"While we were at La Lome church, during the insurgent campaign, Lieutenant Colonel Barnett and I drove to Manila on a business trip. After an hour's visit to the hospital I returned to the meeting place to find that he had suddenly started to the front. He had heard that the insurgents were making an attack, and he wanted to be there to meet them. Before the battle of Guiginto Lieutenant Colonel Barnett was in conference with Brigade Commander General Hale. Meanwhile our regiment had advanced across the bridge and was quite a way ahead.
Never thinking of danger, he and I crossed the bridge together, and had gone but a short distance when a most terrible fire came apparently from almost every direction. We jumped down the embankment of the railroad and started toward the front. Lieutenant Colonel Barnett crossed the embankment to the right side, and the next thing I saw of him was with one of the companies of our regiment, tearing across an open field to join the balance of the regiment in the thick of the fight, the whole outfit eager for battle and yelling like Apache Indians.
One man was killed in this rush.
When we started in the Malolos campaign we discarded all our surplus baggage. This was regarded as a serious situation. The incident in which that Lieutenant Colonel Barnett carried in his breast pocket, and which possibly saved his life, has been fully described.

A POPULAR CANDIDATE.

"I was greatly pleased to learn upon our returning home that through Bar-nett's nomination for state treasurer by the Republican convention the people of Pennsylvania would have an opportunity in a peculiar manner to show their appreciation of the services of the soldiers of the Keystone State who served in the Philippines. We all have been made to fully recognize that the state and the nation wish to give due credit to the volunteers and the men in the regular service who have taken part in the operations of the army and the navy in the present crisis in our country's history. In the honoring of Roosevelt by his elevation to the governorship of New York the citizens of the Empire State accentuated in a special degree their admiration for the men who storm the heights at San Juan. By the election of Barnett to the office of state treasurer the patriotic people of Pennsylvania, irrespective of former party affiliations, will bestow upon a gallant soldier a testimonial of their regard and affection which cannot be taken as a compliment to every man who served in the Philippines with the peerless Dewey, and especially as a mark of esteem and love for all the brave sons of the Keystone State who participated in the memorable campaign in Luzon.

"What sort of an official do I think Lieutenant Colonel Barnett will make, do you ask? None better. He has the ability to fill an office of far greater requirements and responsibilities than the state treasurer. He has the courage to do what is right, regardless of consequences. He is the soul of honor, and the people of the commonwealth can trust him implicitly. He has superior intellectual qualifications, a lawyer's training and instincts, and has an intimate acquaintance with public men and affairs.

"I do not speak from a politician's standpoint; merely as a comrade and admirer. Personally, I am a Prohi-bitionist, but my vote shall be cast for Lieutenant Colonel Barnett as an American citizen who feels that it is a proud privilege to be able to honor the men who in following their country's flag faced the dangers that beset all the brave boys of the "Alliant Tenth."

CAMPAIGN PLANS.

State Chairman Reeder Ready to Start Out the Spellbinders.

SOLDIERS TO THE FRONT.

Heroes of Manila and Veterans of the Civil War Will Make a Remarkable Canvass For Republicanism.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—General Frank Reeder, chairman of the Republican state committee, will, within a few days, announce the itinerary for the tour of the state by Colonel Barnett, the nominee for state treasurer, and those who will speak under the direction of the committee. It is proposed to have two parties on the go at the same time. They will probably start out next Monday. Colonel Barnett will be accompanied by a number of other officers and men of the Fighting Tenth regiment and also by the Tenth Regiment Glee club, composed of soldiers who fought in Luzon. The other party will be composed mainly of veterans of the civil war who are proud to join in honoring one of the heroes of the Fighting Tenth.

Included in the first group will be Colonel Barnett and the following officers and privates of the Tenth: Ma-JOR GEORGE W. NEIL, surgeon; First Lieutenant Blaine Aiken and Private Alexander Young, of Company H; Captain Thomas H. Crago, of Company K; Captain Edward B. McCormick, ex-quartermaster; Corporal William T. Don, Company I; Private Charles Playford, Company C, and First Lieutenant Oliver S. Scott, adjutant. A distinguished addition to the party will be Major J. N. Killian, of the First Nebraska, which was in the same brigade as the Tenth at Manila, under command of General Hale. Major Killian and Colonel Barnett are close friends, an intimacy born of war time comradeship, fighting shoulder to shoulder.

The second party of the military spellbinders will be made up of General J. P. S. Gobin, lieutenant gov-nor; Brigadier General John A. Wiley, Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart and General James W. Latta, secretary of internal affairs, and other speakers of the sixties.

ELKIN SEES VICTORY.

Former State Chairman John P. Elkin is quite confident of great Republican majorities in Pennsylvania this fall.

"The present state campaign," said Mr. Elkin, "is entirely different from that of last year, in that there is no evidence of factional opposition to the candidates on the Republican ticket.
There is a splendid feeling prevailing among the Republicans throughout the state. They recognize the fact that the candidates on their ticket are men of exceptional ability, and are popular and deserving of their support. There is a spirit of patriotism abroad and of loyalty to the Republican party which means so much for the welfare of the state and the nation. Not a word can be said against the character, integrity, capacity or patriotism of any man on the ticket. So one familiar with the situation will say that there is any doubt about the election of any one of them. The aim of the Republicans of Pennsylvania, therefore, will be to make their majorities as large as possible. The national campaign of 1899 is already under way. The flag of Bryanism still floats over the camp of the Democracy, while Republicans everywhere are rallying under the banner of McKinley. Business men are taking a keen interest in the campaign. They are not anxious in any way to help the Bryanites by the vote of this fall so that the silverites shall be encouraged to enter the contest of next year with the idea that they have a chance of capturing the presidency. Contrasted with the demoralized and depressed condition of the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country in 1896, brought about under the last Democratic administration, the situation today, with business booming on every hand, with our mills all running and in many places working overtime, our iron and steel industries crowded with orders that in many cases are sufficient to keep them busy for two years to come, with wages being advanced and likely to go higher, is not calculated to present inspiring arguments for Republicans to vote against their party nominees. The Republican party in Pennsylvania, as it does in every other state in the Union, stands for the Mc-Kinley administration and the upholding of the president in his conduct of the war and his foreign policy.

"With the brave Lieutenant Colonel Barnett, of the "Fighting" Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, who fought with Dewey in the Philippines, as one of their standard bearers, and with J.
Hay Brown and Josiah R. Adams, lawyers of recognized ability and standing in their profession, as the candidates for the supreme bench and the superior court, respectively, the Republicans of Pennsylvania can go to the polls in November next with a patriotic duty to perform, and they will roll up immense majorities for these candidates and when the election returns are read Pennsylvania will take her place at the head of the Republican column of the nation, ready for the battle of next year for the election of President McKinley, the continuance of business prosperity and the maintenance of honor and dignity of the American name."

Sold His Mexican Mine.
Chicago, Sept. 30.—Hugh McFarlane of Chicago has just sold his property at Bland, N. M., known as the "Lone Star" mine and mill, for $100,000 cash.
Bland is a small but bustling town where many former Chicago and Illinois persons are finding remunerative employment. There are two other mines, the property of Boston capitalists, S. W. Allerton and other Chicagoans have valuable interests near there.

The Olympia's Movements.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—The Olympia is to go out of commission at the Boston Navy Yard, this giving the people of Boston an opportunity to see her, although it may not be with Admiral Dewey aboard. Being already detached from command of the Asiatic station, he may leave for his home in Vermont at his own pleasure. It is believed that he will do so immediately after his visit to Washington is ended.

Epworth Leaguer Goes to War.
Chicago, Sept. 30.—Fred O. Brown, president of the Epworth League of the Chicago Northern District, has enlisted for service in the Philippines.
He will leave his home this afternoon for Fort Meade, where he will join the Forty-seventh Regiment of volunteers.
Mr. Brown is a son of the Rev. A. S.
Brown of Evanston and leaves a lucrative position.
