REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

Justice of the Supreme Court, J. HAY BROWN, of Lancaster County.

Justice of the Superior Court, JOSIAH R. ADAMS, of Philadelphia.

State Treasurer, JAMES E. BARNETT, of Washington County.

COUNTY TICKET.

County Treasurer, OTTO BEHR, of Lopez.

County Commissioners, ADAM BAUMUNK, of Lake Run, J. S. TAYLOR, of Bernice.

County Auditors, A. P. STARR, of Muncy Valley, C. H. WARREN, of Shunk.

"Industrial establishments of all kinds, the great majority of which were idle at the time of the inauguration of Mr. McKinley as president," declares the Norristown (Montgomery county) Daily Herald, "are now busily engaged in making goods which are being shipped to other countries, thereby affording profitable employment for labor, which is just what is desired. It would be a very strange blunder on the part of workmen to ignore these facts and vote the Democratic ticket, thus endangering the excellent prospects they now enjoy."

"This is a blunder they are not at all likely to make. They have no desire to restore the discredited Democracy to power. Business is active; capital has confidence in the administration; labor is reaping the benefit in abundant employment at fair wages. The intelligent laboring man will not vote to return to the privation, poverty and hard times of three or four years preceding the advent of the Republican party to power."

"The country cannot afford to try any doubtful experiments, either now or next year. Workmen cannot afford to run the risk of loss of employment by voting the Democratic ticket. The Republican party has well redeemed its promises and it will receive a vote of confidence therefor."

IN BUSINESS FOR THEMSELVES.

"It is not very remarkable that the Democratic leaders are just now shouting in favor of fusion," says the Doylestown (Bucks county) Daily Republican. "They hope to be the gainers thereby. That's the whole matter in a nutshell. The Democrats never want fusion unless they see some benefit to themselves. Last winter during the session of the legislature the Democrats stood solidly and stubbornly alone when by co-operation they might have been the means of electing a United States senator. But they knew that if they gave their support outside their own party the successful candidate must be a Republican. No fusion under those circumstances. The state leaders positively forbid it. Now, however, they counsel fusion wherever there is an opportunity to gain something or a possibility of winning with the aid of the malcontents of other parties. The Democratic party 'is in business for what there is in it' for themselves."

CREASY BOOM A FIZZLE.

"The Republican campaign for state and county offices has opened," says the Mount Carmel (Carbon county) Daily News. "All factions of the party are united in the battle to be waged this fall. Quayites and anti-Quayites are all lined up for the whole ticket. Creasy, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer, has failed to arouse any enthusiasm by his tirades on Republicans and Republican principles. The people in his home county know him too well to expect anything out of the ordinary from him, and they refuse to be aroused, and the rest of the state is not interested outside of his own party. Colonel Barnett has been receiving the usual reception accorded to brilliant young Republicans in this state, and will be elected by more than an off year majority."

LESSON FOR REPUBLICANS.

"Montgomery Democrats have no show of late years," says the Norristown (Montgomery county) Daily Herald, "except when their Republican opponents are divided, as in 1898, when two legislative tickets were presented for Republican support, and a Democratic senator and three assemblymen were chosen. Last year's experience had its lesson for Republicans, and there is no repetition of the tactics which benefited the Democracy at that time. The harmony prevailing in Republican councils this year leaves Democracy without a shadow of hope on election day. Every Republican should regard it as his duty to assist in making his party's majority as large as possible."

FOR PARTY UNITY.

"Good Republicans are tired of factional politics. They want to give attention to bigger and broader issues. They want to prepare for the national election, more important than 50 senators, for it involves the administration of the government for four years to come. They want their party united, and they want men to represent them who are in favor of uniting it," says the Bryn Mawr (Montgomery county) Home News. "We look forward, not backward, and our hope is that the near future will bring complete party unity in Pennsylvania."

LOOKING BACKWARD.

"The remarkable development of the state of Pennsylvania in the past 25 years is an everlasting monument in commemoration of the Republican doctrine of American protection," declares the Jeannette (Westmoreland county) Dispatch. "Its shadow extends to the remotest part of the state. In the gratefulness of its noon tide shadow the American workman sits today sheltered from the burning and consuming heat of free trade sun, and eats his dinner from the best filled pail he ever enjoyed. In this shadow, in peace and comfort, and in heartfelt content, he eats his fill and with renewed strength and courage completes his task for today, and goes to his home assured that the same shadow awaits his return on the morrow, and the next day, and the next, and so on, so long as the American people remain true to the Republican doctrine of American protection."

"There is no county in the state that is benefited more by the supremacy of this doctrine of protection than has Westmoreland county. It has made our county great among the greatest. In the face of these facts and in the full enjoyment of the shade of this movement our duty is clear. Our Democratic friends would have us believe that these principles are not an issue in this campaign, and that the issues now in question are purely local. Do not be deluded in this way. The successful man in business keeps a close watch on the future. To avoid danger he looks ahead. A Republican defeat in this county and state at this coming election may prove a disastrous calamity. Republicans cannot afford to take a backward step in this march of progress. The question of protection and free trade is always an issue. The Democratic party is now, as always, in favor of free trade."

GUFFEY'S GAME.

"Guffey, the boss of the Pennsylvania Democracy, is encouraging and aiding the fusion movement in Chester county," says the Mount Union News, "and it is announced by his partisans, probably by his authority, that he will direct his efforts next year towards effecting such combinations in all the counties of the state, with a view of electing a legislature that will defeat a Republican for United States senator, and choose a Democrat, possibly Guffey himself. Under the false pretense of 'state issues' and 'reform' he is hatching his schemes to catch Republicans whose politics are thin and adulterated, and to divide and weaken their party in a campaign in which not only the senatorship, but congress and presidency will be depending. The success of Guffey's fusion plans means a worse boss in control of Pennsylvania politics than any that has ever been complained of in the Republican party."

COOPER SPEAKS OUT.

Comment by the Former State Chairman Upon a Recent Political Move.

Former Republican State Chairman Thomas V. Cooper, in the last issue of The Delaware County American, under the caption "A Travesty Upon the Right of Petition," says:

"The folly of the insurgent leaders passed its climax when it subjected Senator Quay to trial on charges shown to be wholly manufactured for political effect. His acquittal brought wisdom to wiser men, who previously believed or doubted, because belief and doubt are easy against a public man. This class would now like to say the incident is closed, for that position best relieves a conscience strained in the direction of the harshest thought. Still others, and a larger class, stand by the verdict of an American jury representing all shades of personal opinion."

"And now the leaders who instituted these proceedings have descended to the line of protest, after being driven from the fighting line in nearly every primary of the state. The state convention was four-fifths for Quay, and nearly every man of the one-fifth minority represented the machines of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh—machines which represent local spoils and contracts—machines which have fleeced great municipalities without protest from any insurgent organ. The Quay machine is an ideal of strength, but no machine is an ideal of purity. Our politics have not so far advanced in good directions to reach that stage—but it is better than municipal machines. It does not get commissions on contracts, it does not seek or sell the control of city franchises—the only places where they are valuable. These facts are known of all men acquainted with politics. They are well known to the great newspapers of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, who make it their daily task to assail Quay and his organization. And yet, from that quarter there is never the shade of a protest. A reform party or wing of a party ought to point to reforms; its organs should not shield municipal venalities."

"We read protests against the parading of the gallant Tenth Pennsylvania, fresh from the Philippines, headed by Colonel Barnett, the Republican nominee for state treasurer. His command had a reception at Pittsburgh, hinted at as political; at Philadelphia, en route to the exposition and New York, depicted as factional; yet, in New York five millions of people rose to do it honor. There was the larger victory. They saw Pennsylvania in its greatness, not a political atom comprising its littleness."

NOTICEABLY SILENT.

"The wages of employees in the various tin plate factories of the country have been raised recently, and since then Free Trade papers have been noticeably silent about the 'ridiculous idea of making tin plate in this country.'"—New York Press.
