Cubans Visit West Point and See New York.

DELIGHTED WITH THE GREATER CITY

Cadets Give a Special Parade For est Visited-Banquet In Central Park.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The 1,377 Cuban teachers who have been spending the past two months at the Harvard summer school were taken to West Point, N. Y., yesterday, where they were received with honors that have been extended but once before in the history of the United States Military academy. The Cubans, 700 of whom are women, got their first real glimpse of New York yesterday morning. They showed undisguised delight. As Professor Frye, superintendent of education for the island of Cuba, who is in charge of the party, expressed it:

"Hear their 'vivas.' That tells the story."

superintentate of education for the same and of Cuba, who is in charge of the party, expressed it:

"Hear their 'vivas.' That tells the story."

The trip up the Hudson and the short stay at West Point were crowded with incidents. All along the river front of New York crowds on passing ferries, excursion steamers and on shore cheered and waved their handkerchiefs wildly at the Cubans, who answered with the fervor of a boatload of children.

As the Iron Steamboat company's boat Taurus, which carried the Cuban teachers up the Hudson, passed the great stone quarry at Tompkin's Cove the Cubans were greeted with a dynamite sature. Four heavy blasts, which sent great segments of stone high into the air, to fall back into the water like shells from a battleship, were accompanied by the shouting of 200 workmen who were greathered at the entrance to the shaft.

At West Point carriages were waiting for the women of the party. Many preferred to walk up the hill with the men. Boys handed out programmes printed in Spanish, which also contained a list of the buildings of the college and some facts about the institution, together with an invitation to the teachers to make themselves at home.

Colonel Mills ordered for the Cuban visitors a special dress parade. It is the only occasion in the history of the Millitary academy, save once before, when the commanding officer of the United States army, Major General Nelson A. Miles, visited the academy, that the hour of dress parade has been changed from 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The cadets are now in camp, and their Cuban visitors formed about the green sward, making altogether a brilliant pleture, full of color and action.

The teachers were shown through the new Cullom memorial hall. Professor Frye thanked Colonel Mills for them. They then returned to the steamboat, and the trip to the city began.

Today the teachers are taking in New York. Beginning at 8 o'clock this merning they visited Grant's tomb, Columbia university, the One Hundred and Ninth street school and Central par

A Quadruple Tragedy.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Aug. 21.—A peculiarly distressing quadruple tragedy took place at Farley, a small town across the river in Missouri. Dr. Sturley Harrington, a physician of Farley, drunk and imagining fancied wrongs, killed James Wallace, his uncle, a wealthy farmer; Mrs. William Wallace, Harrington's mother-in-law, and J. P. Dillingham, sheriff of Platte county, who tried to acrest him, and was in turn shot dead by Harry Dillingham, the sheriff's son. Before he was cornered by the sheriff's posse Harrington held up the clerk in a general store at the point of his revolver and exchanged shots with the clerk, firing into a crowd of spectators. Harrington's 12-year-old daughter was a forced witness of the different stages of the tragedy, the physician taking her with him in his buggy as he went from the tragedy, the physician taking her with him in his buggy as he went from place to place on his bloody errand.

Secret Service Men at Work.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A lot of Bres ci buttons have been brought to Paterson, N. J., from Newark, and they are finding a ready sale in the anarchist quarters. Only the radicals wear them, but they are being bought freely by others as curiosities. The buttons have a picture of the slayer of the king of Italy and above it his name, Gaetano Bresci. Several secret service men are at work here trying to establish the identity of the man Mabor, who is said to have written a letter relative to the crime of Bresci in killing the king of Italy and telling of the alleged plot of the anarchists to kill President McKin-Secret Service Men at Work. the anarchists to kill President McKin-

The steamers will be built during the winter at the yards of the company at South Chicago and will be ready for delivery to their owners on salt water with the opening of navigation next spring. The ocean syndicate which ordered the boats contains some New York men. The details of organisation are not completed as yet, but it will probably be called the Northwestern Transportation company.

This is said to be the first time the shirt waist question has been brought before a court. Attorneys for plaintiff contend that the defendant had no right to refuse to serve Bloom merely because he wore the latest style in men's garments.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Aug. 17.—For mer United States Senator John J. Ingalis is dead at East Las Vegas. He was surrounded by his family. The funeral will be held in Atchison, Kan.

Senator Ingalis' illness dated from March, 1899, when, at Washington, his throat began troubling him. He worked steadily writing political articles for newspapers throughout the coductry. He was treated by several specialists, but received no relief and on their advice returned with his family to Atchison. At home he grew no better. Ten months ago he sought another change of climate, traveling through New Mexico and Arizona. He was still able to write occasionally for the newspapers.

Ex-Senator John James Ingalis was one of the foremost figüres in American politics while he served in the upper house, from 1673 to 1891. He was boff at Middletowid, Mass., Dec. 29, 1833, and was admitted to the bar in 1857 and a year later moved tweet, settling in Kansas, where he at once made a name.

Ugtil 1878, when he was elected to the senate, Mr. Ingalis was not promising applitically, but on his going to Washift ton at once laughed himself, jato the political grens so irresistibly that his power was undisputed for years afterward.

As a genator he was one of the most pyfotocalingal figures in American politics. During the whole of his 1818 years service he was called the most brillian and distinguished member of the senate ever sent from west of the Mississiphi. He was always a radical Republican parties, but as president of the senate for years gave impartial satisfaction to the party men.

The intract Ticket.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 17.—The liber ty congress of the American League of Anti-imperialists yesterday emphatically indorsed the candidacy of William J. Bryan for president. The resolutions to that effect were read to the convention by Colonel Charles R. Codman of Massachusetts, who moved their adoption after stating that the entire committee of 25 had indorsed them. The convention, however, did not adopt the platform as submitted by the resolutions committee without prolonged and heated debate. Thomas M. Osborne of Auburn, N. Y., leader of the "third ticket" movement, offered an amendment to strike out in dorsement of Bryan, and his amendment was vigorously supported by several delegates, but when the previous question was ordered less than a score could be marshaled to vote against the Bryan indorsement. The vote was viva voce, and its exact result will never be known, but the sentiment of the convention was clearly shown as being in favor of the indorsement of Bryan as the most effective manner of checking the alleged imperialistic policy of the administration.

After the adoption of the resolution indorsing Bryan, the representatives of the third party movement met in the assembly room of the Commercial club and selected Thomas M. Osborne of New York for permanent seoretary. A motion was made and carried that a convention be held in New York for the commercial club and selected States.

Roumania and Bulgaria Getting Ready to Fight.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Referring to the tension between Roumania and Bulgaria, caused by the demand of the Roumanian government for the arrest of Sarafow, president of the revolutionary committee at Sofia, the Bulgarian capital, together with the suppression of that organisation, the Vienna correspondent of The Daily Eigress says:

"The Bulgarian reply to the note of Roumania has been received at Bucharest. It is couched in aggressive terms.

"Bulgarian troops are being continually moved to the frontier. The Macedonian revolutionary committee has collected 1,000 ivolunteers, under the committed of Bulgarian regular officers, and will raid Boulanian territory.
