

AWAITING THE END.

Queen Victoria Lives, but Case Is Hopeless.

SHORT PERIOD OF CONSCIOUSNESS.

Second Night's Vigil by the Royal Bedside Passes Without Incident. Condition at Latest Reports Unchanged.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Jan. 22.—Another day in the Victorian era, now so rapidly drawing to a close, passed without any great change in the condition of Queen Victoria. The slight improvement so frequently mentioned in the official bulletins merely indicates a postponement of the inevitable. The end may be a matter of days or only of hours, but the members of the royal family who are now dragging out a weary visit at Osborne House know that the death of her majesty is merely a question of a short time.

The most noticeable feature of yesterday was the satisfactory portion, the queen spent in consciousness, which she regained early in the afternoon and still retained at 10 p. m. At that hour she had not seen Emperor William, local rumors to the contrary notwithstanding. Royalty at Osborne thus had a chance to recuperate from the terrible ordeal undergone during the early hours of Monday. It is said that the members of the royal family were called to a room adjoining the queen's bedchamber no less than four times yesterday morning and were kept in momentary expectation of being summoned to witness the end up to half past 5. Her majesty's physicians then had only a vestige of hope that they would be able to keep the queen's feeble life in existence until the Prince of Wales arrived.

To secure this result they resorted to the frequent use of brandy and champagne. These stimulants, used to an extent which only the greatest emergency justified, worked their process, and when the Prince of Wales and Emperor William entered the castle grounds at 11:30 a. m. they found the queen a trifle better than had been expected. The desperate remedies employed Monday morning to enable her majesty to live until her eldest son's arrival will not be used again to the same extent, for the doctors are fearful that the remedy might be almost worse than the disease. They trust to prolong her life by a moderate application of stimulants, combined with as much nourishment as can be assimilated. Such expedients as were employed during Sunday evening and Monday morning are not considered justifiable.

The queen's rally astonished no one more than her physicians, and when at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon they heard her ask for chicken broth their amazement almost equaled their delight. Privately, however, they build no false hopes upon these fading signs of what has been one of the strongest constitutions with which a woman was ever endowed.

Despite the favorable afternoon the doctors dread greatly the period between 6 o'clock and midnight. When that was safely passed, they seemed hopeful of her majesty living at least through another day, although the memory of the previous night's relapse kept their anxiety at high tension.

The news of the death, when it occurs, is likely to be publicly announced in London before it is announced here, as, according to present arrangements, the first telegram is to be sent to the lord mayor of London.

AN ANXIOUS SUNDAY.

Great Anxiety and Suspense in London Over the Queen's Condition.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Throughout the United Kingdom yesterday was a Sunday of anxiety and suspense. No one in England outside the circle of the court knew the real condition of the queen or the nature of her disease. The bulletins threw but little light on the universal question whether death was imminent. The London newspapers had not learned that her majesty had suffered a shock of paralysis. Extra editions of the Sunday papers contained no information beyond the official bulletins, but there were many of them, and they were eagerly bought.

There were small gatherings in the vicinity of Buckingham palace and Marlborough House as well as other centers where the bulletins were posted. Crowds assembled to witness the arrival of Emperor William. Apart from such incidents, however, the customary quiet of a London Sunday was not disturbed.

In churches of all denominations prayers were offered at the morning service, and in most of them the latest bulletin regarding the queen's condition was read.

G. A. R. Encampment.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 22.—A vote was taken yesterday afternoon, and Cleveland was selected as the place in which to hold the next annual G. A. R. encampment. The vote stood: Cleveland, 5; Denver, 2; Pittsburg, 1. Denver could not meet all the requirements, and Cleveland was selected because satisfactory guarantees of that city's ability to care for the encampment were furnished to the committee. The date set for the encampment is Sept. 9.

Stolen Letter and Contents Found.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The chief inspector of the postoffice department has received a dispatch from Chicago stating that John Hansen, a railroad gangster, has been arrested, charged with larceny of a registered letter containing $2,000. The loss of this letter was reported by an Iowa railroad postal clerk Jan. 14. The dispatch says that the letter was found buried in Hansen's cellar at Hampton, Ia., and all the money was recovered.

Verdi's Condition Serious.

MILAN, Jan. 22.—Various accounts are given of the illness from which Signor Giuseppe Verdi, the celebrated Italian composer, is suffering. The Secolo of this city says the malady is congestion of the brain. It asserts that at 9 o'clock Monday morning he had been unconscious six hours. A bulletin issued at 9 o'clock last evening says, "Acute troubles in the lobes of the brain have deadened sensibility, and his condition is serious."

Many Thousands For Charity.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 22.—The will of the late Joseph Ricker, died in the probate court here, provides for the distribution of about $300,000 among charitable, religious and educational societies.

HAZING WILL CEASE!

West Point Cadets Voluntarily Agree to Abstain.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 21.—The congressional committee left here yesterday for Washington after having concluded the mission of investigation at the United States Military academy. Before their departure, however, through a voluntary agreement of the cadets, hazing was abolished. This voluntary agreement was the result of a meeting of the entire corps of cadets held in Grant hall.

This action came as a surprise to the committee, which consisted of General Dick of Ohio, Judge Smith of Iowa, Congressmen Wanger of Pennsylvania and Clayton and Driggs of New York. All the members of the committee were pleased to learn that the cadets had seen fit to anticipate the action of congress in wiping out practices of "hazing out" and hazing of fourth class men from the traditions of the institution.

It was nearly midnight Saturday when Colonel A. L. Mills, the superintendent of the academy, handed a copy of the cadets' resolution to General Dick. When the other congressmen learned the nature of it, Mr. Driggs moved that Colonel Mills should read it and afterward it should be added to the record. The committee holds the next meeting in the room of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce at Washington at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

SING SING CONDEMNED.

Prison Declared Unfit for Habitation and Out of Date.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—President Lewis of the state board of health has made a thorough examination of the state prison at Sing Sing. He said the buildings were out of date, the cells were too small, no sunlight ever entered most of them and the whole prison was full of sewer gas and unhealthy.

The visit of President Lewis followed a visit made on Saturday by other members of the board and Charles F. Wingate, the board's sanitary engineer. The latter pronounced the sewer system of the prison very bad. The floors of the buildings are but four or five feet above tide water. The sewers empty into the river at normal low water mark. When the tide rises, there is a cessation of discharge, and the tide backs into the pipes and also forces back the gases generated in the pipes. The rising tide forces these gases through the traps. These gases are blamed for the recent outbreak of typhoid in the prison. The engineer said there could be no remedy for the existing state of affairs until the prison was located on higher ground.

It is expected both the engineer and the president of the board will advocate the building of an entire new set of buildings at another location.

CONSTITUTION REPORTED.

Document Contains Some Modifications From Original Draft.

HAVANA, Jan. 22.—The central committee of the Cuban constitutional convention reported at the public session of the convention yesterday the proposed constitution. The document contains some modifications of the original draft. After it had been read the convention adjourned until Thursday.

It is understood that the members of the central committee are not unanimous with reference to several features of the scheme and that there is likely to be considerable discussion before final acceptance.

Another Postal Theft.

HAVANA, Jan. 21.—John Sheridan, who has been in charge of the money order department of the Havana postoffice, was arrested yesterday and formally accused of the theft of $1,300 sent from the postmaster at Guantanamo Dec. 6, $1,255 in cash and $65 in check. He has confessed his guilt and admits having destroyed the check.

New York's Taxable Property.

ALBANY, Jan. 22.—The total valuation of real and personal property in this state subject to taxation during the fiscal year to commence Oct. 1, 1901, is $5,732,512,015 as compared with $5,562,304,198 for the current fiscal year. The total valuation of real property is $5,479,280 for the current fiscal year, and the valuation of the personal property is $476,051,218 as compared with $748,424,988 for the current fiscal year. There has therefore been an increase in the valuation of real property and a decrease in the valuation of personal property. The net increase, however, has been $190,307,817.

Large Blast Furnace Starts.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18.—The new blast furnace of the American Steel and Wire company, which has been in course of construction for the past 14 months, was "blown in" yesterday. This is next to the largest furnace in Ohio. It cost about $1,000,000, and it has a capacity of 500 tons of bessemer pig iron daily. The furnace was lighted by Miss Marie de Forest, the young daughter of the district manager of the company, who was presented with a gold watch as a souvenir by the company.

Kuhns Bagged at Last.

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Jan. 19.—Local officers are positive that the alleged horse thieves captured after a battle near Lafayette and brought here are Marvin Kuhns, the escaped convict, and his brother John. Persons who know Marvin are positive in identifying him. He is suffering from a severe bullet wound in the face received during the fight. Kuhns will be turned over to the Ohio penitentiary officials if they identify him.

Four Children Cremated.

ELKHART, Ind., Jan. 19.—Four children of Benjamin Miller were burned to death. Their ages ranged from 8 to 16 years. A lamp exploded while Miller was absent, and the house burned so quickly that the rescue of the children was impossible.

ARBITRATION FOR LABOR DISPUTES.

Governor Stone Proposes That This Shall Be Compulsory.

HE TAKES ADVANCED GROUND.

Recommendation to the Pennsylvania Legislature Which Is Bound to Attract Widespread Attention and Comment Among Workingmen and Capitalists.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, Jan. 21.—A feature of the message which Governor Stone has submitted to the Pennsylvania legislature provides for compulsory legislation in disputes between labor and capital. This suggestion arises from his experience in the recent coal miners' strike. Among other things Governor Stone says:

"Experience with this strike has led me to consider the question of arbitration of labor disputes. The difficulty with our present arbitration laws and those heretofore contemplated is that they are not compulsory. They are purely voluntary. While a compulsory arbitration law would be ineffective, as we could not directly compel employers and employees to submit their disputes to arbitration, yet I am hopeful that a law could be framed that would practically compel both parties to voluntarily submit their disputes to arbitrators and abide by the result. Police interference by the state troops to protect life and property and preserve order is justified by law and by necessity wherever violence exists and local authorities have failed. STATE AUTHORITIES IMPARTIAL.

"The office of the state authorities is an impartial one. The state troops are sent to the scene of disturbance for the sole purpose of protecting life and property and preserving order when the county authorities are unable to cope with the difficulty. The owner of a mine claims the right to stop work at any time. The miner claims the right to stop work at any time. If capital can shut down, labor can shut down. If capital can strike, labor can strike. No greater right is claimed for one than for that for the other and no right can be withheld from one that is not conceded to the other. But neither has the right to resort to public violence. No one, under any circumstances, has a right to commit a breach of the peace. Experience in the past justifies the passage of such legislation as will preserve public order in the too frequent troubles that grow out of labor disputes.

"There is no way by which trouble and disorder can be averted so well and so speedily as by arbitration and settlement of the differences in dispute. A law that would authorize the use of state troops in the protection of those who wish to work, and in the preservation of public order where a strike exists if within a given time arbitrators were not selected by the employer; and close the mine, mill, factory or shop if within the same length of time an equal number of arbitrators were not selected by the employer, ought to be sustained by the courts as a police regulation for the benefit of society.

"While each act is arbitrary, it is not more so than public interference with private rights in many other cases for the good of the public, and experience has taught us that each of these steps may become necessary, and generally do lead to violence. The court or president judge of the county could then, at the request of either party, or any of the selected arbitrators, appoint one or three careful, able, impartial men to sit with the arbitrators selected, when upon hearing both sides, a decision could be rendered that would be at once binding upon both parties and work would at once be resumed.

"I respectfully urge upon the legislature consideration of these suggestions."

As a Food For the Skin.

To Make It Smooth, Healthy and Beautiful, Dr. Chase's Ointment is Hailed by Thousands of Fair Women.

Every woman, no matter how beautiful her skin, finds need at times of some preparation to overcome the redness and roughness, and to cure the pimples, blackheads and skin irritations.

Powders may cover up the disfiguring eruptions, but can never cure them, and are positively injurious because they clog up the pores of the skin. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a food for the skin. It is readily absorbed, and thoroughly cures each and every skin disease, making the skin smooth, soft and clear.

No woman's toilet is complete without Dr. Chase's Ointment, for besides being the most perfect skin beautifier obtainable it can be used in a score of different ways. It absolutely cures eczema, salt rheum and the itching to which women are especially subject.

When the feet are sore and chafed with walking an application of Dr. Chase's Ointment takes out the smarting and allays the inflammation in a surprisingly short time. Then for burns, scalds and every sort of chafing, irritation or eruption of the skin Dr. Chase's Ointment affords a safe and certain cure. It has come to be indispensable in scores of thousands of homes in the United States; so sent a box, at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

His Re-election to the United States Senate a Triumph For Republicanism.

COMPLETE INSURGENT ROUT

The Combination of Ambitious Millionaires and Ring Politicians of Philadelphia and Pittsburg and Their Democratic Allies Ignominiously Defeated in One of the Most Desperate Campaigns in the History of American Politics.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, Jan. 22.—The election of Col. Matthew Stanley Quay to the United States senate by the legislature of Pennsylvania without the necessity of a ballot in the joint senatorial convention was a great triumph for stalwart Republicanism.

This victory was predicted by those familiar with the inside facts of the situation, despite the desperate campaign waged by the insurgent newspapers and their misrepresentations, which continued up until the balloting in each branch of the general assembly. With 26 votes in the state senate and 104 in the house of representatives, Col. Quay got a majority in each chamber when the first vote was taken on Tuesday last, and there was no occasion to have a ballot in the joint convention.

A COMPLETE INSURGENT ROUT.

This complete rout of the insurgent-Democratic combination was made without Col. Quay requiring a single Democratic vote. It is true that one Democrat—Galvin, of Schuylkill county—did vote for Col. Quay for senator, but this he did despite the protest of Col. Quay himself, who knew that he had enough votes without him. Galvin had, however, been the victim of such vindictive assaults by the insurgent newspapers that his manhood rebelled against aiding that cause in any manner, and he insisted upon casting his vote for the Beaver statesman.

Col. Quay had a majority of 12 votes over and above the combined strength of the insurgents, Democrats and Prohibitionists, and had his friends consented to make certain deals suggested by some of the insurgents he could have had even a larger vote.

Governor Stone promptly signed the commission of Col. Quay as United States senator, and he was sworn in as a member of the senate at noon Thursday last, in the presence of one of the largest and most enthusiastic crowds that ever assembled in the senate galleries. The floor of the senate was thronged with members of both houses of congress, who wished to witness the return of the stalwart leader to the senate, and the display of floral offerings from friends of the distinguished Pennsylvanian was the largest in the history of the senate as having been made in testimonial of any individual.

There was not room on the floor of the senate to properly place many of these floral tributes, so they were displayed in the adjoining lobbies.

The swearing in of Col. Quay was an event in national politics. The Associated Press reports sent to newspapers throughout the country were lengthy and very complimentary to Col. Quay, and were printed generally with great display head lines. This feature of the event was very annoying to the insurgents, as it demonstrated the interest in Col. Quay taken by the people of the entire country and of their great appreciation of his services to his party and to the country through his influence in the councils of the Republican party.

MILLIONS COMBINED IN POLITICS.

The story of Col. Quay's great battle against a combination of ambitious millionaires, city contractors and the leaders of the political rings of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, will make an important chapter in the political history of this country. The campaign just closed for the election of a United States senator from Pennsylvania was undoubtedly the most exciting, bitterly fought and remarkable in many respects that has ever been waged in any state in the Union.

Col. Quay was at the outset confronted with several ambitious citizens with great wealth back of them and each bent upon being elected to the senate. These men pooled their issues, and with the assistance of a coterie of unscrupulous politicians determined to drive Col. Quay from the leadership of the Republican organization, capture that organization or wreck it, if that should be found necessary, and then work out as best they could the selection of the candidate to succeed him in the senate. Each of these millionaires took a chance of getting the prize and each of them contributed to the immense corruption fund which was to be the basis of their operations against Col. Quay and his friends.

More than a million dollars were spent in the several campaigns leading up to the vote on the United States senatorship taken last week. The fight actually began in 1895, when Col. Quay defeated the opposition at that time, which had their plans laid out to capture the chairmanship of the Republican state committee.

The election of Col. William A. Stone to the governorship was fought by the insurgents as well as the Democrats, and Col. Barnett was made the subject of the insurgent attacks such as no soldier who had fought gallantly for his country had possibly ever been, when he was backed by the Republican organization for state treasurer.

Porto Rico's Crops Excellent. SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 19.—Governor Allen has returned here from a trip over the island in an optimistic frame of mind. He says the sugar and tobacco crops are the largest that have ever been grown on the island, and the planters are afraid the factories will be unable to handle them. Many roads and bridges on the island are nearing completion. When they are finished, Porto Rico will be a winter paradise for automobilists and equestrians.

Mosquitoes Must Go. HAVANA, Jan. 19.—The sanitary department is taking measures to destroy mosquitoes as a preventive against yellow fever. The inspectors have been ordered to pay particular attention to breeding places both inside and outside houses, to use petroleum at least twice a month on stagnant water to destroy the eggs and seal all openings of wells and cesspools. They have also been instructed to advise the general use of mosquito netting.
