AND GLANCES AT THE TIMES

-The creeks are swollen.

-Many cellars in town are flooded. -Miss Emma Gallagher is quite ill at this writing.

-Miss Grace Bradford is spending a week with her friend Miss Bernice Burkholder, at Eagles Mere.

-Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Sherman of Williamsport, are guests at the Laporte Hotel.

-Mr. Wm. Cheney of Binghamton, N. Y. spent several days with friends in Laporte, last week.

-R. W. Bennett of, Eagles Mere, was in town Wednesday and a most welcome caller on the News Item.

-Married, at Laporte, Machr. 48, 1901, Mr. Aaron M. Stroup and Miss Tolie Clark, both of Muncy Valley, Pa., by T. J. Keeler, J. P.

-The severe wind and rain storm that visited this region last Friday proved a blessing in disguise. A water famine was threatening many localities.

-The W. & N. B. R. R. is havweek, to replace the old wooden structure. Mr. J. H. Reeser who represents the Phoenix Bridge Company is superintending the job.

-County Commissioner William Krickbaum, of Bloomsburg, was on Monday deprived of his office and the costs of legal proceedings placed upon him. The ruling of the Court is upon the point that defendant, while Commissioner, was bondsman

-M. A. Scureman, special agent for the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, recently settled on the McCormick Company. Eugene Snell of Hillsgrove, was transacting business in town last Company, recently settled a claim of $2000.00 life insurance carried by the late A. L. Smith. If you are not several weeks in Potter Co. insured in some reliable insurance company, your family is carrying an attack of grip. the risk on your life. Lift the burout a policy with Mr. Scureman.

Sonestow Rev. E. Dunn returned from con ference on Friday to preach a funeral sermon.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boatman, March 2, a daughter. The child died on Monday. Mrs. H. P. Hall visited in Williamsport last week. Howard Hess is clerking for J. B.

Magargle. The wind storm on Sunday did much damage in this section, blowing ont window glasses in the stores, blew off part of the county bridge, tore down fences small buildings and trees. Several chimneys burned out, scaring the population of the town. And pedestrians on the sidewalks were obliged to cling to the fences to keep from being carried bodily away, during some of the gusts of wind. Joseph Mencer of Williamsport spent Friday night with his brother at this place.

John Simmons has moved back to Miss Ada Hall went to Strawbridge and back on Sunday.

Harry Kapler after having been in Potter county since November, has returned.

It is not intended to hold literary again on account of the settling of the school house floor, which is truly alarming. The posts were taken out last week that had proped the second story up, and only a thin partition substituted. The upstairs floor has sunk several inches. It is reported that the props will again be put in.

Andrew Edgar transacted business at Picture Rocks, on Friday. The protracted meeting has been greatly disturbed lately by people coming late. Also running in and out of the church. After warnings, Mr. Welch at last announced that on Wednesday evening he would lock the church at 8 p. m. This he did, and a number of people took the liberty of unlocking the door with a duplicate key and entering. The affair has created considerable excitement.

M. P. Gavitt was home from Washington, a few days last week.

Shunk.

While drawing logs last Friday, Frank Brenchley had a narrow escape from throwing his team over an embankment. Mr. Brenchley was coming down Water street with a load of logs, when near the bridge where he wanted to turn the brake suddedly caught in such a way that it would not let the front sled turn, thereby forcing the team straight toward the embankment, not stopping untill one horse went over and the other one against the side of the ing the new iron trestle placed this bridge. Plenty of assistance being at hand the team was soon released from their perilous position.

Chas. Warren of Estella, was calling on friends in town last week.

The South school was closed last week, owing to the illnes of both teacher and pupils. J. P. Kilmer and son, will move their mill soon.

M. J. Tripp of Canton, was in town last week looking after the interest of the McCormick Company.
