When any paper issued before the first of July is offered for filing, it will not be recorded unless a revenue stamp is affixed. —An editor in Ohio printed an item which stated that "the man who was seen hugging his hired girl had better quit or his name would be published." In a few days about twenty five well to do citizens came in and paid up for the paper and told the editor to "pay no attention to the foolish stories 'go in around'." —The Fourth of July celebration at Laporte passed off very peaceably and enjoyable to the many who were present. Dancing and various games with plenty to eat and drink gave the pleasure seekers satisfying entertainment and also made the financial end a decided success. Between seven and eight hundred dollars is said to have been the receipts of the day. An accident happened the steam boat as it was about ready to take passengers on board and consequently did not run. Other than this no accidents or damage was done, the day was perfect in every respect, and no incident occurred to mar the pleasure of a single one.

MARRIED—July 3, by Rev. J. Guldin, Mrs. Dora Cook and Wm. Kiess of Sonestown.

It had been an expected event for some time, although the date was unknown, hence when Rev. J. Guldin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hazen, Mr. Kiess and his mother were seen, early in the evening, going toward the home of the bride's father the news of the wedding soon spread.

By 9:30 p. m. a small army composed of young friends of the couple, all armed with bells, dishpans and other implements, marched up the Outlet and crept softly into Mr. Phillips's yard and upon the porch, when boom! bang! the orchestra began, accompanied by the vocal efforts of the performers also. On looking through the window the party was seen at supper, Mrs. Kiess looking very sweet in slate cloth and white satin; Mr. Kiess in the customary black. The music did not seem to effect any of the wedding party, as they finished their supper and then the bride and groom under a light held by the minister appeared at the door. Hand shaking and good wishes were exchanged and the serenaders departed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiess are a very popular young couple. Mrs. Kiess being a teacher in the M. E. Sunday School and leading soprano of that choir. Mr. Kiess is a well known young farmer who has the respect of all. At Sunday School last Sunday by a unanimous rising vote they were wished much happiness—and the same wish is echoed by the News Item and all other friends.

A dance will be given every Thursday evening in Kennedy's hall, during the Summer School term. A good orchestra of four pieces has been engaged to furnish music, and a pleasant time is assured all who attend. Every one is invited to take part in this social pastime.

Summer Normal School. The Laporte Summer Normal School opened Monday afternoon with an excellent attendance of teachers and students. Prof. M. R. Black of Forksville, and Prof. E. R. Hill of Williamsport, are assisting Supt. Meylert in the work. Supt. J. Geo. Becht of Lycoming Co., will be numbered among the instructors next week. Supt. Becht will deliver a course of lectures designed especially for teachers. The last hour of both morning and afternoon sessions will be devoted to this work.

The Summer School brings to Laporte every year a most desirable company of young people who are preparing themselves for the work of teaching. Laporte should extend a most cordial welcome to these annual visitors. Every courtesy should be shown them and the school should receive the encouragement and aid of all our citizens.

—Rev. S. B. Bidlack, pastor of the Laporte M. E. church, preached an able sermon Sunday evening on a subject especially designed for young people. His sermon was a most pleasing and interesting one, being full of "good horse sense," and practical advice to the younger members in his congregation. It was a beautiful mind picture for the young, supplemented by wise counsel delivered in an earnest and convincing manner.

In this new twentieth century age where life presents the appearance of a picket fence passing at a gallop, the young are greatly in need of advice of the right kind and plenty of it.

It is glorious to be young. Youth is the time of inspiration. To youth the future is a field of unbounded opportunity. As we grow older the field narrows and is finally bounded by the lines of our employment, the end of which is indistinctly visible, marked by a tombstone or a monument, according to the value of our estate or the amount of life insurance we carry.

Somewhere along the way we pass a place where dreams vanish, where heroes are no longer eight feet high, and women are no longer all angles—when expectation grades into reality and the future is here! The question which then confronts you is—are you ready? You have reached the place where the equipment of the past must be sufficient or you fail, when you must draw on what you have accumulated and have no time for further preparation. When opportunity knocks, "if sleeping, wake; if feasting rise" before it turns away. It is the hour of fate. Be ready. We will quote Rev. Bidlack's advice—"start early in life, choose whatever occupation is most natural for you to do, and work persistently at it—start young." Be ready when your service is needed and opportunity beckons you to come forth. We pass this way but once and by every theory of human life, whether it be estimated as beginning and ending here, or whether it be believed to extend beyond the visible limits of man's estate, it is best to make it worth while to have existed.

Shunk. Misses Mary and Amy McKay, were home on a visit last week. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Warren spent the fourth with the former's parents in Bradford county. Mrs. Eudora Schindler from Elmira, is visiting her mother. There will be a musical entertainment in the church at this place, in the evening, July 16, given by Mrs. Schindler and Lyman Jackson. Admission ten cents. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. E. G. Salisbury spent two days at Hills Grove, last week. Isaac Shoemaker has enlisted in the U. S. Army. He left Elmira on Monday, July 8, for Columbus, O. Fred Letts and George Battin returned from their work in the woods to spend the fourth at home. An old fashioned table picnic was given at Shunk, in Mr. Shoemaker's grove, on July 4th. The attendance was small. W. B. Packard gave an address. There is another baby boy at the home of Francis Kilmner. Eleanor Salisbury spent the 4th at the picnic at Laporte. Last week Samuel Leonard sold two cows for $40. Clive Bohn and Mr. Mosier of Dushore, were visiting here Saturday and Sunday. Mr. A. E. Campbelle has sold farming tools this year to the value of $1200, within a radius of fifteen miles. This speaks highly for his machinery.

At the school meeting on July 6, the following teachers were employed for the coming term: E. G. Salisbury, Shunk; Lynn Bohn, North; Esther Biddle, East; Emma Biddle, Lower; Jessie Forest, South; Cora Van Veghten, S. Hill. Prof. Thayer of Dushore, was at our school meeting, and secured the adoption of Baldwin's readers, Natural geographies and McMaster's history. We are glad to see our schools take hold of best ways of promoting the good of our schools.
