U. S. SENATORSHIP THE PRIZE

The Present Guerrilla Movement is to Aid the Men Who Are Already Planning to Defeat Republican Candidates for the Legislature By Fusion.

As was predicted, the convention of the so-called Union party held in Philadelphia to pave the way for an organization against the present leadership of the Republican party of Pennsylvania was a complete failure.

With possibly two or three exceptions, there was not a man of prominence or influence in his home county in the convention.

It was a miscellaneous collection of men who have been repudiated by their fellow Republicans or who have been unsuccessful in their efforts to get office, and who takes this means to get revenge upon the Republican organization which has failed to place them in lucrative positions.

Throughout the entire proceedings of the convention the hand of Wanamaker was seen in every move made.

Wanamaker has not given up his thought of some day being made United States senator.

He has failed in his efforts to obtain this great prize through the Republican party and now his lieutenants are seeking to form a new party under whose banner they can gather all the dissatisfied, the disgruntled and discarded elements, and with an organization thus formed join hands with the Democrats and work out fusion games to defeat Republican candidates where-ever they can.

The aim and object of the formation of a "Union" party was disclosed in a speech made in the convention by former Director of Public Safety Frank M.
Riter, of Philadelphia, who was elected to the state chairmanship of the Union party. Riter has for years been a Wanamaker partisan. With him at the head of the organization, the Union party backers can be certain that Wanamaker's political interests will be safely guarded and always advanced by the Union party. It has, since Riter's election, been designated by many as the "Wanamaker Union party."

WANAMAKERISM IS RAMPANT.

Employees of Wanamaker were conspicuous in the direction of the convention.

It is not known that Colonel Mc-Clure is on any Wanamaker salary roll.

But he does contribute and draw revenue from newspapers which, from the character of their political editorials and news reports, might as well be owned by Wanamaker himself, for they are always written in his interest.

Colonel McClure is a man who has not held membership in any political party for any considerable length of time. He is now working up the Union party's organization, and he it was who placed Riter in nomination for state chairman.

In his speech accepting this position of state chairman, Riter said the present canvass is but a skirmish of next year's battle. He called attention to the fact which showed the animus of the whole movement, that next year the voters will be called upon to elect members of the legislature who will in turn be called upon to elect a United States senator.

The stress which Riter laid upon this feature of the political situation drew attention to the plans of the men behind the Union party to work the legislative districts next year by forming independent organizations at this time, which will be found co-operating with the Democrats in the election of members of the legislature.

GUFFEY IN THE GAME.

This is the reason why Colonel James M. Guffey, the Democratic national committeeman, and Democratic candidate for United States senator, is so eager to help the Union party along.
He has started to form an independent Democratic organization in Philadelphia under the guidance of Wanamaker's counselor, former Judge Gordon, and he hopes to be able to carry several Republican districts in the Quaker City for Democratic candidates for the legislature, with the aid of the Wanamaker followers.

But it is gratifying to Republicans to note that Wanamaker has been unable to muster anything like the strength his admirers supposed he could. His Union party has not cut the figure in Philadelphia politics he expected it would.

Out in western Pennsylvania, the former insurgents have deserted the insurgent colors and are rallying around the standard of stalwart Republicanism. This means a net loss of over 50 per cent. in the insurgent column in the next legislature.

ROOSEVELT A STALWART.

The doctrine of stalwart Republicanism is spreading in every district in Pennsylvania.

Recent utterances of President Rosevelt have done much to contribute to this result.

The president has declared that he proposes to recognize the regular Republican organizations in the several states through their United States senators.

There is every reason to believe the Republican national administration will give hearty support to the Republican organization of Pennsylvania.

A LITTLE KNOWN FACT.

Foley's Kidney Cure is guaranteed. Be sure to get Foley's.
