Votes for Walsh in every that can always be put down as strongly democratic when the ticket is inspiring and representative inspiring and depressing. In John H. Cronton Sac. 660 (Sec. 1) (Sec. 1)

The result of th election is by no means disheartening. Of three candidates upon the Democratic side, two were elected with good majorities. The defeat of Mr. Walsh was ties. The defeat of Mr. Walsh was due to two causes, namely; the treachery of Democratic sore-heads in Cherry township, and company bossism at Lopez and Rickets, were capital seems to control the situation. In the Western part of the county where the people act of their own volition, untramelled by the power of a master, the ballot spoke in thunderous tones denouncing present rule and oppression. Their actions bears abundant evidence of their intelligence, fairness and sense of justice. Undaunted by the little cloud, we should unite more closely for fuwe should unite more closely for fu-ture action, intent upon an over-throw of the gang who seek nothing less than ruin.—Scouten's Herald.

The official returns elsewhere in this issue furnishes figures that shows plainly the reverse of the above statements, and further shows how widespread is the revolt against Scoutenism in this county.

He states that two causes defeated his man Walsh. What were the causes that brought Reeser's defeat within 19 votes, he having but 36 plurality, when it is seen that he received upwards of 225 democratic votes while the nominal democratic majority is but 250? The popular vote against Walsh was offset by Will you ki majority is but 250? The popular vote against Walsh was offset by only two districts, Elkland and Fox, which formerly gave large Republican majorities. Had it not been for the votes of misguided Republicans Walsh's own party would have denounced him in overwhelming defeat. Had Walsh received his own party vote together with the 125 or out at low prices. more Republican support he got, his majority would have been nearly to this Home Treatment Orange Lily more Republican support he got, his 500 over Mr. Reeser. It was unthinkable that loyal Democrats could have acted otherwise than they did. They knew the work of Scouten and his sardonic opposition to everything MALINDA KILMER, Shunk, Pa., for that is honest and reputable in politics. They knew that Walsh would be nothing less than a tool for Scouten. They realized that such a man is an enemy to any party or community, and following the policy of munity, and following the policy of and delivered, there will be exposed to supporting only good men and clean public sale at the Obert House in Dushor methods must have of necessity done Sullivan County, Pa., on methods must have of necessity done as they did. "Democratic sore-heads in Cherry," as Scouten calls has no parallel in politics and with a personal interest that has faltered at no expense, none but Scouten himself will ever know what "capital it took to control the situation." The responsibility for the reduced democratic vote for Walsh rests with the one who controled the nomination in this instance. The chairman must share in the responsibility especially the relatives of John H. for the contraction of democratic
