

THURSDAY, JAN. 23 1902.

County Seat Indices.

—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Neff, a son, Jan. 21.

—H. P. Hall of Sonestown, was a county seat visitor on Monday.

—Merchant F. G. Hammond of Emmons, was a business man at the county seat, Wednesday.

—James H. Gansel, was last week appointed mercantile appraiser of Sullivan County.

—Several teams and a large number of men are engaged in stocking the yard at the stove factory with hard wood logs. The factory will be put in operation about the first of March.

—Ellery P. Ingham and family have planned to leave here for their home in New York on Friday next. Mr. Ingham has been confined to his room with a severe cold for the past week, but is now out enjoying social meetings with old time friends.

—Undertaker W. M. Calkins of Forksville, was in town Tuesday, assisting his agent, R. A. Conklin, in preparing the body of Dr. Willson, for burial. Mr. Calkins seems a man well qualified for this line of business.

—T. J. Keeler, who has been a merchant at this place for the past twenty years, has sold his store goods to C. B. Jennings of Estella, who will move to Laporte this week and will occupy rooms over the store until spring, when Mr. Keeler and family will move into the Andersons residence, and Mr. Jennings will rent Mr. Keeler's dwelling.

—Williamsport is on the eve of a business boom such as she has not had in her past history. It is not one of those transient bubbles known as a boom in many places, but a genuine boom. The firm of John N. Stearns & Co. has made a proposition to remove its dye works from Petersburg, Va., to Williamsport. $140,000 has been raised to advance the industry in size and capacity, and over 300 men will be employed.

—At a Democratic caucus held at Sonestown, Jan. 18, the following nominations were made without contest: Judge of elections, J. C. Starr; Insp., Elias Diltz; J. P., J. J. Young; Constable, W. C. Taylor; Overseer of poor, Geo. Kiess; Supervisors, J. B. Robbins, J. N. Wilson; School Directors, Geo. Myers, Parvin Kile; Auditor, R. S. Starr; Town Clerk, C. A. Starr.

The Union Tanning Company, one of the constituent companies of the United States Leather company, has completed the preliminary surveys and other arrangements for the construction of a railroad about eighty miles in length through its vast forests of Hemlock in Lycoming, Sullivan and Bradford Counties. Work on the construction of the railroad will begin in the spring and it will likely be completed within a year.

The new railroad will extend from Marsh Hill, at the mouth of Pleasant Stream, on the Northern Central, R. R. fourteen miles north of Williamsport, to a point on the Barclay railroad in southwestern Bradford County. The route will be up Pleasant Stream, via Ellenton, Shunk and a branch of Towanda Creek to Foot of Plane, on the Barclay R. R. From Marsh Hill a spur will be built north, paralleling the tracks of the Northern Central, to the company's big tanneries at Ralston and Roaring Branch, a distance of about eight miles.

The entire road will be through a forest of hemlock, and the Tanning Company's own holdings are sufficient to keep its tanneries running for the next twenty years. Large mills will be located at convenient points along the line of the new road for the purpose of converting the timber into lumber. It will afford railroad facilities for parts of Lycoming, Sullivan and Bradford Counties, that have been heretofore cut off from all outlets for vast tracts of timber and great deposits of coal. The new line will also shorten the distance between Williamsport and Towanda.

Death of Mrs. Thos. Molyneux.

Mrs. Thomas Molyneux, a well known and highly respected lady of Millview, died at her home Monday morning, after a lingering illness of several months duration which time she had suffered from cancer of stomach.

At the time of her death Mrs. Molyneux was about sixty years of age. She was a sister of the late D. T. Huckell and leaves one sister, Mrs. J. L. Snyder, and a son. She enjoyed the acquaintance of a large number of friends who will learn with deep and lasting regret of her demise and who will extend to the bereaved family in their hour of affliction their sincere and heartfelt sympathy.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at her late home.

DR. H. G. WILSON DEAD.

Succumbed to the Grim Reaper Monday Afternoon.

When death enters any home it is always sad, but when a husband, father and citizen like Dr. Wilson, is called to his final rest, it is a severe shock not only to the immediate family, but to the entire community. Early Monday morning he was taken with convulsions, and Dr. Morgan summoned Dr. Voorhees, of Sonestown, for consultation. A special train also brought Dr. Heberton, from Hughesville, but he was past medical aid. At 2 p. m. the lingering spark of life went out.

About twelve years ago he suffered a severe attack of heart trouble, but a few years later seemed to have fully recovered from the disease, and continued in good health until September of 1900, when the old complaint again manifested itself, and since then he suffered with heart trouble and brights disease.

Dr. Wilson was born at Warrensville, Lycoming county, and had but reached the age of 32 years last December. He was raised a farmer boy, and early in life completed a common school education. Later he attended the Muncy Normal, and for a time taught school, after which he entered the Millersville State Normal where he graduated. The Williamsport Commercial College gave him a thorough business training, and following this schooling he was engaged as instructor in the Pierce Business College, of Philadelphia. Desiring to follow the medical profession he took a course in the medical department at the University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, where he graduated. He first began the practice of medicine at the Harrisburg Hospital. He also practiced at Ambler, Pa., and at his home at Warrensville, before coming to Laporte, in August, 1899.

Dr. Wilson was in many ways a remarkable man. He formed those sterling attributes which command respect among men; great energy linked with truth and sobriety, honesty and integrity were his leading traits. He was one of nature's gentlemen, and his broad and liberal mind was above all that was petty or mean. He was pre-eminently a man who searched for the good qualities in others and therefore failed to see their defects. A man very precise in all that he undertook to do.

Funeral service was held at his late home on Wednesday afternoon, and the body taken to Warrensville, early Thursday morning where services were held in the Baptist Church. Interment will be made in the cemetery at Warrensville.

A widow and two small sons are left to mourn his loss.

Nelson Cox Shot at Bernice.

Nelson Cox who was last fall a candidate for Sheriff on the Republican ticket was shot but not fatally wounded, Sunday evening about six o'clock while walking along the public highway leading from Bernice to Mildred.

A party of several foreigners who were having a rollicking spree were going along the railroad track celebrating the occasion by shooting their revolvers promiscuously and carelessly. As Mr. Cox was passing at a point where the two roads lay near together, several balls passed very near to him and finally one took effect in his left leg below the knee, passing entirely through. He was not so badly injured but that he continued his journey home and is now nursing the flesh wound inflicted.

Square Hearst, of Bernice, was at the county seat Tuesday to consult with the sheriff and his attorney as to what action could be taken in this instance to make an example of some of the lawless element. These weekly jubilees, it is said, of the strike-breakers have become not only a nuisance but dangerous to the lives of the people. It is not unlikely that arrests will follow in due time.

A Sudden Death.

Wm. E. King died suddenly at his home near Nordmont Tuesday afternoon; heart trouble and dropsy being attributed to the cause of his death. Mr. King was past the age of 85 years at the time of his demise.

Deceased was highly esteemed and a man of sterling qualities. He was one of the pioneer settlers at Nordmont, where he hewed from the wilderness a fine farm.

Owing to the illness of his aged widow the funeral will take place at his late home Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in Cherry Grove cemetery.
