County Seat Indices.
AND GLANCES AT THE TIMES.

—Mrs. Mary A. Mason is convalescing from her recent illness.

—Mrs. A. L. Lovelace of Sonestown, is seriously ill with pleurisy.

—Mrs. Will Rogers who has been visiting friends at Forksville, has returned home.

—Mrs. George Snyder went to Hughesville on Tuesday to have dental work done.

—Mrs. Phoebe Magargle of Sonestown, was at the county seat on business, last Wednesday.

—Geo. Gorman and family, last week started for Bristol, Tenn. where he will engage in the lumber industry. May success go with him.

—Miss Emma Ritter who has been spending a week with relatives at Glen Mawr, has returned home.

—Married at Laporte, Pa., March 19, Mr. Elias W. Wilson and Miss Anna Morris, both of Nordmont, Pa.

—Charles Perry, of Nordmont, has leased W. C. Mason's farm near Laporte and will take possession on the 1st of April.

—Merchant A. P. Wieland, was last week appointed postmaster at Nordmont, former acting postmaster, Milton Botsford having resigned to engage in other duties.

—Atty. E. J. Mullen is in Philadelphia this week attending Supreme Court. The cases under adjustment being Jackson vs. Thomson, and McMahon vs. Carroll.

—The failure of the jury commissioners of Monroe county to take the oath of office will cost that county $1000. All the business for the regular term of court, including a murder case, has been put over until the May term.

—Mr. Joseph Gansel of Muncy Valley, father of James Gansel of this place, is in a serious condition as the result of a fall one day last week. Three ribs are broken, and it is feared he is injured internally.

—Mr. R. Nelson, formerly of Edmond, Kansas, has moved to the Andrew Mikel farm in Laporte township, near Nordmont. Mr. Nelson traded a farm in Kansas for his present home in Sullivan Co., with Taylor Speary.

—It is reported that many farmers are holding back potatoes for a still higher price. As taters are, however, now being imported by the ship load from Germany and other foreign countries, and as spring is rapidly approaching, they may not reach their expectations if they do not soon market their surplus storages.

—Rastus Yeagle is afflicted with anthrax contracted at the Laporte tannery. The deadly disease has broken out on one of his arms, and he is now under careful medical attention. Joe Dominick who is similarly diseased is reported to be in a precarious condition as his sores do not yield satisfactorily to their various treatments.

—Co. Supt. F. W. Meylert, returned home last week from Middletown N. Y., where he has been receiving treatment for his eyes, which have been greatly improved by the noted specialist who treated them. Mr. Meylert is still obliged to limit the use of his eyes and will necessarily have to continue wearing glasses for years to come.

—The ladies of the Laporte Hotel gave a St. Patrick's Eve dance to their lady friends and patrons of the hotel. A large number took part and all present pronounced it a very pleasant affair which was enjoyed into the small hours of the morning. Max Frankle, grand conductor, continually kept the merry makers—"all-ready, go." Everybody danced to the rapid time of music made by Messrs Hackley and Maben.

—The County Commissioners are having the offices in the court house nicely papered with plain tint walls and decorated ceilings. Ed. Potter is doing the work which is proof that it is being done in a strictly proper manner.

—Eva, the five year old child of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, of Eagles Mere, died Sunday evening of pneumonia. Rev. S. B. Bidlack conducted the funeral service on Wednesday afternoon.

—On next Wednesday morning, March 26th, the annual session of the Central Pennsylvania Conference will be held in Bellefonte, Pa. Rev. S. B. Bidlack is pursuing a four year course of studies prescribed by the conference and will leave this place on Monday morning, next. His first examination will be given Monday, second on Tuesday and third on Tuesday evening. There will be three daily sessions of conference for a period of seven or nine days. Rev. Bidlack will be absent from Laporte until April 4.

Labor on Strike at the Stave Factory.

The desire on the part of Trexler and Terrill to cut the wages of the outside employees from $1.50 to $1.35 per day caused a shut down at the new plant last week.

To give weight to statements made by some who speak without authority is to make the outlook appear far from promising for the anticipated boom Laporte had prepared for. It has been generally circulated that the Company will bring in a gang of Hungarians to take the strikers' jobs at a much less rate of wages now offered. Some of those who struck have since considered the matter and see the outcome of warring against fate and have decided to return to their places for temporary employment. Taking all into consideration the class of men that will hire for 1.25 and those who draw the line at 1.50 there is big odds in favor of the higher scale for the Company's own benefit; a fact to be learned later by experience. Supt. James Monroe says the factory will resume work sometime this week.

Dushore Item.

The Monroeton railroad bridge took its monthly float down Towanda Creek with the freshest Sunday night. The iron bridge at that place was taken out by the flood in December and was replaced by a temporary trestle to await spring and the rebuilding of an iron structure. This trestle was removed by flood in January, again in February, and again last Sunday, which interfered with our train service for a day or two. The Lehigh Valley has had hard luck this winter.

There seems to be a scarcity of tenant houses in Dushore, this spring.

Rev. D. A. Artman of York county, formerly pastor of the Evangelical church at this place, was calling on friends here and at Wilmot, last week.

Henry Honnetter, died at the home of his son, Geo. H. Honnetter of this place on Wednesday evening of last week, at the advanced age of nearly 90 years. The remains were taken to his former home at Conyngham, Luzerne county, for interment.

Moving day will soon be at hand. Rev. W. J. Campbell, was away to conference last week, has been returned by that body as pastor of the Evangelical church of Dushore for another year.

It is reported that several Colley township farmers are preparing to go West this spring to seek their fortunes.

—Miss Carrie E. Hess, of Lincoln Fall, this county, died at the Williamsport Hospital, Thursday of last week. She was taken ill nine weeks ago with appendicitis, and was then taken to the hospital where two operations were performed, but neither one proved successful. Miss Hess was 21 years of age, and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends who mourn her untimely death. The remains were brought to her late home at Lincoln Falls, Friday. The funeral services were held at Estella church on Sunday.

—William Reader of Colley township, was tried in United States court at Scranton, on the charge of making, having in his possession and passing counterfeit coins. He was found guilty of all three charges. The jury was out but a few minutes, and Judge Archbald immediately prescribed Reader's medicine which is to be confinement in the Western penitentiary at Pittsburg, for a term of two years and six months.

Reader was arrested on Jan. 14, at Colley, by Deputy Marshall Lapp and Guy C. Hollon, at which time a number of counterfeit nickles and dimes were found in his possession. His housekeeper, a Mrs. Yanny was also arrested but was not held. Reader no doubt got a heavier sentence than would have been meted out to him had he not persisted in pleading not guilty even after he was as good as convicted. He has been confined at one time in the Danville insane asylum, and a few years ago made a murderous attack on Sheriff Osler with ax.

POLICEMAN'S TERRIBLE BEATING

Angry Chief Nearly Killed Officer Who Criticized Him.

Williamsport, Pa., March 15.—During a quarrel last night at the city hall between Chief of Police Frank F. Stryker and Patrolman A. B. Simmons, both officers came to blows, and as a result Simmons is now lying in the hospital in a critical condition.

Simmons, who is a candidate for the position of chief of police under the newly-elected mayor, called at the city hall last night, and in an aggressive manner proceeded to criticize the administration of Chief Stryker. The latter resented the insults heaped on him by Simmons, and in his anger struck Simmons, knocking him to the stone floor and administered a terrible beating. Simmons was taken to the hospital in an unconscious state. The physicians state that he is suffering from concussion of the brain, and that his condition is serious.

Chief Stryker disappeared shortly after the encounter and his whereabouts is unknown. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Miles Wanted to Go to Philippines.

Washington, March 17.—Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, of the army, made a specific request to the war department to be sent to the Philippines, and in connection therewith submitted a plan by which, in his opinion, the war could be brought to an end without further loss of life to either side. He proposed to employ methods similar to those used by him so successfully in his Indian campaigns. Secretary Root, after due consideration, denied General Miles' request and disapproved the plan submitted.
