County Seat Indices.
AND GLANCES AT THE TIMES.

—Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Jillson, on Friday last, a son.

—Judging from his appearance, the first robin hasn't as yet discarded his winter flannel.

—John Hassin Jr., has gone to Jersey Shore where he has secured paying employment.

—Prof. F. W. Meylert has sufficiently recovered from his severe cold that he is able to be out again.

—Delroy Heim left here Monday for Bellwood, Pa., where he has secured employment in an iron foundry.

—Mr. D. J. Sheehan was taken to the Williamsport Hospital on Friday for treatment. His condition is reported to be very serious.

—Atty. Wm. P. Shoemaker will move from the brick house to the dwelling house of I. B. Ikler as soon as vacated by Mr. Reichard.

—Mr. L. T. Reichard will move his family from this place to Nordmont the last of this week, and will work his father-in-law's farm the coming season.

—Mr. M. E. Reeder made a business trip to Philadelphia the early part of this week, in connection with the purchase of a large timber tract in Virginia.

—Owing to the impassable condition of the road between Eagles Mere and Forksville, Jerome Reed was obliged to carry the mail down the Sock road the greater part of last week.

—The Superior Court, last week affirmed the lower court in the case of Howard Lyons vs. L. T. Richard, which was tried in Sullivan county and resulted in a verdict for the defendant.

—Ex-Sheriff H. W. Osler of Berne, was a business man at the county seat Friday. He registered at the Commercial and hobnobbed with Landlord Temple, for whom he has a great admiration.

—Mr. J. A. Gibbs will move his family to Dushore sometime this week where they will take up their residence on Jacob Yonkin's farm. Mr. Gibbs will try his hand at practical farming for a few years.

—Prof. L. L. Ford of Philadelphia, and a summer resident of Laporte, in a course of lectures recently given at Cooper Institute Hall, New York City, gave two lectures on Great Cities, taking as his subject "Philadelphia," illustrated by stereopticon views.

—Dr. C. M. Heberton recently sold his medical practice at Hughesville to Dr. M. H. Smith of Philadelphia, and last week started with John G. Snowden for Colorado where they will engage in sheep raising on a large scale.

—Constable A. A. Baker has recovered from the effects of a sprained ankle that confined him to the house for several weeks. He joined with leisure friends about town Tuesday for the first after his recovery and awakened old time amusement for the boys in his characteristic humorous style.

—The exact amount of damage done to property by the series of floods in this Spring breakup is now reaching its aggregate proportion in cold figures and the million mark is many times doubled. Laporte, of course, does not figure in any of the catastrophes, its only danger of damage by water lies wholly in the possibility of its coming in violent contact with passing clouds.

—David Temple, the popular and enterprising landlord of the Commercial was an out of town business transactor on Monday. "Dave" is a sole and lone example of a good hotel man and when becomingly dressed with his moustache given the Kaiser-William upward curve he might easily be taken for a railroad magnate.

ADJOURNED COURT NEWS.

A Busy Day in Legaldom at the Seat of Justice. The County Attorneys will Have a Public Law Library.

Adjourned argument court resumed at 9 o'clock Tuesday, with Judges E. M. Dunham, John D. Reeser and Jacob Meyers presiding.

A petition was presented with the following named attorneys as a committee to put in force the Act of Assembly relative to the purchase of a public law library: E. J. Mullen, Thos. J. Ingham, R. J. Thomson, A. J. Bradley and John H. Cronin. Approved by the Court. This act provides that a certain portion of Commonwealth costs be used to purchase a law library for court use. These costs arise chiefly from forfeited bail for want of an appearance in trial and in many instances a non appearance before a justice when bail has been entered no, steps are taken to collect from the bondsmen. This Act is intended as a stimulant for those to be benefited by a law library to take action in collecting these neglected accounts.

Exceptions to report of viewers on road from Double Run to Eagles Mere, was brought up. The exceptions were: first, that the road was not needed and too expensive and burdensome to the taxpayers of Shrewsbury township to bear; second, that the viewers did not view the road at the time appointed in the notice; third, that one of the petitioners was appointed and acted as one of the viewers. After hearing arguments, Court set aside the report and appointed re-viewers on the same petition as follows: Nathan Person, Wm. B. Lowe and Harry Arms.

DR. JOHN CORR.

A Hustling Candidate for Representative Who Claims Hearty Support from Leading Democrats.

Many of our readers will recognize the above picture as that of Dr. John Corr, who styles himself a Thomsonian physician. For many years he has been seeking the election of Member of Assembly, as he claims belongs to him by rights. He is the author of a botany bill, that he feels would be a great benefit to the poor people of this Commonwealth. He is very enthusiastic for the bill to come before the House, but will not entrust it with lobbyists. He thinks it necessary that he handle it himself, and is always found electioneering while making his regular visits in different parts of the country, selling his noted pain cures.

The teachers' local institute of Saturday evening was a decided success. Shrewsbury teachers were in attendance, and H. H. Green, in a paper illustrated the bonds of sympathy between the Davidson teachers and some others outside the Twp. and professional lines. Great interest centered round the debate: Resolved that the interests of the country demand a strict enforcement of the compulsory school law. Aff. C. H. Warren, Myrtle Edgar, Walter Hazen, Walter Lorah. Neg. R. S. Starr, Clara Streby, W. B. Hazen, B. G. Welch. The judges, M.P. and L. R. Gavitt and John Watson gave the affirmative the victory. Several songs of a pleasing character were given, and the visitors declared themselves well repaid for the evening's walk.

The Honesdale Independent is authority for the statement that Cocheton, the prosperous village devastated by the late flooded Delaware river, will never be built up again, as the property owners have no heart to replace their buildings on the old site, knowing full well that a repetition of the same disaster may be expected again, as breakups are liable to be more sudden and more destructive in the future than they were while the hillsides were covered with timber.

—A Philadelphia paper declares that Archbishop Ryan was recently about to take a train for Baltimore at the Broad street Station, when a young man accosted him saying: "Your face is familiar; where in hell have I seen you?" "I really don't know," replied the archbishop blandly; "what part of hell do you come from."

Killed By His Own Gun. Washington, March 24.—Anton Schoelitz, a German tailor, living on a farm near this city, met a shocking accident yesterday. He was crawling through a fence with a double-barreled shot gun in his hand, with which he intended to shoot hawks that had preyed on his chickens, when the gun was accidentally discharged, and the entire contents of one barrel tore through Schoelitz's left side, leaving a gaping wound, exposing to view the intestines and the lower lobe of the left lung.
