It required half the mill hands, the factory men and the remaining men in and about the station to prevent the fire from gaining a foot hold in the cluster of houses about the store. The Hungarian shanty occupied by L. V. section hands, caught fire and burned to the ground. The woman of the house was out trying to prevent the fire from gaining ground and left the children in the house and if it were not for some of the office men of the Lumber Company, who went in and rescued them, they probably would have perished.

Death of Dewitt Gritman.

Mr. Dewitt Gritman, one of our most respected and leading citizens and farmer, passed away at his home near Nordmont on Monday, April 21.

For several months he was severely afflicted with abscess of the bowels which confined him to his room and deprived him of any rest, causing at times almost unendurable pains. During his illness his family and also his friends, who were the entire community, waited with anxious hopes, trusting that the tide might turn in his favor. But alas, Death is no respecter of person and cannot be arrested in his destructible advance, sweeping down upon a bright progressive home.

Mr. Gritman came to Nordmont when a boy, sought employment on an early pioneer farm, and by industry and economy paid for his beautiful home. He was always identified with causes that advanced his community and country. He was a soldier of the civil war, a member of the 177 Regiment and served out his entire enlistment, having entered in the year '62. He was a prominent supporter of the M. E. church situated near his home. He contributed largely for the aid of the poor. He was for many years an active and respected member of the I. O. O. F. and G. A. R. of Sonestown.

The funeral was held in the Cherry Grove M. E. Church on Wednesday afternoon. It was one of the largest witnessed for many years. The services were conducted by Rev. S. B. Bidlack of Laporte, also by the I. O. O. F. and the Grand Army.

Four men, Burt Hazen, Frank Magargel, Marcus Horn and J. C. Starr bore in advance of the remains wreathes of evergreen, lillies and flowers. The pall bearers were six of his old comrades in the war, J. V. Finkle, Asa Speary, George Kiess, W. M. Sherwood, B. O. Speary and D. M. Speary.
