EAGLES MERE.

Between twenty and thirty members of the Football Team of the University of Pennsylvania arrived at Hotel Raymond on last Friday and it is expected that the number will be increased to about forty. The party will stay here until the latter part of September for drill and exercise preparatory to their campaign during the fall and winter. They are a strenuous crowd and make things lively while they are around. After their work on the field they take a plunge bath and a swim at the beach, then a rub down and then a decent on the provisions around the table at the Raymond. It is said that they prefer Eagles Mere to any other place for this drill because they are so well entertained at the Raymond, the Ball Field is close at hand and the beach affords such a grand place for the daily bath.

Owing to a slight break in the pumping machinery at the Crestmont Power House the water supply for that great hostelry is being furnished by the Water Co.

The tide of travel has now turned homeward as the schools generally open about Sept. 1st, and parents must depart to make the needful preparations.

If they are not killed by the frost quite a number of improvements are to be undertaken for next season. The Chautauqua people have in contemplation several changes. One is that the miserable arrangements of the lights along the board walk from the steamer landing to Chautauqua entrance is to be bettered. As they are now the pedestrian walks always in his own shadow or that of the person in front of him or her. We are constantly in fear of stepping on each others skirts or getting off the walk. All that is needed is to put the lamp on the other side of the poles.

The management of the Chautauqua Inn have decided that its name is misleading in the fact that it gives the impression that it is somewhat of a religious house and to set the public mind aright on that subject the name is to change to that of "The Forest Inn" so as to avoid the possibility of any misunderstanding on the subject.

Rumor has it that Miss Dreisbach's pretty booth is not large enough for the business done and that its location is to be changed and the building considerably enlarged.

It is also said that "The Forest Inn" is to receive very considerable additions as to rooms and that some entirely new arrangement is in contemplation for the dining room.

The surroundings of the Chautauqua station will be in keeping with the other parts of the grounds and it is believed that Chautauqua will represent much the largest invested capital of the place.

The President of the Post Office Club congratulated the Club on its success in securing the corrections of difficulties in and around the Borough. It had undoubtedly had a large influence in bringing about the completion of the sidewalk in the east end, that occupied the best attention of the "Business Mens Improvement League," and the action of the Club at its last meeting on the subject of the loose stones on the street resulted in a man being sent out with a rake and he worked several hours and gathered at least five or six piles of stones. It was thought that it might be necessary to pass another resolution at the next meeting so as to urge on the work.

One of the members thought it might be a good thing to appoint a committee to call on President Roosevelt at some convenient time and offer him assistance on the Trust question or anything else that is likely to be too much for him. It was decided to postpone any action of that kind until it could be ascertained whether the money could be raised for the expense of such a committee.

The Popular Candidate.

WILL LEAD HIS PARTY TO VICTORY IN NOVEMBER.

Making Friends Who will Cast Their Vote to Help Make His an Overwhelming Majority.

HON. F. A. GODCHARLES, CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

The young man whose face you see within these lines is a plucky boy who began life at the bottom of life's ladder and is gradually making his way to the top. There is nothing ready made about the subject of this sketch. Although one of the firm operating Milton's largest iron industries, he nevertheless wears common clothes and washes the factory grime from his person when frequently working with his employees. Mr. Godcharles served his constituents in a most able and worthy manner in the last legislature, and his excellent qualifications for the position he now seeks are readily acknowledged by his political opponents. That he is thoroughly appreciated by his party in Sullivan county was demonstrated at our county convention where he mingled freely with our citizens and won the admiration that immediately ripened into friendships of the most true and distinct order. He will get a handsome vote from Sullivan county, and he deserves it.
