It stares us in the face that the outstanding obligation of Sullivan County on the 1st of January 1902, amounted to $63,433.48, as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Rows include Bonds ($38,000.00), Interest bearing orders (20,052.90), Judgements (5,380.49), Total ($63,433.48).

The Commissioners are respectfully requested to inform the tax payers how much of this debt has been paid, if any, since the Auditors' report was filed.

The astounding street railway bill that the Pennsylvania Legislature has just passed, in observance to an order from "Matt" Quay, whereby every street as yet unoccupied by rails in every city, town or village of the state is handed over to a company that may use them for any sort of transit it chooses—elevated, underground or surface—is the most villainous piece of legislation ever seen in this country.

This bill was passed finally, June 5, 1901. It was bitterly opposed by Creasy, Paul and other Democratic members. It was on second reading June 4, 1901. It is interesting to know how Scouter's man Rogers voted on this bill.

The first amendment was offered by Creasy; Rogers voted yea.

The second amendment was offered by Paul; Rogers voted yea.

The third amendment was offered by Creasy; Rogers was out of the House.

The fourth amendment was offered by Creasy; Rogers voted Nay.

The fifth amendment was offered by Creasy; Rogers voted Nay.

The sixth amendment was offered by Creasy; Rogers voted Nay.

Rogers voted Yea, on final passage of the bill.

Question.—Where did Rogers go when he left the House after the second amendment? Whom did he see? Why did he change his mind?

With these facts before Sullivan county voters, do they think Scouter's man Rogers is a safe man to represent their interests if a rich corporation is on the other side?

During the past week Hon. Fred. Godcharles, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district met with a royal reception in Bloomsburg. His rooms at the Exchange Hotel, where he established headquarters on Thursday and Friday were crowded by hundreds of enthusiastic supporters. His candidacy appeals strongly to the younger element of the party.—Bloomsburg Ex.

The Cross Forks News, a weekly paper at Cross Forks, Pa., changed hands last week. Oliver W. Grim formerly of this place is the new editor. The first issue was a breezy number and claims to be one of the independent family. If future issues continue as good as the first, it will have a good list of subscribers to draw upon for revenue.

That Scouter is in mortal fear of the popularity of A. L. Dyer, is evidenced by his last week Herald. Such a crazy jumble as his leading editorial is seldom seen. First he puts on a patronizing air. "Friends of Dyers don't vote for him; he has a good business; he is making money; his election will confer no honor on him. He is a good fellow, don't ruin him by voting for him." In the next sentence he insinuates that his dear friend Dyer has got a plum; that awful Doctor Christian has given him a plum, and behold the result! Dyer is being led around by the nose, by a doctor who is dead beyond a resurrection. And further Dyer has been infected by an inhalation of the dead doctor's breath and that has made him the dead doctor's tool; and last of all his dear friend Dyer is hiding all of this rottenness behind his smiling countenance.

If the man who writes such nonsense as this keeps out of the insane asylum until election he will do well.

A. L. Dyer was unanimously nominated by as large and intelligence a convention as ever assembled in this county. His character for honesty and business ability has never been questioned. It is simply an outrage to attack him in this manner which Scouter has adopted.

In answer to the question asked in another column as to whom it was Mr. Rogers saw when he left the House after the third amendment was offered by Creasy to the Corporation bill, it may be his explanation that he consulted with the ghost of Henry Clay. It will be remembered that in his speech at Laporte, Mr. Rogers said that he was a great admirer of the great "Henry" and was striving to follow in his footsteps. But what argument did Henry's ghost use which persuaded him to change his mind and vote along with the rich corporation? Mr. Scouter probably knows.

Our popular candidate for Congress to fill the unexpired term of R. K. Polk, is a gentleman of strict probity and sterling character, his word is his bond and has never gone to protest. It is little wonder that all classes are falling into line to help elect him for the very important position he now seeks. He stands out boldly as a creditor to his party, never having received reward for the valued services rendered. He has labored on a slate picker up to a business man of prominence. He is a worthy citizen and should have your vote.

The Republican party workers are lining up solidly to give Hon. F. A. Godcharles a handsome majority. The general impression is that he is the man for the place, when compared with his opponent. In the industrial centers of the district such as Shamokin, Bloomsburg, Milton, Berwick, Mt. Carmel and Watsonstown the healthiest kind of a sentiment prevails. This is better understood by the laboring classes, and they are making a desperate attempt with their united forces to place their friend of labor, Fred. A. Godcharles in the halls of Congress. Their preference for him has that decisiveness that signifies much. This, too, at the home of both candidates, in Milton. Here where he is best known the whole community honor him for the many good acts he has gone through with for their benefit. He is, as is well known, at the head of a big manufacturing concern and the hundreds of men who have at one time or another found employment have discovered in him a square man. He has toiled since childhood both in securing an education and establishing a business, and therefore knows the worth as reward of labor. No better compliment could be paid him, for a man who takes good care of his employees surely is a man, and in these days there are many who do not. Mr. Godcharles is needed in Washington next term of Congress. He is competent and will be a credit to represent the voters of this district.

Claiming and Having.

To make the claim of possessing the spirit of Christ is not enough. If we have his spirit, we shall express his spirit. No man can be filled with the life of his Lord and manifest the spirit of the devil.—Rev. L. A. Crandall, Baptist, Chicago.

The Rock of Salvation.

The vital principle of the Christian church is that the religion is founded upon Christ, the rock of our salvation. See how the religion of Christ spreads and increases, even as the tiny mustard seed, from Christ through Andrew to Simon, and so to the world.—Rev. E. C. Moore, Congregationalist, Providence, R. I.

Christian's Use of Money.

Giving money is a part of man's religious life and a test of character. Money is not only the standard of value—a man also is valued by it. The world values a man by his money, and so does Christ. The world asks, How much does a man own? Christ asks, How does a man use his money? The world thinks most about money that a man gets. Christ most about money a man gives. And when a man gives the world asks, How much has he given? Christ asks, What was his motive?—Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh, Reformed Church, Pittsburg.

The Noblest Aristocracy.

To belong to the church of the carpenter of Nazareth is to be of the noblest aristocracy the earth can have. Life is of far higher meaning than just making a living. We common men need not be just earning and eating. We may be living in the truth and walking amid the inspirations that came into that life of common labor there in Nazareth. That is one thing the fellowship of the church of Christ should mean—that we partake together here in the greatest things God has.—Rev. Pearse Finch, Congregationalist, Chicago.

PENROSE CLUB'S GIFT

It Donates $500 to the Striking Miners' Treasury.

The Penrose Republican Club of Philadelphia is the first political organization in the state to donate funds to the striking miners. At its last meeting $500 was voted to that object and a check was promptly forwarded to President John Mitchell. The president of the club, Sheriff Wencell Hartman, was endorsed by the members for the vacancy on the bench caused by the resignation of Judge Pennypacker.

TRYING TO END STRIKE

Senators Quay and Penrose Ask President Baer to End the Trouble.

On Wednesday last Senators Quay and Penrose called on President Baer of the Reading Railroad, and tried to persuade him to lend his influence towards ending the strike in the anthracite region.

The senators explained that they had received thousands of requests from all over the state, asking them to intercede with the president of the Reading Railroad to end the struggle. To this Mr. Baer replied with a type-written statement setting forth the operators' side of it. A general discussion ensued, but President Baer refused to retreat from the position he had taken, and the conference was without definite result, although Senators Quay and Penrose urged every argument at their command.

PENNYPACKER ENDORSED

Knights of Labor Pass Resolutions Eulogizing the Judge.

At the last meeting of the George W. Childs Assembly, No. 6,401, Knights of Labor, of Philadelphia, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, The Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, during his many years' occupancy of the court of common pleas bench, has proven himself an able, honorable and upright judge, and ever impartial in his decisions affecting labor; therefore be it

"Resolved, That we hereby congratulate him upon his nomination for governor of this commonwealth, and pledge him our most hearty and undivided support; also

"Resolved, That the secretary be instructed to send an official copy of these resolutions to every labor union in the state, as well as to the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker."

(Signed) "A. H. P. LEUP, Secretary, 6,401."

Obligation to the Home.

While it is true that most persons do not go to church often enough, there are many who go to church too often. No man or woman has a right to take a class in the Sunday school when a Sunday school class is being neglected at home. Any social or philanthropic organization which makes one want to get away from home life or home duties is a detriment, no matter what else it may be doing.—Rev. Charles Stelzle, Methodist, St. Louis.

Faith's Satisfying Basis.

Only where the light of revelation shines and the teachings of that revelation are accepted does faith find a satisfying basis or hope rise into assurance.—Rev. Dr. Chivers, Baptist, Brooklyn.
