The President is giving the country a magnificent illustration of genuine energy in the White House.
He has convinced Congress of the necessity of anti-trust legislation and the result promises to be prompt relief from the evils attending the existence of certain trusts.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Hill of Williamsport, died at her late home in years. Mrs. Hill was born and reared was a sister of Wallace Little who afternoon. Deceased leaves a husband, four adult children, one broth-

Last week Pres. Baer of the Coal Trust came out in an interview in which he placed the blame for the scarcity of coal in New York upon the lazy miners and the independent operators. The next day the New York World printed photographs showing about fifty miles of loaded coal cars near Jersey City.
This coal is owned by the P. & R. the D. L. & W. and the C. R. of N. J. Shocked by the photographic exposure Pres. Thomas came to the aid of Baer with an interview in which he said, "true it is we have the coal but there are not lighters enough to transport it across the raging waters of the Hudson." Then the World unkindly printed another photograph showing hundreds of lighters and canal boats tied up in their winter quarters all of which their owners said they would be glad to put to work. In reply to this the last statement of the Trust is that while it may be true they have the coal and could get the lighters, yet the coal is frozen in the cars and no mortal could move it. Further development in this tragedy (for it is tragedy for the freezing poor) will be awaited with interest.

A social dance will be given at the Commercial Hotel on Friday evening.
