County Seat
Local and Personal Events
Tersely Told.

'Squire A. B. Kilmer was a Laporte business man on Monday.

Judge and Mrs. E. M. Dunham are Philadelphia visitors this week.

Supt. H. L. White of Hillsgrove was a Sunday visitor at the county seat.

Attorney W. P. Shoemaker left on Thursday morning for a business trip to Philadelphia.

Messrs. H. H. Grean and J. B.
Porter of Shunk were Sunday callers at this place last week.

Mrs. Green of Hillsgrove, visited her daughter, Mrs. L. R. Gumble at this place.

Merchant Vernon Hull of Hills-grove transacted business at Laporte on Tuesday.

Ice cream and warm sugar will be sold at the home of Mr. A. J. Hackley, Wednesday evening March 18.

The Ladies of the M. E. Church will hold a warm sugar social at the home of Mrs. G. S. Eddy Wednesday evening, March 18.

Ernest Lauer returned on Monday from Philadelphia where he was engaged as a time keeper for a street contractor. He will remain at home during the coming summer.

The ice harvesters on Lake Mokoma were compelled to end work abruptly on Saturday on account of rain. The unfavorable weather has not permitted any further progress and has made it impossible to properly protect the crop already harvested. Messrs. Mason and Fox anticipate bad results from their investment if the present conditions prevail much longer.

Owing to the increasing business of the W. & N. B. railroad several changes have recently taken place.
Mr. Knipe has been assigned to take charge of the Eagles Mere railroad with office at Stonestown, and Mr.
Newman will assist Mr. Townsend in the office at Hughesville.

The W. & N. B. railroad company have opened a boarding house at Satterfield for the accommodation of their employes who are compelled to secure their meals and remain over night at that end of the road. Mrs.
Gallagher has charge of the house and will see that her boarders are well cared for. She will also serve meals to the traveling public.

There is a report and the rumor is well founded, that a wealthy company has purchased all the wood from the Union Tanning Co. which can be converted into paper and will erect a large paper mill at Wheel-erville, near Shunk. The mill will have a big outfit and will employ about 300 men. It is expected that the mill will make a kind of paper that can be made from wood pulp.—

Postmaster Newman of Hughes-ville, and one of the interested stockholders and directors of the new weekly paper soon to be started at that place, transacted business at Laporte on Wednesday and also made the News Item a pleasant call.
Hughesville's new paper will have unlimited capital behind it, and will be ably edited by Mr. Schuyler, formerly editor of the Williamsport Evening News.

The tie vote between Amos Little and Harry Fiester for auditor of Laporte township, resulted in the appointment of E. C. Peters on Tuesday. Mr. Lyman Harvey being ill was unable to be present at the Auditors meeting on Monday. The work was postponed until Wednesday when the accounts were adjusted by Messrs. Peters and Botsford.

Prosecutor, Morris Freman of Towanda, and defendant Eugene Shafer of Williamsport; appearances, Meylert for prosecutor and Mullen for defendant were the principals in 'Squire Keeler's court on Saturday.
The charge was that of obtaining money by false pretense. The evidence was such to cause the defendant to effect a settlement.

The editor of the Review believes he is telling the truth in saying that the News Item must feel cheap and ridiculous in giving half our space in taking public notice of the Review editor That journal guards with jealous care any comment on its editor, it seemingly desiring to reserve this right exclusively for itself, and as a matter of fact takes delight in overworking the paragraphs with ex-altations and flattery for its high chief.
No other paper but the News Item was ever known to lend assistance to the Review in praising Newell and he now admits it looked ridiculous to see so much space thus wasted.
"It is to laugh."

THE POLITE NEW YORKER.

His Action Proved That Gallantry Is Not a Lost Art.

"Don't tell me any more that New Yorkers are not polite," chirruped the young man who "takes a powerful sight of notice" to the old man who reads as he rides as the pair left an elevated train. "Saw something a little while ago that convinces me there are others besides blanket Indians on the Manhattan reservation."

"What was it?" queried the man who reads and sees nothing unless perchance it be a vacant seat spotted afar off over the top of his newspaper.

"You didn't notice it? Of course you didn't. You were too busy forgetting the fact that there were women in the aisle of the car. It happened between Ninety-third and Eighty-first streets, and it almost made me feel that the days of chivalry had returned. An old woman was holding on a strap and standing in front of a dapper chap with a blase face.

"Step up farther in the center of the car," shouted the guard, and the old lady was about to obey when the dapper head opened and its owner gallantly said:
"Don't move, madam. I get off at Fifty-third street and Eighth avenue, and if you'll wait you can have my
seat."

"Such gallantry on an elevated train in New York almost brought moisture to my eyes, and if I had had a baseball bat I am quite sure that I could not have restrained myself from bringing moisture to that part of the blase face which on the gridiron is usually protected by a rubber guard."—New York

Health Making Storms.

What the tide does in the ocean of water storms do in the ocean of air—deteriorous and poisonous germs are removed or killed. The noticeable smell of ozone after a thunderstorm and the increased bodily comfort are well known. Storms, in the main, are due to the action of our atmosphere in resisting the escape of the radiant heat.
Even at the equator great cold exists at the trifling height of four miles above sea level, which is reduced to three during the night. One week of continued night in the tropics would lock them in the grip of eternal frost and put an end to all life. Now and again the upper fluid is punctured, so to speak, and through the breach so caused a downward rush with rotary movement is made till equilibrium is again restored. Storms, therefore, are essentially beneficent, both to health and life. They reshape for use the necessary life giving air and warmth as earthquakes do the crust of the earth.

The Need of Action.

What we need is action. The glory of the Lord depends upon those who will take hold and move forward.— Rev. A. C. Ward, Baptist, Atlanta.
