A GRANGE LIBRARY.

An Important Consideration in the Best Grange Work.

It is well for us to remember in our outline of grange work for the year before us that some provision should be made for a library, or, if one is already owned, then additions should be made to it systematically. There is nothing which enters more deeply into the warp and woof of one's character than the books we read. The practice of keeping before the minds of our young men and young women beautiful and uplifting images, bright, cheerful and helpful thoughts from good books is of inestimable value. The difference between the educated and the uneducated. Next to the actual society of a noble, high minded author is the benefit to be gained by reading his books. The mind is brought into harmony with the hopes and ideals of the writer, so that it is impossible afterward to be satisfied with low or ignoble things. The horizon of the reader broadens, his point of view changes, his ideals are higher and nobler, and his outlook on life is more elevated. Let the grange library become a permanent fixture.—G. A. Fuller.

National Secretary C. M. Freeman.
C. M. Freeman of Ohio has been appointed secretary of the National Grange Patrons of Husbandry to fill the unexpired term of John Trimble, deceased. Mr. Freeman was born in Miami county, O., on a farm in 1862 and has lived all his life in the same county on a farm, except while attending Ada university, where he graduated in 1882. He joined the Order when he was sixteen years of age and has been an earnest, faithful member from that time until the present. He was lecturer of the Ohio state grange from 1894 to 1898 and elected secretary of the Ohio state grange in 1900 and re-elected in 1902. For several years past he has conducted the grange department in the National Stockman and Farmer, which position he resigned on his entry on the duties of secretary of the national grange. Mr. Freeman's life has been devoted to agriculture, and such spare time as has been at his command has been used to improve the educational advantages of the boys and girls on the farm and to advance the material welfare of the agricultural classes.

C. M. FREEMAN.

The Grange as an Educator.
Worthy Master W. F. Hill of the Pennsylvania state grange, referring to the educational work of the grange in his annual address, said it affords the very best opportunity for the farmer to develop into a man of culture and of broad mind. The exchange of ideas, the social intercourse it provides for the farmer and his family, the valuable discipline of this well established, conservative organization, are all strong factors in building a better, stronger rural citizenship. Who is it that has membership in the grange that is not conscious of its having made him a stronger man, with more love for our beloved country and all her grand and noble institutions? Who is there among the intelligent citizens of our commonwealth who loves the state and glories in her development but honors and respects the grange for achievements and possibilities in the education and elevation of our rural population?

The decision of the coal strike commission is a decided victory for the miners, although the Miner's union is not recognized. The most important feature of the awards is the 10 per cent increase given the contract miners, and shorter hours per day for other miners. This is to continue in force until March 31, 1906. The increase to the 140,000 anthracite miners of Pennsylvania will annually amount to $6,000,000. The reduction in hours gives nine hours a day with ten hours pay to 90,000 men. Back pay amounting to nearly $3,000,000 will be paid to the miners. The report is an advanced step in the settlement of dispute between capital and labor by arbitration.

Local notes handed to the correspondent will be appreciated by the Laporte News Item.

Mr. J. M. Houser is reported as rapidly improving and expects to return home about the 4th of April.

The chief business of the million-aires in New York, just now, seems to be in swearing off their taxes. Astor, Rockefeller, Vanderbilts and a host of others are on the list as dodgers. J. Pierpont Morgan told the tax officials he would pay on $400,000 or nothing. His offer was accepted. Along with this comes the news that Rockefeller got an eight million dollar check last week for his quarterly dividend in Standard Oil. Sometime it is likely that tax dodging and monopoly will not be healthy for American aristocrats. In the meantime the people must grin and bear it.
