State Chairman Penrose Receives Many Cheering Reports.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS AROUSED

They Are Lining Up Throughout Pennsylvania For Roosevelt and Determined to Pell a Great Vote in November.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 29 .- During the last 24 hours Senator Penrose, as chairman of the Republican state committee, has been getting in touch with the situation in the state and he is very much gratified with what he has learned regarding the condition of the party organization and popular senti-ment in the several counties. The senator returned on Sunday from a hunting trip in British Columbia and was naturally interested in political developments during his absence.

The state chairman found on his desk reports from every Republican county chairman in the state that had been made in accordance with a re-quest sent out some time ago by Secretary W. R. Andrews for a preliminary canvass, and in every instance he had occasion to be pleased with

"It is indeed gratifying," said Chair man Penrose, "to find the men identified with the party organization throughout the state manifesting so keen an interest in the approaching election. There is every reason to believe that the Republican county com mitteemen and the party voters gen erally recognize the importance of our getting out a full vote in November, and that they are determined to let nothing undone to accomplish this re-

ALL FOR ROOSEVELT.

Senator Penrose was particularly pleased with the reports regarding the convention of the State League of Republican Clubs held at Wilkesbarre, which marked practically the opening of the state campaign, and regretted that unforeseen circumstances had prevented him from being present. The large attendance and the enthusiasm witnessed at this convention must be taken as additional evidence of the ardor with which the young Republicans of Pennsylvania are entering in-to the spirit of the campaign with a view to preparing for the presidential election of next year. They are all for Roosevelt, and they want it known that they are going to see to it that he receives the nomination to succeed himself in the White They stand solidly with the Pennsylvania Republican organization

After reaffirming their fealty and devotion to the principles of Republican-ism, as set forth in the state and national platforms of the party and in dorsing the state candidates, the club men declared:

"We give our most cordial indorsement to the splendid administration of President Theodore Roosevelt, who so fully exemplifies and reflects our ideal of American citizenship in both private and public life, and we com-mend his courageous, sound and pa-triotic administration. We congratu-late him on the success he has already attained both at home and in his foreign policy, and pledge him our earnest support in his future labors in be half of our great country.

"We also congratulate the people of Pennsylvania upon the safe and conservative administration of our state affairs, Governor Pennypacker having already proved himself a wise, prudent, firm and conscientious executive.

"Believing in organization, we pledge ourselves to the service of our party and our country in the battle of 1904 for the maintenance of protection to American labor, a sound financial pol-icy and the development of American influence for commerce and civiliza

MASSES ARE AROUSED.

That is where the Young Republicans of Pennsylvania stand in this contest.

Many members of the State League are farmers or business or profesional men, who take but an occasional in terest in politics, but that they are all now aroused to the importance of the

The sentiments of the Republicans of Northampton were eloquently ex-pressed a few days ago by their county convention, which among other things

"The general prosperity of the country, which has been realized from the Republican tariff laws based upon the cardinal principle of protection, must carainal principle of protection, must not be disturbed by vicious tariff tin-kering, which is threatened by the Democratic party in its usual disposi-tion to lead the country into the chan-nels of free trade and commercial de-

"That the administration of President Roosevelt, in its true American ism, its great achievements, its advanced patriotism, is worthy of our highest commendation, and we proudly recognize the wisdom of placing in his hands the standard of the Republican party as its leader in the presidential contest of 1904. "The administration of Governor Pennypacker deserves the unqualified commendation of the people of the commonwealth, and we especially concommonwealth, and we especially con-gratulate the people of the common-wealth upon the passage of the "good roads law," whereby a considerable portion of the revenues of the state are devoted to the construction of im-proved state highways."

DEPRESSION IN THE SHOE MANUFACTURE.

The depression, it is stated in the Newburyport (Mass.) Herald, which has weighed heavily upon all our other manufactures for two or three years past had at last reached the shoe business, and among the departures for California were many who had been thrown out of business in this department of industry.
We find, so far as our inquiries extend,
that the reduction of wages in the shoe manufacture, in all branches except the first class of work, is 30 per cent. We find that shoes which last year workmen obtained 10 or 12 cents a pair for making are now made at 6 to 8 cents, those for which employers formerly paid 15 and 17 cents they now pay 10 or 12 cents, and those for which 30 cents was formerly paid are now made for 20 to 28 cents.
There are a great many journeymen shoemakers now employed on ordinary work, twelve to fifteen hours a day, who earn less than 50 cents a day.

Bryan and the Bunkoers. Mr. Bryan recently declared that the Democratic party "bunkoed" the country when it elected Mr. Cleveland in 1892. This is probably true, but what-1892. This is probably true, but what-ever doubts there may be on that subject there is no question that Mr. Bryan himself is innocent of the bunko act. When he was inclined to assume the role of "Hungry Joe" in 1896 and again in 1900 the people generously assisted him in resisting the temptation.

Thus far Mr. Bryan has not suggested a presidential candidate whom his party has received with favor. - Albany Evening Journal.

Bryan has met two political Water-loos in the past seven years, yet he is the liveliest Democrat in the mess.— Kingwood (W. Va.) Journal.

The western papers controvert the eastern notion that because Bryan is losing followers they are shifting toward Cleveland. Rather, it is stated they are going into the Republican party.-Lakota (N. D.) Observer.

Mr. Bryan's personal prosperity being so much commented on that there is danger of his party's esteeming him rather as a possible contributor to campaign funds than as a sug gester of ideas.—Washington Star.

Colonel "Bull-in-a-china-shop" Bryan is engaged in a diligent effort to prove the unfitness of all the prominent as-pirants for the Democratic nomination to the presidency—and he's succeeding pretty well too.—Donaldsonville (La.)

William Jennings Bryan still continwilliam Jennings Bryan still continues to hurl his Jovian thunderbolts at Democratic bolters. Yet, strange to say, in every speech he makes he holds out the inference that he and all his followers will bolt the Democratic ticket if the reorganizers frame the platform and nominate the ticket—Terre and nominate the ticket.-Terre Haute (Ind.)
