THE GRANGE

Conducted by J. W. DARROW,
Press Correspondent New York State Grange

W. N. GILES.
Secretary of New York State Grange.

The accomplished secretary of the New York state grange, W. N. Giles, is a resident of Skaneateles, N. Y. He has been connected with the order since 1877. When he joined Onwasego grange, No. 271. He served as secretary of that grange for four years and master two years. In 1892 he transferred his membership to Skaneateles grange, and was its master for two years. He was a regular attendant upon the state grange meetings even before his election as secretary of that body in 1900. The duties of that office he has ever since filled in a most conscientious, painstaking and acceptable manner. As a public speaker he is in great demand at grange picnics and field meetings.

QUESTIONS ON RITUAL.

Certain Requirements For Properly Confering the Degrees.

We have submitted the following questions to Hon. George B. Horton, master of the Michigan state grange, who is an authority on the subjects, and the answers will doubtless be of general interest to members of the Order:

Q.—Is there any explanatory work or lectures in connection with the conferring of the unwritten work of the Order, and do you use and advise the same if there be any? A.—I know of no unauthorized lectures outside the ritual, which is very complete in itself. Extras are very liable to take from than to add to the impressiveness and strength of the work.

Q.—Can the fifth degree be conferred by obligation simply, and if so do you advise it? A.—The fifth degree cannot legally be conferred other than in full form. Grange law is plainly in opposition to any abridgment of degree forms.

Q.—Do you advise and do you use in your work in Michigan the field work in the first degree? A.—The single degree forms in the ritual are essential when a gentleman or lady is initiated singly. The field work is instructive and is essential to the completeness of the "Laborer's" degree. Every grange should be equipped with well designed field work. From an object lesson point of view it is quite essential.

Young People and the Grange.

The grange recognizes the value of social life to the farmer's family, and we ought to make our sessions so attractive that the children of our rural homes will want to be with us. Many a boy and girl have left the farm and gone down to disgrace and ruin on account of the lack of elevating amusements. We look to the boys and girls of our rural districts to carry on the grand and glorious work of our Order when we are gone, and it behooves us as true Patrons to use every legitimate means within our power to interest the young in our work. Are we doing it? In many places juvenile granges are organized for the children. This may not be practicable in every county, but each subordinate grange might have at least one day in the year on which the children should be welcomed and entertained. This would create in them an interest in grange work which would bear fruit in future years. Only get the children interested with us and there would be a different view taken of farm life. Sons and daughters would be inspired with more love for the farm, the careworn wife would enter upon her domestic duties with a lighter heart and the home ties would become stronger. To accomplish this would truly be an incentive to the grange for further achievements.—C. C. Wells.

Co-operation Among Patrons.

It seems strange, says the Watertown Times, that more Patrons do not take advantage of their organization to purchase feed and other supplies on a cash basis and thus save a large margin from prices paid to retailers under the credit system. Reputable dealers are glad to make large discounts where car load lots are taken and cash paid. To illustrate, some farmers not far from Watertown formed an association to buy together feed in car load lots. Two of the enterprising milling concerns in the city sent agents to the first meeting these farmers held and offered to furnish them with the best grades of feeding stuff at wholesale prices for cash, which in some cases amounted to $3, $4 and even $5 a ton saving from the retail price. Every grange can do the same thing if it will.

Winners In a Desk Contest.

Worthy Master Horton of Michigan announced that the state grange would give to every subordinate grange in the state which received twenty or more new members during the quarter ending June 30, 1903, a well finished business desk for the use of grange officers. Seventy granges are reported by State Secretary Jennie Buell as successful in this contest. The total addition to membership in these granges is 1,691, an average of twenty-four.

Never let your zeal for membership overshadow the pride you have in the worth of the grange. The grange is destined to play a greater part in the drama of internal affairs in the next ten years than ever before in its history.

Short Talks On Advertising

By Charles Austin Bates.

No. 35. There is no business or profession which advertising will not help. Some of the professions have been very slow to recognize this, but gradually they are coming to a realizing sense of the importance of publicity.

An eminent musical artist in Chicago recently published a pamphlet advertising himself. The opening paragraph states the advertising case as he sees it:

"This is a quickly moving age; the sensation of to-day is forgotten to-morrow; competition is keen and everyone is anxious to keep before the public by some means or other; the appetite of the reader has been dulled, and to attract him again either new facts have to be abridged or the old presented in different form. What is the artist to do to keep pace with the hurried throng who are too busy to listen to his little song? He must either be content with the appreciation of the few, or to a degree unite some commercial element with the exercise of his art. It does not suffice that he considers himself great; he must succeed in impressing others with that fact."

"This is a quickly moving age." The last sentence tells the whole advertising story. A man may have the very best store and the best stock in the world. His prices may be among the lowest, but he will not sell a dollar's worth unless he succeeds in making people believe that he has and does these things. The greater number of people who know that a man is in business and what he sells, the better his business will be. Advertising is the quickest and best way to impart this information; newspaper advertising is the best kind of advertising, because it will carry the information to more people for less cost than any other kind. This is a fact which a lead pencil and a little figuring will demonstrate beyond argument.

"It does not suffice that he considers himself great. He must succeed in impressing others with that fact."
