Neuralgia of the Heart For Years.

Pain Went From Heart to Head.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured.

"About three years ago my sister was so badly affected with heart trouble and neuralgia of the heart that we did not expect her to live. Although we had a first-class physician she grew worse under the treatment. She had a swollen dropsical look and had frequent spells of neuralgia pain at her heart when she would render the most heart-rending moans and shrieks. At times the pain would go from her heart to her head where a lump would appear on her temple half as large as an egg. One night she got up in bed and ran into the back yard crying with pain; she was not conscious of it, however, and was brought back to the house by neighbors. I bought for her a bottle each of Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure which helped her greatly. She afterward used some five or six bottles and has never had a spell since. I had used your medicine with great benefit myself. I know that Nervine and Heart Cure not only saved my sister's life but also saved me from insanity and death. I was so nervous I could not bear the slightest noise or movement around me and I suffered from palpitation and pain in the heart. I had choking sensations, dizzy and faint spells, smothering spells when I could scarcely get my breath; I was so nervous I was treated like a child and at one time it was thought I was losing my mind. Nervine saved me from insanity."—KATIE ACKES, Clover Creek, Pa.

Mrs. Mattie Wilson, worthy Ceres of the national grange, has the honor of organizing the first Illinois juvenile grange and has named it Edgewood grange. It is in the bounds of Magnolia grange, Putnam county, and had nineteen charter members.

Through Cleveland's Eyes. Mr. Cleveland sees hope for his party in the recent elections because "the outcome seems to indicate a long step taken in the direction of sane Democracy and party unity." Doubtless he was thinking of the results in Ohio and Nebraska, which knocked Bryanism and Tom Johnsonism out of the running.—Pittsburg Times.

A Maine Method. Sabbath Day Lake grange at New Gloucester, Me., was dedicated recently by State Master Gardner. To accomplish the ownership of a new hall a company was incorporated and stock sold at $10 per share to defray the expense. This was disposed of mostly among the members of the grange. In this there is a suggestion to other granges having a new building in contemplation. The hall is 33 by 60 feet on the outside and cost $2,000. It is a neat and well arranged structure, with dining hall and kitchen below, while the upper story contains the main hall and ante-rooms. There is a fourteen foot stage, with all the conveniences necessary for theatrical and other performances.

A Good Record. There are these four stars in the grange diadem, the correction of railway traffic abuses, the secretary of agriculture as a member of the president's cabinet, the pure food laws and the delivery of rural mail, a quartet of achievements that are the result of years of hard, earnest, persistent work, years in which self was not considered, ease was not consulted and failure was not thought of by the men in whom the grange reposed a trust that was never betrayed. It is an honor to know these men. It is a pleasure to enjoy the results of their labor.—T. D. Akins.

NATIONAL GRANGE.

THIRTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION AT ROCHESTER, N. Y.

In a Strong Address National Master Aaron Jones Urges the Extension of Agricultural Education - Remarks on Farming in General and Its Decline.

The national grange, Patrons of Husbandry, opened its thirty-seventh annual session at Rochester on Nov. 11. The local committee, aided by the chamber of commerce, had prepared an excellent programme for the public meeting. Mayor Rodenbeck gave an address of welcome, which was responded to by National Master Hon. Aaron Jones of Indiana. Governor N. J. Bacheider of Concord, N. H., lecturer of the national grange, spoke most entertainingly on "The Nation." Hon. George A. Benton discussed "Fraternal Societies," and Hon. E. B. Norris, master of the New York state grange, discussed various features of grange work. Music and recitations added much to the pleasure of the meeting.

The executive sessions began on Wednesday morning, Nov. 11, to continue ten days. The national master gave his annual address, a synopsis of which follows.

On education the national master said: "Public opinion is becoming more and more pronounced each year in favor of nature studies and elementary principles of agriculture being taught in our public schools. I believe that in the near future this feature will become a part of our public school system. Every grange in the United States should, in fact and in practice, be a school for the practical demonstration of the possibilities of the farm; it should be a farmers' institute, a literary society teaching practical agriculture and developing trained minds."

On the subject of co-operation among farmers he stated: "I am more and more convinced that the time has come when the farmer must provide for the distribution and sale of the products of the farm. Shall farmers longer depend upon others, petitioning legislatures and congress to enact laws and await the delays and uncertainty of the courts enforcing them to protect their rights, or shall farmers get together in a lawful, orderly, business way to guard their rights, as other great interests are guarded and protected? Farmers should provide granaries and storage on their farms and not be compelled to rush their products into public elevators and into the hands of speculators."

On agriculture in general Mr. Jones said that "notwithstanding the industry, frugality and energy of the 5,800,000 sturdy farmers and the aid rendered by the department of agriculture, agriculture has not expanded and prospered as other great lines of industries have done. The treasury bureau says that the increase of agricultural production in thirty years was 92.1 per cent, while the export during the same time increased 181.8 per cent. The production of manufactured articles was enlarged 209.1 per cent, while exports of manufactures increased 537.7 per cent during the same thirty years. "In 1856 farmers owned 55.50 per cent of the entire wealth of the nation. In 1900 they owned only 21.27 per cent of the wealth of the nation; thus farmers are losing their relative position in the wealth and production of the nation. If this be true, it is our duty to investigate and discover the causes that have contributed to this condition and aid in their remedy or removal. If found that the laws have discriminated and contributed to this condition, amend or repeal them; if it be found that combinations of capital or labor unions, excessive and discriminating transportation charges are some of the causes, correct these abuses."

An Excellent Programme. We give the following outline programme of the Middlesex-Worcester-Pomona, held Oct. 7, as one almost ideal in its makeup of topics: Papers were prepared on "Lily Culture," by Mrs. J. K. Shattuck; "How to Bud Trees," by F. G. Pratt; "Butter Making," by C. N. Scales; "Adulterations in Food," by Mrs. Clara Barry; "Butter of Different Nations," by Mrs. C. F. Watts; "Ice as a Necessity," by W. S. Parker; "Angora Goats," by John Woodredge, and "Good Things Made From Corn," by Miss Jennie Howard. A discussion was also held on "Should the salaries of government officials be placed on a basis of similar service in private business?" Two outside speakers were secured—Mr. G. H. Frost of Newton, who spoke on "Ornamental Planting For Country Homes," and Mrs. E. F. Boland of Boston, who gave a pleasing address on "Woman's Responsibility to the State."

Successful Patrons' Insurance Company.

One of the successful mutual fire insurance companies of the state is the Patrons' Mutual Fire Insurance company (limited) of Lenawee county, Mich. They have now at risk $1,735,000, a gain of $100,000 since last annual meeting, Jan. 12, 1903. The last assessment was made Sept. 19, 1902, of 75 cents per $1,000. Since that date the total losses have been but 69 cents per $1,000. The first policy issued is dated Aug. 30, 1807. Since that date the total assessments have been $0.05, or an average of about $1 per $1,000 each year.

Short Talks on Advertising By Charles Austin Bates.

No. 19.

People generally read advertisements more than they did a few years ago. The reason is to be found in the advertisements themselves.

Advertisers are more careful than they used to be. They make the advertisements more readable. Some of them even become, in a way, a department of the paper, and people look for them every day with as much zest and pleasure as they turn to any other feature.

This is true of many department stores all over the country. In many cities there is just one man who appreciates the value of such interest.

He breaks away from the old set style. He tells something interesting in his space every day.

There are lots of interesting things in business. Look over the miscellany page of any paper—look at its local news columns, and its telegraph news, for that matter, and you'll see that the majority of the items are more or less closely related to some business fact.

Dress these facts up in a becoming garb of words, and they will find readers, even though they be in a "mere advertisement."

Let the merchant come down off his pedestal. Let the merchant come down off his pedestal and talk in his ads. He needn't be flippant—far from it, but let him not write as if he were addressing somebody afar off, and telling him about something at even a greater distance.

The newspaper goes right into its reader's house—goes in and sits down with him.

It is on the table when he eats, and in his hands while he is smoking after the meal. It reaches him when he is in an approachable condition.

That's the time to tell him about your business—clearly, plainly, convincingly—as one man talks to another.

"The newspaper goes right into its reader's house and sits down with him." Copyright, Charles Austin Bates, New York.
