A WORD TO LECTURERS.

They Should Make Careful Prepara tion of Their Topics.

tion of Their Topics. That so many grange meetings are dull and featureless is due in too many cases to the fact that the lec-turer makes no future preparation for the meeting, says Overseer Fuller of New York. There is great need for special preparation on the part of the lecturer, that no time be wasted and every moment filled with something which will not only entertain, but set the members thinking. The lawyer who goes into court knows that in orwho goes into court knows that in or-der to win his case he must thorough-ly prepare himself beforehand, for he fully appreciates the fact that he has to deal with men whose brains are every whit as keen as his own. The teacher who goes into a class room of bright boys and girls knows if he would keep the interest and attention of those schools he must be thorough-ly prepared to present his subject at every point. The same is true of the lecturer who would keep up the inter-est in the grange meetings lecturer who would keep up the inter-est in the grange meetings. On the subject of the lecturer's work Mrs. T. D. Saunders, lecturer of the Michigan state grange, says: "The lec-ture work will be the index of progress. Select questions for discussion and pre-pare papers upon the most vital and practical questions of the day, giving special attention to those pertaining to the farm, home and school. In as-signing work to the members see to it signing work to the memory see to it that natural ability is encouraged and developed. If other work crowds upon your time, protest against it; insist upon having the lecture hour. All members rising to speak during the lecture hour shall first address the works. worthy master and be recognized by floor to speak. The time for the lec-ture hour enters into the grange order of business under the call of "sugges tions for the good of the Order."

National Grange Legislative Com-mittee. The legislative committee of the na tional grange is concentrating its work upon six matters now before con-gress—viz, national aid to road building, a pure food bill, additional power to the interstate commerce commission, establishment of the parcels pos and the consolidation of the bureau of forestry with the department of agriculture. The grange expects to win out in the efforts indicated above, says the National Stockman, by keeping everlasting, unswervingly, at it, just as it did in elevating the department of agriculture to a cabinet position, the establishment of a rural free mail de-livery, the eleomargarine law and the defeat of the ship subsidy scheme

The Farmers Did It.

Becretary of Agriculture Wilson in bis seventh annual report says: "In products other than agricultural dur-ing the past fourteen years the balance of trade was adverse to this country to the extent of $865,000,000. Our farmers not only canceled this immense ob-ligation, but placed $3,940,000,000 to the credit of the nation when the books of international exchange were balanced."

The new goods are just arriving and they are beauties, the styles are the very latest patterns, the very nicest workmanship the best and the price is the very lowest. We are able to sell our goods much lower than others, for this reason, my expense is very small and I buy my goods in large quantities for my store at Laporte, and buy for cash and sell for the same. This enables me to sell much lower than others. In fact, I believe in quick sales and small profits. This has been the success of my bus-iness. My stock for this season is much larger than before. Come and examine my goods; see the styles and get our prices, and you will be convinced as well as your neighbor that this is the place to buy your clothing. Ladies and
