My friend, if you are going to buy a suit of clothes, an overcoat or a pair of trousers, do not purchase until you see my Fall and Winter book of samples. The best line of samples that was ever placed before the public.

It costs no more to be fitted in every way than it does to be fitted now where. I fitted a man up with an all wool suit for $12.50 a short time ago and he and his wife said it was the best fitting he had ever had.

I want you to come in and look over these samples and I will wager a new hat that you will go no farther if you want a suit. It will cost nothing but your time for an examination and you are entitled to a guess where you may win $1000.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ritter were called to Lewisburg, last Sunday, to see the former's brother who is very low with consumption.

Miss Katie Donovan of Muncy Valley, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jacob Fries.

An excursion from Hughesville came to Laporte on Thursday bringing their crack ball team. They crossed bats with the Laporte team winning from them by a small margin. The score at the finish was 5 to 3 in favor of Hughesville. The features of the game, were the pitching of Flemings, a fast double play by Carpenter and Landon and a home run by Carpenter.

On Friday Picture Rocks crossed bats with the home team and met defeat by a score of 10 to 11. The features of the game were the fast fielding of Funston and base running of Marcus a large crowd witnessed the game and the boys were cheered on to victory by the charming belles of Laporte who always witness the game.

Elery Crossly met with a very painful accident during the progress of the ball game between the Laporte and Sonestown boys, at this place last Saturday. While standing near the third base he was accidentally thrown by one of the opposing team who was sliding into the base. At first it was thought that his leg had been broken, but upon an examination by Dr. Randall, it was found to be a very badly sprained ankle but no broken bones. The injury is such as will confine Master Elery to his bed for some time.

State fish commissioner Meehan little reckoned what the harvest would be when he gave notice some days ago that he was ready to furnish frogs for propagating purposes to owners of swampy grounds. He has already received a bushel of letters from all over the State, from farmers principally, all asking for blanks on which to make out applications for frogs. One man wanted to know if the frogs were green; another if they are the kind that can be eaten; another asked if there were any hop toads in the collection, and another wanted to know if they were given away without cost to the applicant.

It is now said that, while the Czar governs Russia; Von Plehve governed the Czar and a palace clique governed Von Plehve. In such a case, it is impossible to reach "the man higher up."

The campaign will not begin in earnest before the 1st of September, but in the meantime the Republican of this county should be preparing for earnest work. They should work to win.

Mr. Davis, the Democratic nominee for Vice President says: that he isn't as rich as represented, and that his being reported to be worth $4,000,000, must be a New Jersey estimate of his wealth. Still he is rich enough to make it interesting when he taps his barrel in a campaign. Roosevelt has chosen his campaign advisers with wisdom and sound judgement. He consults with men like Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, Ex Secretary Root, of New York; and Sec. John Hay. These may not be experts in practical machine politics, but they are men of sound judgement; good sense and absolute integrity. The election next Nov. will demonstrate that honest politics can win.

The teachers examinations for Sullivan county will be held as follows: For Laporte Borough, Laporte township, Eagles Mere, Shrewsbury and Davidson School Districts at Laporte, Monday, August 15.

Employment of Prisoners on a Texas County's Highways.

There seems to be no reason why states, counties or cities should support in idleness those who have broken the law, and especially those who are serving but a short term in some minor institution, says the Municipal Journal and Engineer. Organized labor has made strenuous efforts to prevent the employment of convicts in the manufacture of goods that will compete with free labor, but there is a way by which convicts may be employed to advantage and at the same time not compete with free laborers. The man who is serving a term of a month or a year is a different proposition from one who is sent to the state penitentiary for a long term.

Dallas county, Tex., has been using these short term men on its roads, and they are returning to the county more than it costs to support them. An act of the legislature in 1895 authorized the building of roads by the labor of county convicts. The county of Dallas is divided into four districts, each one in charge of a special road commissioner. The act provides that roads are to be constructed as nearly as possible east, west, north and south from the city. When these roads have been constructed, the act provides further that four other roads are to be built to the border of the county as nearly midway between the first ones as is practicable. Then there are to be others between the roads already built, and in the end Dallas is to have a series of roads that will converge toward the city.

All convicts who are physically able to perform labor must work on the county roads. The work is to be under the supervision of a competent superintendent, and the work done must be of the best quality. Each of the convict camps on the public roads is in charge of a superintendent and four guards, and the average number of men in each camp is fifteen. These men are supplied with clothing and food and are credited with 50 cents for each day they are held in imprisonment, this amount going toward the canceling of their fines and the costs of the case.

In addition they are allowed 10 per cent for good behavior while on the work. This work has done a great deal toward reducing the number of "hoboes" that heretofore were wont to frequent the district. "Hoboes" are not given to work and during the winter months are glad to be sent up for short terms in some jail, where they can receive shelter and, to them, a good living until summer comes again. Working on the roads is not to their liking, so they now give Dallas and its vicinity a wide berth.

Life Insurance

A FEW OF THE MANY REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD HAVE A POLICY

WITH THE NEW YORK LIFE

BECAUSE—Incontestable from the date of issue. Because—absolutely without restrictions. Because—non-forfeitable from date of issue. Because—cash loans are provided after second year, on demand at 5 per cent interest without fee or other charge. Because—if death does not occur an accumulative policy is a highly profitable investment for the policy-holder who lives.

Policies now maturing to living policy-holders prove this. In fact NEW YORK LIFE policies do not leak.

Health and Accident Insurance also written. A postal card will bring an agent to you, or a personal interview can be had at the office Saturdays, regular office day.
