Miss Mary Eddy of Bradford county, is visiting her parents at this place.

Miss Helen Culver of Leets Island, Conn., is visiting her brother, J. G.
Culver, at this place.

Charles Funston has been awarded the contract for painting the two dwelling houses on North Muncy street, owned by the Building Association.

Mrs. John Shaffer is quite sick with neuralgia of the stomach. Her mother, Mrs. E. P. Wilcox of New Albany, is taking care of her.

Mr. Daniel McGarty has moved his family to Walston, Jefferson county, where he has a good position.

William M. Cheney of New York City, was in town several days last week in the interest of the New York Press, being advertising solicitor for that paper.

Mrs. Edward Schrader and daughter Hattie spent Wednesday at Satterfield with Mrs. Leo Wrede.

The clothes-pin factory at Sonestown is being enlarged by the addition of another engine and boiler and two machines that will very materially increase the output of pins and wages to the workers.

Mrs. Norman Stackhouse, who has been visiting her brothers, William and Thomas Kennedy, for several weeks has gone to Jamison City to visit her sister, Mrs. John Gallagher.

The undeviating honesty with which President Roosevelt assails every evil, and the candor with which he points out to the public his aims and purposes is a constant source of amazement, and sometimes necessary to conceal his purposes and deceive the people with evasions and platitudes. And yet, the heartiness with which the American people stand ready to support the President in his every policy, the promptness with which they expose the reforms he proposes and the unanimity with which they voted for him last November is sufficient to demonstrate that the old methods are obsolete and the new are worthy of the emulation of every man in public life.

The bazaar held last Friday on the porch of the "Ingham Mansion" for the benefit of the Episcopal Sunday School was a success in every respect.
A committee of the Sunday School composed of Eunice Ingham, Helen Carpenter, Cornelia Eckerson and Donald Ingham not only planned the entire affair but made the articles.
Lemonade, cake, candy and fancy articles of every size, shape and color were for sale. The bazaar netted a neat little sum of money and was a social success.

The Bloomsburg Press is authority for the statement that the contemplated improvements in the American Car & Foundry Company's plant at Berwick will not be made.
The company wanted a forty acre plot of farm land adjoining the present site and the owners have plac'd the price at $1,200 per acre. The additions contemplated would have made the Berwick plant the most elaborate car shops in the world. It was intended to double the capacity of the wooden car part of the plant so as to turn out forty cars a day.
More than a thousand extra hands would have been needed. It would pay Berwick to buy a site and donate it to the company.

Mrs. Lula Clay Brock, of Cynthi-anna, Kentucky, has been in Wilkesbarre for the purpose of raising money to defend Caleb Powers, who next month is to be tried for the fourth time for conspiracy in the murder of Governor Gochel, who was in his youth a carbondale boy.
Mrs. Brock is a member of a Democratic family and a daughter of a prominent Confederate officer, but feels that injustice has been dealt Powers by prejudiced courts and perjured witnesses.

Ezra Noll, a farmer of Berks county, through a small experiment, has found out what has puzzled agriculturists for years. Mr. Noll believes that he has a sure and profitable method of killing Canada thistles. One of his fields has been filled with the undesirable plant and he was about letting it go to ruin last year when, knowing that artichokes grow almost anywhere, he planted four rows of them in the field. Un-on removing the artichokes he was surprised not only to find his crop amounted to eight bushels, but that all of the thistle roots in those four rows had decayed. Mr. Noll will now plant more than an acre of the field in artichokes. He is choosing the part most densely covered with the thistles. Noll says that while artichokes are also a pest if they once get a start, he will run the risk, as he will sell the product in the Reading market at 60 cents a bushel.

That the State of Pennsylvania cannot collect a tax upon Pennsylvania coal after it is shipped was decided on Monday by the supreme court of the United States. The decision was rendered in the case of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company vs. the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which grew out of an attempt on the part of the state authorities to levy a tax of five mills on the value of coal mined by the company in the state and held in Buffalo, Chicago and other cities outside of Pennsylvania. The supreme court of the state upheld the tax, but that decision was reversed by this action. The opinion was handed down by Justice Peckham.

Some heartless man has sued Russel Sage for $800. As this is more than Uncle Russel has spent on his wardrobe in the past forty years, it looks like persecution of the rich.

A forceful reminder of approaching Memorial Day appears in the statistics of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Pennsylvania, which show that 1,000 veterans of the Civil War die in this State during the year between each Memorial day. There is a slight but steady increase in the number of these deaths annually. It is estimated that one hundred veterans die daily in the United States.

A call was recently issued from the quartermaster's department, United States Army, for proposals for furnishing the government with 10,000 white headstones. Since 1885 when 7,500 stones were bought, the number has steadily grown larger.
Last year 11,000 were ordered.

The headstones are sent free to all the Grand Army posts, camps of Spanish War veterans and national cemeteries in the country to mark graves of men who served the nation in war. The cost of the stones to the government at wholesale is $3 each.

The following programme will be rendered by the Vested Choir at the Memorial service next Sunday afternoon:

Processional, 'We March to Victory'.
Anthem, 'Holy War'.
Hymn, 'Soldiers of Christ arise'.
Anthem, 'Soldiers of the Cross'.
Hymn, 'Stand up for Jesus'.
Anthem, 'Crusaders, War Hymn'.
Recessional, 'Onward Christian Soldiers'.

The survivors of the Civil War and vicinity will meet for Memorial services at the Court House at the hour of 2 o'clock P. M., May 30th., 1905. The public in general are cordially invited to participate.

Sunday Schools will meet in front of Court House to receive their badges, then march to Court Room.

MOTT &
HOLLISTER,

Land Title Bld'g.
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

In answer to the item in the Sullivan Star of May 11th, about the truant husband and searching wife, the writer thinks that it deserves the applause of the public as it certainly was a fine piece of fiction and the composers are quite capable of competing with A. Conan Doyle, or Hall Standish.

The writer wishes to thank them for giving him credit for ever being human, for if he had starved her, or sent her to an insane asylum he might have been called inhuman instead. We also think that the word vulture wrongly applied, as they feed on the dead only.

Now as to his delicate wife, in less than six months after their marriage she left the place provided forher, unknown to her husband while he was visiting a sick sister, and when he returned found her gone.
She gave no reasons for going away but soon afterward applied for a divorce but having no sufficient reasons, her attorneys wrote to him asking him for evidence. Before they received an answer they came to see him and asked him to support her. He made two conditional offers which were refused. She told that she expected to get money, having heard he had a business at that place and thought he could pay well to have her go away and keep still.
