SOME PLAIN FACTS.

What Reciprocity With Cuba Has Cost Uncle Sam.

The plain facts are that when we were selling Cuba twenty-five millions a year (in 1902) and buying from her thirty-four millions a year we passed the reciprocity treaty on the promise that it would give us a more favorable exchange of trade with that island. But last year we sold to Cuba thirty-eight millions, of which two millions were foreign products, and we bought from Cuba eighty-six millions. To sell elev-en millions more of our domestic prod-ucts we bought fitty-two millions more of hers. In 1992 the trade balance against us was nine millions. In 1995, counting in even the foreign products we sold her, the trade balance against us was forty-eight millions.

Again, the plain facts are that before the Cuban treaty went into operation the beef sugar industry of this country was in competition with the Havemey-er sugar trust, and thus kept the price to consumers down, as competition always does. But the sugar trust's cam ways does. But the sugar trust's campaign for the removal of Cuban duties threatened the very existence of the beet sugar industry of the United States. The domestic producers were induced, therefore, to make a combination, called an agreement, with the Havemeyer trust for the control of the market, the restraint of trade and the agrulation of prices m. As soon as the regulation of prices up. As soon as the Cuban treaty went into effect prices began to rise by the workings of that trust agreement.—New York Press,

LIKES PROTECTION.

Canada Now Enjoying a Taste and

The cotton mills of Canada have the enefit now of a protective tariff highe. than for the greater part of the time since there was a Canada, and the mills have been prospering beyond all prec clent since that protection was thrown around them. They are calling for more of it, and as a benefit to the coun-try they point to the fact that they have provided employment for the people and will do more if they all are given more protection.

It is conceded in Canada that these cotton mills will get what they want. The whole councry is in favor of a more positive protective tariff, and that is what disturbs Boston. Another probability in the tariff revision for Canada is that the British preferential may be confined to the imports which come to Canada direct from England. That might make considerable difference with the shipping that comes to Boston and Portland, Me., and from which places the goods are cent north and west over American and Canadian railroads, all of which cannot be changed by any talk about reciprocity with Canada. NOT TO BE CHANGED.

Tariff Is a Safeguard of the American Standard of Living.

When American production is so coormous that after supplying domestic needs there still remain manufactures to the value of half a billion dollars for export to the markets of the rest of the world, it must be conceded that even out and out free trade would not gain for the consumer any material reduction in the cost of the products reduction in the cost of the products he purchases. All that a general tariff reduction could accomplish would be the replacing of American labor with cheap foreign labor.

No longer can the idea of a sweeping horizontal reduction of the tariff be seriously entertained. In a broad sense the tariff is simply an equalizer of labor costs and the safeguard of the American standard of living. As such it has been taken entirely out of the realm of discussion by the ever increasing volume of our exports of surmanufactured products.-Provi-

For Importers Only.

the change in the tariff law, whenever it shall begin, must not be on the lines of keeping the American wage earner in his job, but must be on the lines of getting articles offered in our market at the lowest possible prices, whether they come from American mills and factories or from those of Germany, England or anywhere else—these re- A. H. Br visers, we submit, must waive all other considerations than the business of the importer, who would like to go into the American field with a foreign article and outsell the domestic article, thus closing the mill and factory of our own country and putting out of work the American wage earner, di placed by the foreigner. If this is not so, why should there be such a cry that a revision on Dingley lines

Comforting Assurance.

The Richmond Leader is convinced that "the only chance of tariff revision lies in the Democrats getting posses alon of all branches of the convince of lies in the Democrats getting possession of all benaches of the government, and the friends of revision would as well make up their minds to that fact."

It is a comforting assurance. The country can now go right along making money and growing richer, scenre in the stability of the tariff for some years to come. Then, three years hence, when the question of revision comes up again, the country will know exactly what to do with the Democratic ambi-tion to get possession of all branches of the government.
