MEDICAL JOURNALS SUPPORT OPPENHEIMER TREATMENT

The following endorsements from leading medical journals relative to the curative properties of the Oppenheimer Treatment for alcoholism and drug addiction are worthy of close attention:

The Railway Surgeon: "Remarkable progress has been made in the development of the business of the Oppenheimer Institute. It is conducted in full accord with the principles of medical ethics."

American Physician: "Physicians who refer their patients to the Oppenheimer Institute for treatment may be sure that they will be returned to them relieved of their unfortunate addiction and prepared to resume their life's work in a proper manner. The Institute is conducted in such a manner as to retain the confidence and support of the medical profession."

Milwaukee Medical Journal: "The Oppenheimer Institute of New York makes several very important claims for its treatment of alcoholism and drug addiction. Its continued management along the lines laid down must necessarily win the confidence and support of the medical profession."

International Medical Magazine: "The case of A. R. G. shows what has been done in the cure of the cocaine habit by the Oppenheimer Institute at one of their branches. He began the use of cocaine in 1893 to relieve rhinitis and continued the use of 1 per cent solution under the advice of his physician to relieve a tickling sensation. When he came to the Institute he was using one ounce of cocaine in ten or twelve days. Two weeks after the treatment was started he went home, but continued to come to the Institute once a day for two weeks longer. One month after treatment was completed he had gained twenty pounds and was preparing for an extended outing."

Yale Medical Journal: "Patients in the Oppenheimer Institute are under the care of trained experts and specialists in alcoholism and drug addiction. People who inadvertently become slaves to drugs or liquor should apply for treatment for their diseased condition, just as they would for any other condition needing expert medical care."

Chicago Medical Journal: "The business of the Oppenheimer Institute is conducted in full accord with the principles of medical ethics which, together with a splendid record in relieving cases of alcoholic and drug addiction, has put it on a firm footing."

Vermont Medical Monthly: "The Oppenheimer Institute of New York is one of the best institutions of its class and appeals particularly to the medical profession because of the excellent work being done and the success obtained in the most untractable cases of alcoholism and drug addiction."

Maryland Medical Journal: "The Oppenheimer Institute of New York has a method of treatment for alcoholism which is accomplishing the best results."

The Journal of Nervous Disease: "The Oppenheimer Institute has demonstrated that inebriety is a disease and as amenable to treatment as any disorder of the mind or body."

Medical Examiner and Practitioner: "There is certainly a great incentive for medical men to take hold of inebriates and send them to the Oppenheimer Institute, which is directed by leading theologians, legislators and men of letters and affairs, and operated by those who have made a life study of this subject, where they may receive the benefits of systematic treatment."

The Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette: "It is great satisfaction to note the organization of the Oppenheimer Institute for the scientific treatment of alcoholism on a basis that will command professional countenance and the respect of the community."

Medical Mirror: "It is the intention of the management of the Oppenheimer Institute to conduct its affairs in such a manner as to retain the confidence and support of the medical profession."

Alkaloidal Clinic: "One of the special branches of medicine that is today receiving wide recognition is the treatment of alcohol and drug addiction, and we know of no place where they can receive such careful and thorough attention as at one of the Oppenheimer Institutes. In New York city, where one of these Institutes has been established, the leading men in the medical profession do not hesitate to send such cases there for treatment, instead of declining to treat them themselves or turning them adrift to fall into the hands of charlatans improperly equipped to give them the needed consideration and care."

Lady Henry Somerset. Distinguished Englishwoman and Philanthropist Strongly Endorses the Oppenheimer Treatment For the Cure of Alcoholism.

Lady Henry Somerset of England, who has expended the best energies of her life in trying to reclaim the drunkard, declares she has found in the Oppenheimer Treatment for alcoholism a most powerful ally in her work for temperance in the United States.

For many years Lady Somerset has been foremost with voice and pen in every movement that promised to be of benefit to the slave to alcohol. Most of her work has been done among the people of the east end of London, where drunkenness, poverty and destitution are rife. Inebriety among women in that quarter is prevalent, and their reclamation has been her chief solicitude.

After careful study she became convinced that habitual drunkenness is a disease and should be treated as such. She saw that not only was the moral nature of the individual impaired, but the intellect was weakened. Notwithstanding all this, Lady Somerset discovered many who sincerely endeavored to break the habit of drinking, but lacked the will power. She tells of meeting a man who once had been a prosperous tradesman, but whose love for liquor had brought him to the gutter. She had induced him previously to sign a pledge to abstain from strong drink for a certain period, but the poor fellow had kept it but a short time.

"Why did you break your promise?" she gently asked. "I did not want to break it," he replied. "I tried hard to live up to it, but the terrible craving for liquor came upon me and I could not resist it." And this terrible craving she found was the first obstacle to be overcome before good results could be hoped for in the condition of the inebriate.

While on her last visit to this country her attention was called to the unquestioned results in the cure of alcoholism that were being obtained by Dr. Isaac Oppenheimer of New York city, and on her return to England a small house was opened in the east end of London and Dr. Oppenheimer went over to administer his treatment. How well he succeeded is told in the following description by Lady Somerset:

"I carefully watched the cases which passed under his care, and I am quite prepared to state that Dr. Oppenheimer has accomplished what he undertook to carry out. I frankly own that at first I was skeptical as to what the result would be. I had seen so many failures and had hitherto little faith in such remedies. From the first Dr. Oppenheimer maintained that he would destroy the craving which patients might have for stimulants, that he would restore them to health and that they would remain cured."

"It would have been difficult to find more disheartening cases than those first submitted to the doctor. I had gathered them myself and knew their histories, and I think that when I entered the patients' waiting room I never saw a group of people who apparently were more absolutely undermined physically and mentally or a more typical set of habitual drunkards."

The Oppenheimer Treatment is now firmly established in England and is accomplishing great good, Lady Henry Somerset having become director of charities for the kingdom of Great Britain. To any one interested in the subject full information concerning the Oppenheimer Treatment will be sent upon request to the Oppenheimer Institute, New York.

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Send Colorado California booklet and rates.
