Among the more important resolutions adopted by the grange those covering the following named topics may be mentioned: Favoring the removal of the internal revenue tax from denatured alcohol for commercial purposes; favoring the discontinuance of the custom of free seed distribution by members of congress, on the ground that it is an expensive burden to the mails and a petty kind of graft that is demoralizing both to our representatives and to those who accept the seeds; requesting the United States department of agriculture to take such steps as seem wise to prevent the spread of the gypsy moth and brown tailed moth and asking the state legislature to also take measures to prevent the threatened invasion of these insects into New York state from the east; urging the passage of the so called Brownlow bill providing national aid for highways; opposing the enactment of house bills No. 7 and No. 145, which propose to extend the time limit from twenty-eight hours to thirty-three and thirty-six hours, beyond which time stock may not be carried on cars, boats or vessels without food, water or rest; favoring nature study in rural schools; asking for a law to prevent newspaper publishers from sending their papers beyond the time ordered; advising the organization of juvenile granges where practicable; opposing the indorsement by the grange of candidates seeking appointment to governmental offices of a political nature. Many more resolutions were adopted, but the above will serve to show the policy of the grange along various lines.

As most farmers in New York state know, the grange was the most ardent opponent of the barge canal appropriation. It appears from the supplementary report of the executive committee and from an address made before the state grange meeting by the Hon. John I. Platt of Poughkeepsie that steps are about to be taken to test the constitutionality of the canal act which was approved by a majority of the popular vote at the last election. Mr. Platt said he believed the people of the state of New York never gave a majority in favor of the barge canal proposition, a fact which he had never before publicly stated. He made the assertion and the accusation that the great majority for the measure in New York city was the grossest fraud ever perpetrated in any election in any northern state. "They would have us believe," he said, "that there were more votes cast on the barge canal proposition than for the office of mayor. In a single district in New York city there were more votes cast on the barge canal measure than for all the candidates for mayor on the city ticket combined. But even if the question was carried by the large majority accorded it, the question still arises, is the act constitutional? The best legal talent in the state says it is unconstitutional, and I refer to E. H. Root, Joseph Choate, Judge Andrews and Judge Cady. Now, we do not expect the state grange to contribute a large amount toward the expenses of the appeal, but we do want its backing." The grange voted to appropriate not more than $500 toward the expenses of the appeal.

The new system of electing officers was tried for the first time this year. This consists of a blanket ballot on which were printed titles of the offices to be filled. Delegates filled in the blank spaces beneath each title with the name of the person for whom they desired to vote, and the ballots were then canvassed by eight tellers. It required but ten minutes to take up the ballot, and within about two hours' time the result was reported by the tellers, and it was found that every office had been filled on the first ballot. In view of the fact that in previous years it has required the larger part of the business session of from one to two days to complete the election of officers, and when the further fact is considered that it has been reckoned that the cost of each day's session of the state grange, all expenses included, is not far from $1,000, the new ballot as a time saver is a marked success.

The following officers were elected:

Master, George A. Fuller, Jefferson county; overseer, F. N. Godfrey, Cattaraugus county; secretary, Fred Shepard, St. Lawrence county; steward, W. L. Bean, Cortland county; assistant steward, S. J. Lowell, Chautauque county; chaplain, S. J. Robbins, Monroe county; treasurer, P. A. Welling, Oswego county; gatekeeper, W. R. Eggleston, Essex county; Flora, Mrs. P. S. Aldrich, Wayne county; Ceres, Mrs. W. G. Mooney, Clinton county; Pomona, Mrs. Hyatt, Orange county; lady assistant steward, Mrs. J. W. Jones, Livingston county; member of executive committee for three years, R. H. Smith, Herkimer county.

FRED SHEPARD.

HYMENEAL.

HEIM-LAUER.

The marriage of Rev. Eugene A. Heim, of LaPorte, was solemnized at St. John's Episcopal church, last Thursday, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the parties. The ceremony was most impressively performed by the Rev. F. Ward Denys, rector of St. Mary's church, Baltimore. Rev. H. G. Hartman, of Christ's church, Williamsport, acted as best man and Miss Olive Barrows, of LaPorte, as maid of honor. The wedding march was rendered by Mrs. Edwin M. Dunham.

Promptly at two o'clock, the groom, accompanied by the best man, took his place at the chancel, while the bride, accompanied by her brother, Fred G. Lauer, of Muncy, and the maid of honor, entered the vestibule and passed slowly to the altar. The customary ring service was used and the ceremony was both beautiful and impressive.

The bride was most becomingly attired in an embroidered net robe over cream silk and carried a white prayer book and a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor was prettily gowned in point Desprit, with pale pink trimmings and carried pink roses.

At the conclusion of the service, a reception was held and refreshments served at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ingham, where the bride and groom received the congratulations of the host of friends in attendance.

The groom is well known and highly esteemed throughout this county, having been rector of St. John's church at this place for nearly three years. Last fall he was appointed assistant rector at St. Mary's church, Baltimore. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Marie C. Lauer, and is one of LaPorte's most talented and popular young ladies and her friends are legion.

The church was elaborately decorated with spruce, orange blossoms and laurel and presented a most attractive appearance. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Smyth at four o'clock P. M., to the immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts, in silver, cut glass, china and bric-a-brac. There were also many other gifts of a useful character.

After a sojourn of a few weeks at the seashore, the newly wedded couple will take up their residence in Baltimore. The best wishes of a very large circle of friends attend them.

Among the out of town guests who attended the wedding were Mrs. M. Heim, Miss Margaret Heim and Mr. Fred Heim, of Lancaster; Miss Hallie LaPierre, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Rappleye, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lauer, of Muncy; Mrs. M. Kellar, of Williamsport; Dr. and Mrs. Murrelle, of Athens; Mrs. E. V. Ingham, Miss Josephine Colt, Mrs. E. S. Chase, Miss Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, Miss Denys, Miss Maud Clay, Mr. and Mrs. George Smitn, Mrs. Houseknecht of Eagles Mere; Mrs. Joseph Robbins and Mrs. George Gorman of Nordmont; Mrs. W. W. Jackson, Mr. Charles R. Lauer, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Sylvara, of Dushore and E. M. Dunham of Sayre.

Incensed because the town council will not buy them better equipment, the Independence Fire Company, of Shamokin, appeared in the Memorial Day parade with a yoke of oxen drawing their dilapidated hose cart.

The Rev. Mr. Jones, Rector of Christ Church, the Rev. Mr. Gibson, Rector of Trinity Church and the Rev. Mr. Butts, Rector of All Saint's Church, of Williamsport, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Perry on Monday.

HEMLOCK GROVE ITEMS.

Quite a number of people from here attended the ball game at Muncy Valley, Saturday.

On Monday June 16, before the largest crowd of the season, Hillsgrove defeated an Eagles Mere nine composed of students of the University of Pennsylvania, by the score 13 to 4. The game was called at the beginning of the 8th inning on account of rain. Devan pitching for Eagles Mere was not in good training to pitch his usual steady game, being wild at times. Woodley as usual delivered the goods and pulled himself out of some bad holes. The fielding staff of the Hillsgrove team show marked ability and no doubt will develop into the real thing. M. Morris did fine work behind the bat, making two grand stand catches.

BERNICE ITEMS.

A serious mining accident occurred at the mines on Saturday by which Mr. Joel Saxon was so crushed by a fall of coal and rock that his recovery is doubtful. With arms and legs broken and hurt internally he is nothing but a mass of broken bones. His condition is so serious that the doctors would not have him taken to the hospital.

F. F. Schaad of Mildred caught thirty trout in the Loyal sock creek last week and one of them weighed 14 1/2 inches and weighed one and one-quarter pounds. This story is true as we saw the fish.

As Helen Deiffenbach the daughter of S. A. Dieffenbach was amusing herself on a swing she lost her balance and fell to the ground striking on a board in which there was a 20 penny nail that penetrated her hand. Dr. Brennan dressed the wound and there is no danger of anything serious resulting.

Miss Jessie Conners of Mildred is visiting friends at Scranton and Dunmore.

Robert Watson and Ford Ramsey were Wilkesbarre visitors last week.

James Bowles was an Allentown visitor last week.

A Republican caucus was held at hotel Schaad last Thursday night when the following were elected, Wm. Hay, H. W. Osler, James Ramsey, J. A. Helsman and J. H. Spence, to the county convention held at Laporte Tuesday. We hope that each one of the delegates will work and support the ticket they helped to nominate and not play the baby act again.

When Tom Schell was janitor of the school house and the building needed cleaning he had Mrs. Schell to assist him and before the school was opened in the fall, one of the directors inspected the building and said that the work had been thoroughly done. When Mr. Schell presented a bill in favor of Mrs. Schell, the school directors refused to pay it. Last year when the school closed the janitor hired the building cleaned, and when a bill of $12 was presented, it was paid by the directors. This is where the kick comes in with the auditors, if a bill of three dollars is refused why should one of twelve dollars for the same work be paid. One of the auditors refuse to sign the audit. How long the tax payers will stand this sort of thing we are not prepared to say.

There will not be a dull moment at the centennial celebration at Williamsport, July 3rd and 4th, and one of the spectacular features of the gorgeous carnival on the evening of July 3rd will be the carnival queens and their retinue of attendants and soldiers. Real queens, attired in the costumes of long ago, and just as pretty as any throne queens dared be. The queens will begin the carnival by calling on the mayor and surreptitiously acquiring custody of the key of the city—and then the fun'll begin. On the 4th a splendid program will be carried out, and the fireworks at night will be the finest ever shown. Special rates on all railroads.

Nearly 3000 men in full Indian costume composed the procession of the Red Men at Allentown, on Wednesday. The demonstration, the largest ever given by the order in this State, was witnessed by 50,000 people, who crowded every street along the route, which extended over three miles of thoroughfares. There were seventy-five tribes and thirty-five bands in line. In the election of State officers, J. S. Zimmerman, of Shamokin, was elected Great Senior Sagamore, the second highest office in the gift of the State organization. Last year he served as great chief of the wigwam.
